DEPRECIATION OF DOLLAR CAUSE OF HIGH PRICES

Yale Economist Declares "Money Is Real Culprit"—Remedy Is to Fix Purchasing Power.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale university, appearing today before the federal electric railway commission, which is considering recommendations for solving the electric railway problem, declared the real "culprit" in the situation is the dollar and the real remedy is to fix its purchasing power. "The gold dollar," said Prof. Fisher, "is now fixed in weight and, therefore, variable in purchasing power. What we need is a gold dollar fixed in purchasing power, and therefore variable in weight. If we add new grains of gold to the dollar just fast enough to compensate for the loss in the purchasing power of each grain, or take away gold to compensate for a gain, we shall have a fully 'compensated' dollar, a stationary instead of a fluctuating dollar, when judged by its purchasing power."

According to Prof. Fisher this plan has been approved by a large number of economists and business organizations, including President Hadley of Yale and a committee of economists of which Frank A. Vandenberg, George Foster Peabody, John Hays Hammond and Senator Owen of Oklahoma are members.

Regarding the financial situation of the street railway companies, Prof. Fisher told the commission the whole question is one of adjustment to the lowering purchasing power of the dollar.

"No adjustment should be represented," he said. "Adjustment of fares can and should compensate so far as compensation is necessary and just. The failure of trolley fares to correspond with other prices is one of the most conspicuous examples of havoc which has been played by the depression of the dollar."

CONGRESSMAN IN ATTACK ON LIGHT SAVINGS LAW

Andrews Acknowledges Receipt of Anti-Daylight Savings Law Petition—Tells of Fight.

Acknowledging the petition from the mothers' organization for repeal of daylight saving law, Congressman Andrews writes: "I could secure the repeal of that law because I believe it is unjust and very injurious, especially to the farmers of the country and to the children in the sense tersely described in your telegram. I understand the senate has passed the house bill for repeal of section 3 of the so-called daylight saving act. The objections previously mentioned by the president in his veto in relation to the division of the country into zones, will not appear in the bill which has just gone to the White House. The bill now before him relates exclusively to the dishonest treatment of the clock by turning it backward and forward in the vain expectation that the laws of nature will be altered. It is grossly unjust to rob the agricultural people of an hour in the morning and another hour in the evening, thus increasing their cost of food production by 25 per cent on the basis of an eight-hour day. If the president desires to reduce the high cost of living he will surely approve the bill that is now before him. On the other hand, if he desires to enhance the high cost of living, he will probably veto that bill. If he should veto it, a strenuous effort will be made in the house to pass it over the veto."

"Why should so many millions of people be compelled to endure such loss and hardship simply for the mere purpose of giving the joy-riding or golf player an extra hour at the end of the day? I pledge you my hearty support to accomplish the purpose indicated by your message."
