

FUNDS TRANSFER UNDER NEW CODE BILL EFFECTED

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Burlington Directed to Grant Transfers to Encampment Special

Lincoln, Aug. 22.—Members of the G. A. R. and auxiliary organizations living on the lines of the Burlington railroad will be permitted to purchase tickets at their home towns over that road, and if they desire to go on the Sons of Veterans' official train over the Northwestern can have tickets made out allowing them to transfer to the Northwestern at Omaha.

After a somewhat animated controversy between those chartering the train and the Burlington officials, who had held that those purchasing tickets at Burlington points had to travel over that road to Chicago and return the same way and could not transfer to the Northwestern either at Lincoln or Omaha, the matter was taken up with the passenger board at Chicago and the national railway administration and Friday Mr. Powell, rate clerk for the commission, was informed that the railway administration had issued a supplementary order authorizing the Burlington to sell tickets at its stations to passengers to the national encampment over that road, with transfer to the Northwestern and the special train if desired at Omaha, with the privilege of returning via St. Louis and Kansas City. However, in towns not mentioned in instructions, the rate will be charged for the town nearest to that station west.

School Principal Spends Vacation as Shepherd on South Dakota Ranch

Deadwood, S. D., Aug. 22.—(Special.)—Prof. Milford Scott Hallman, principal of the Aberdeen high school, has been spending his vacation as a common sheep herder on a large ranch near Deadwood. By this means he has restored his health, which was greatly impaired by an attack of typhoid and influenza last winter. The effects of his sickness incapacitated him for his duties and he was advised to come to the Black Hills for recuperation. In order to secure the full benefit of outdoor life he obtained a "job" as shepherd, and throughout the summer himself and Mrs. Hallman slept in a tent on the open range and ate their meals from the rear end of a regulation sheep wagon. The remedy, though strenuous at first, proved a complete success and Prof. Hallman's health now has been fully restored.

State Asked to Send Man to Railroad Meeting

Lincoln, Aug. 22.—(Special.)—The State Railway commission has been asked by Charles Elmquist, president of the Association of Railway Commissioners, to send a representative to Washington to attend a meeting on August 25 to discuss coming railroad legislation by congress.
Mr. Elmquist is not at all in sympathy with the movement to centralize railway control in Washington, thus removing from each state the power to control its own affairs.
Another matter which will be discussed is that of formulating some sort of plan of legislation looking to the best things when the railroads of the country return to private ownership.

Two Ward Buildings Are Added to School System of Aurora, Neb.

Aurora, Neb., Aug. 22.—(Special.)—When the fall term of the Aurora city schools opens, September 8, two modern ward buildings that have just been completed will be occupied. The district has spent about $100,000 on new construction and other improvements during the past two years and now has a well equipped plant of four buildings.

The Board of Education has recently adopted the Smith-Hughes plan of teaching agriculture and J. E. Glasspoole of Bozeman, Mont. is the instructor. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and has had experience as a county farm demonstrator in Minnesota and Montana. Hoehn, Aurora, principal and Latin; Miss Louis Murphy, York, science; Miss Bernice Hecker, Lincoln, English; Miss Minnie Parli, University Place, mathematics; Miss Frances Chea, history and normal training; Harold Boring, Aurora, Manual training; Miss Helen Allen, Auburn, Latin and English history; Miss Hattie Mayne, York, general science, algebra and botany; Miss Dorothy Stander, Louisville, domestic science; Mrs. Owen Price, Aurora, music; J. Many Ducks Near Fremont.

Fremont, Neb., Aug. 22.—(Special.)—Large flocks of teal, pintail and mallard ducks can be seen daily winging their way southward along the Platte river. Old hunters say it is unusually early for the flight from the northern breeding grounds to the winter fields to begin. Local deputy game wardens have been informed that some shooting is being done.

JUSTICE, KILLED BY FARMER, IS LAID TO REST

Guard Slayer to Prevent Him From Killing Himself While Awaiting Trial on Murder Charge.

Beatrice, Neb., Aug. 22.—(Special.)—Funeral services for the late Justice Chris Pfeiffer, who was murdered at Cortland Monday evening by O. W. Langley, farmer, were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Methodist church at Cortland, conducted by Rev. G. W. Winters. Many friends of the deceased paid tribute to his memory. Burial was in Cortland cemetery.

In order that O. W. Langley, who shot and killed the justice at Cortland Monday, may not harm himself, he has been placed under a guard at the county jail by Sheriff Schiek. While Langley appears to be remorseful over the crime, he is at the same time revengeful, and cannot be trusted. Neighbors say he has carried a revolver on his person about the farm for years.

Buys Food in Omaha.

Aurora, Neb., Aug. 22.—(Special.)—Aurora is the first town outside of Omaha and Lincoln to take advantage of Uncle Sam's offer to sell surplus army food supplies at cost. Mayor Frank Quinn and V. Swanson, a local grocer, have just returned from the government warehouse at Omaha, where they bought more than 100,000 pounds for immediate delivery. A sales room will be fitted up and the distribution will be conducted by a force organized by five Aurora merchants, a maximum of 10 per cent above cost being allowed for freight and handling. The enterprise is being conducted under authority of the county and city officials.

Wheat Threshing Progresses.

Hemingford, Neb., Aug. 22.—(Special.)—Wheat threshing is now in progress, with winter wheat yielding from 10 to 18 bushels to the acre and spring wheat from 8 to 15 bushels to the acre.

It has been dry here since July 4 and it will take a heavy rain to make a potato crop. The vines are in good condition, but there will not be many potatoes if the drought continues. Land continues to advance, some improved farms changing hands this week for $122.50 per acre.
