New York Coffee.

New York, Aug. 20.—The market for coffee futures was easier again today owing to report of better weather in Brazil, a decline in the Rio market and the continued weakness of sterling exchange which would cheapen the cost of importations purchased with London credits. The opening was 10 to 20 points lower, with the trade paying little or no attention to rallies in Santos futures and December sold off to $19.80 during the afternoon or 120 points below the high price of Mopday morning and within 25 points of the low level touched on the decline of last week. Closing prices were at the lowest point of the day on most positions, showing a net loss of 27 to 40 points.
