

SAYS PACKERS TRIED TO CRUSH LABOR UNIONS

Federation of Labor Head Even Charges They Attempted to Start Race Riots.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Threats by representatives of employes to give up the arbitration plan of settling labor troubles in meat packing houses were made during hearings Wednesday before Federal Judge Alschuler. The threats followed reaffirmation by Judge Alschuler of his decision that workers who struck last week should lose seniority rights and return as new employes.

J. W. Johnston, secretary of the stock yards labor council, stated he intended resigning his position and telling the organization to close its doors.

"I won't take their money when I can't deliver the goods," he said. "The seniority decision makes the agreement impossible."

Charges that packers had used all methods in their means to crush organized labor were made by John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor. He said packers had had policemen detailed to the stock yards for this purpose.

He attempted to bring about a strike at the yards during the recent trouble and had used underhand methods generally to bring labor into discredit.

Denies Violations. Atty James G. Condon, representing the packers, denied the charges that the employes were in any way violating the agreement under which packing houses have been run during the war, but accused workers of violations.

Men Not Discharged. Patrick J. Brennan, president of the company, stated that the men had not been discharged, but laid off because of lack of work for them.

PASSES SIX MONTHS ADRIFT ON ICE FLOE

Member of Stefansson's Expedition Recounts Remarkable Experience.

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 13.—Storker T. Storkerson, who passed six months adrift on a huge ice floe in the Arctic ocean, has reached here enroute to Banff where he said he expected to report Saturday to Vilhjalmur Stefansson, his chief, on observations made during his unique cruise.

With 14 followers Storkerson set out from Border island with 80 dogs and eight sledges and in May, 1918, selected an ice floe on which he purposed to remain for a year or more with the object of determining the currents, if any, in Beaufort sea, taking soundings and discovering new land.

Stefansson had intended to accompany the expedition but at the last moment was taken ill, and was forced to return to civilization.

After drifting four months Storkerson was taken ill on October 9, 1918, the party, then at latitude 74, longitude 147 west, left the floe and started its return to the American continent and arrived at Cape Hallett November 7.

Storkerson is inclined to believe, owing to certain phenomena observed, that land exists north of the point reached by his party on the ice floe.

The floe upon which the party embarked was seven miles wide and 15 miles in length. Seals, polar bears, ducks, gulls and land birds abounded on it, while shrimps and shell fish appeared to be the chief food of the seals, according to Storkerson.

Keenan land, which was supposed to have been found by Captain Keenan, was found to be non-existent.

He continued: "Russia—that is Moscow—at present is governed by the Letts, Peter, Oderschenski and Astoneoff, who probably organized the Hungarian bolshevik regime. They are the reddest of Jacobins and will as soon as possible carry out a massacre of all foreigners in Moscow."

CAR STRIKE IN DES MOINES MAY BE LONG FIGHT

Tieup Promises to Last into Iowa State Fair—Public Given No Warning.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—The street car strike which started unexpectedly at 2 o'clock this morning, was still unbroken tonight with no prospect of an immediate settlement. The tieup was complete all day.

The men are demanding approximately $100,000 in back pay which the federal court, operating the lines under a receivership, had declined to allow the company to pay. A citizens committee which has been considering provisions for a new franchise, evidenced no disposition to raise the money by public subscription, as has been suggested, despite the fact that the strike bids fair to last into the state fair, which begins August 20.

ADMINISTRATION WILL NOT DEAL WITH SHOPMEN

Hines Replies to Letter of Senator Written in Interests of Strikers.

Washington, Aug. 13.—No dealings with representatives of the railroad shopmen now on strike will be had by the railroad administration, Director General Hines repeated in a letter to James Hamilton Lewis, former senator from Illinois, who telegraphed the administration August 9 in the interests of the strikers.

The strikes which have taken place have not been authorized according to the laws of the shopmen's organizations with which the railroad administration has dealt, the letter said, "and these strikes have the effect of repudiating the established organizations and of bringing the consideration of the matter to a standstill."

SPENT ENOUGH TO PAY FOR A HOME, FINNEGAN SAYS. Nothing Helped St. Paul Man Until He Took Tanlac—Suffered Since a Boy.

"This Tanlac beats anything I ever saw in my life," said Luke Finnegan, a well known employee of the S. M. & S. S. M. R. R., and residing at 1010 Agate street, St. Paul, Minn., in telling the Tanlac representative the other day of his recovery.

"I suffered with stomach trouble ever since I was a small boy," continued Mr. Finnegan, "and I guess I have spent enough money for medicines and treatments to buy a nice home, but nothing did me any good until I took Tanlac."

"Most everything I ate would upset me, and sometimes for hours after meals I suffered from pains in my stomach. Gas would form and get up around my heart so bad I thought at times I had heart trouble. I had awful smothering spells and sometimes would have to get up out of bed at night and walk the floor so as to get my breath. When I turned around I would get so dizzy I would nearly topple over. I had such terrible headaches sometimes my head felt like it would split wide open, and I was dreadfully nervous. I was constipated, too, and had to be taking pills all the time."

"Sometimes awful pains would get up in my shoulders and neck and I could hardly turn my head. 'I finally got so bad off it was all I could do to work and it looked like nothing would help me, but I did not lose hope and when I began to hear so many good things about Tanlac I decided to try it, and it was a good decision, for after taking four bottles of this medicine I'm like a different man. The first few doses seemed to soothe my stomach, and by the time the first bottle was finished I had a fine appetite. Now I can eat just anything I want, enjoy it, and not have any bad after effects. I don't have that mean, bitter taste in my mouth like I did before, gas don't form on my stomach and all the pains are gone. I'm not nervous, never have headaches and I sleep just fine. My strength has returned and my work is no longer a burden. In fact, for the first time in over twenty years I feel like a well man."

Tanlac is sold in Omaha at all Sherman & McConnell Drug Company's stores, Harvard Pharmacy and West End Pharmacy. Also Forest and Meany Drug Company in South Omaha and the leading druggist in each city and town throughout the state of Nebraska.—Adv.
