As a closing celebration of the summer ses-As a closing celebration of the summer session of the Omaha Business College a visit was made by members of the school Friday afternon to see the U.S. Army display from the battlefields of Europe, and to the city water works plant at Florence. A very thorough inspection was made of the wonderful machinery and the geientific methods by which nearly a quarter of a million of people and hundreds of factories and places of business are constantly surgited with splendid and abundant water.

surplied with splendid and abundant water.

A new period of progress and development of the college is about to be marked by moving into larger and better quarters. The growth has been so rapid since it was originally organized as the Mosher Shorthand Institute in June, 1917, that this will be the fourth change necessitated by expanding needs. While delightfully situated in the Bee building, there have been times when the large attendance taxed the accommodations to the point of cramping. The college has been fortunate in securing a new location with much more spacious class rooms and other facilities that will be greatly appreciated. At the opening of the fall term, September 2, the old and new students will be welcomed in these beautiful, well lighted rooms on the third floor of the Lyric building, Seventeenth and Farnam streets. With the added room the college will be able to care for a larger enrollment in the well known courses upon which an enviable reputation has been built. Also there will be opportunity for expansion along contemplated lines which will prove even more attractive for those wishing a complete business training. The present offices in the Bee building will be retained until the opening of the fall term for the convenience of those wishing to register.
