Market and Industrial News of the Day Buying for Cash Means Better Value at Any Given Price GRAIN MARKET FINANCIAL LIVE STOCK Local Stocks and Bonds HAYDEN' Store Store Closes Closes Quotations furnished by Burns, Brinker & Co.: Bid. Asked. Omaha, Aug. 28, 1919. 5 P. M. Wheat receipts today were fairly liberal while corn and cats were light. Wheat ar-rivals were 179 cars, corn 30 cars, and cats 19 cars. 5 P. Grain values suffered declines; corn and oats particularly taking decided slumps. Corn was 60 Tc lower. Future market was off today and prospect of early marketing of Texas corn offered in the southwest. Considerably lower figures than recent prevailing prices had a bearish effect. Texas has a large crop and it is said farmers there are enger to sell, as it is hard to keep corn in good condition in the south on account of weevil. Oats declined 2c. Rye was 1c off, and barley easier. Wheat was unchanged. United States industrial alcohol was again the one weak feature extending yesterday's severe decline by almost 2 points, but kindred Issues kept pace with the market's upward trend. Sales amounted to 325,000 shares. For the second time this year, the weekly bank statement reported a de-pletion of actual reserve, the deficit be-ing slightly more than $800,000. A decline, in cash corn prices, rather large country offerings and belief that purchase of Texas corn in large quantities might greatly depress the cash market. Lack of support until extreme low points were reached was observable. Corn closed weak and near the low point, prices being from 2% to 6c net lower with Sep-tember. $1.41% to $1.78% and December. $1.41% to $1.61% and percember. $1.41% to $1.61% and being market traders ap-parently ignored a sharp advance in for-eign exchange rates, which recently have heen abnormally low.
