

DENY 'CLEAN-UP' WAS STARTED BY RECALL DRIVE

Women Will Tell of Police Corruption if Protected From Persecution of City Guardians.

(Continued From Page One.) gun solely for the good of the people," the chief further stated. "It is not the fact that these prisoners are placed under such extremely high bonds an extraordinary procedure?" the two months ago.

Neither would he admit the campaign The Bee has been waging against lawlessness had anything to do with the unusual activity of the police. "We are going to rid the city of undesirable men and women," Chief Eberstein continued, "and we are going to drive them all out."

Paul Sutton was reappointed to the police force by Commissioner Ringer about two months ago. Under the city ordinance he should be wearing a uniform and walking a beat. Chief Eberstein announced at the time of Sutton's reappointment that he was extremely sorry he had not served the length of time required by the ordinance.

At Mercy of Police. "I would be glad to tell what Paul Sutton said and did in my house today," said one of these women. "If I did, I would be arrested and held in the Detention home until I signed a statement to suit the police. I have seen other girls go through this experience. I saw girls given the third degree and I heard officers trying to get them to sign statements which were untrue. When I was there, I begged for an outside physician to examine me. I heard other girls do the same. We were refused, even though we offered to pay the expense. I know what it is to be held in the Detention home. Before they let us out we have got to do what we are told to do. "When I am promised immunity, I will tell the names of policemen who have drunk whisky and collected protection money in my place." This woman declared she was willing to go before the council or any representative investigating body of citizens.

No Reduction in Staple Food in Last Two Weeks; Many Prices Increased

Investigations by City and State Do Not Stop Retailers Advancing Prices—Coffee, Milk and Butter Higher—Other Articles Are Expected to Sell for More Money in the Near Future.

A survey of the food situation in Omaha yesterday disclosed the fact that during the last two weeks there has been practically no reduction of staple articles, while there have been various increases, notably in coffee, milk, and butter. Lard, which fluctuates more or less, is down a few cents, and the same may be said of the grass-fed or cheaper grades of beef.

Give Back Shantung, Decision of Senators

(Continued From Page One.) president, republican members declared, had a direct bearing on the treaty now under consideration and should be before the committee of officials when it asked. The Polish treaty and the Rhine agreements had been submitted to the British house of commons some time ago, it was asserted, and British prints had been received unofficially by committee members and put into the senate record.

Under the Ringer-Findley ordinance, regardless of her guilt or innocence, most any woman can be picked up, taken to the police station and held until a physician can be found who will declare she is diseased, and then held indefinitely at the will of the heads of the police department, it was pointed out by one woman, who refused to tell all she knew about the corrupt tactics of the police.

Explaining the committee's request for information, Chairman Lodge said the treaty with Poland was directly interwoven with the German treaty and that he could not understand why President Wilson had not submitted it to the senate for ratification. The Rhine agreements had been signed, Mr. Lodge continued, by the president and the premiers of Great Britain, France and Belgium on the one hand, and the representatives of Germany on the other. One of them, he said, was in effect a part of the German treaty, and interwoven with the German treaty. Regarding the other treaties now under negotiation, the chairman recalled that President Wilson had told the committee in Tuesday's White House conference that these documents were understood to be interwoven with the German treaty, he said, that until the committee saw them it could not tell with any certainty how much the United States was agreeing to in the former.

Tenants Will Fight Extortionate Rates

(Continued From Page One.) He could not be located last night. The Howards and Vernons are going to appear before the city council when the rent probe is resumed this week. The Cone cottages are across the street from the Raleigh apartments, the tenants of which appeared before the city council Friday night to complain against the advance of rent from $35 to $50 a month for small apartments and unpleasant exterior conditions. The rear of an old apartment building is close to the east side of the Raleigh apartments. There are high weeds within a few feet of the front of the building and there is rubbish in the back yard, it was said. One of the tenants of the Raleigh complained that all the decorating that has been done in his apartment during the last year was done by himself.

Further plan of action in the city's rent probe will be discussed by the city council committee of the whole Monday morning. Mr. Butler insists that the owners and agents should be required to bring their books into the council chamber and expose them to the light of day. Thus far the city's rent probe has about as much punch as the city food probe. The state officials accomplished more here in two days in a food investigation, than the city accomplished in two weeks.

Some of the landlords contended that the new schedule of rents should be based on present production values, rather than actual cost of the buildings. This article points out in detail seven ways in which the United States might intervene and discuss each at length. The seven methods enumerated are: Complete invasion, which the paper admits would result in victory for the United States. Partial invasion by seizure of frontier ports and customs houses, which, it is said, would weaken the Carranza government, cause a spreading of the rebellion, dishearten the constitutionalists and cause Carranza and his system to topple like a pack of cards.

Latin-American Control Hun Plan

Other acts for which Dr. Allendorf claims credit in the affair include: Discovery of two German wireless stations in Mexico, capable of receiving messages from that country; reporting the plan for the German submarine raid along the American coast in April, 1918, one month before it actually took place; reporting agents sent by Germans in Mexico to poison cattle in the United States; and the revelation of a plot by four Germans to blow up the hydro-electric plant at Niagara Falls.

Calling attention to German commercial plans in Mexico, Dr. Allendorf reports that "the first attempt to carry out an ambitious German scheme for the economic conquest and ultimate military domination of Mexico was a plan originated by the German consul Rademacher, at Guaymas, with the active aid of Governor Calles to build a cement plant with a capacity of 90,000 bags a month at Hermosillo, Sonora. Foundations Completed. The foundations were completed, he adds, and materials for the superstructure were on the ground in July, 1917, when I reported the scheme in time to stop it and the factory had to be abandoned until after the peace treaty had been signed. This factory was to furnish the cement for rebuilding piers and other structures and building new ones on the west coast. "The American people ought to know," he continues, "that Mexico was not neutral during the war, but an enemy, active to the extent of its limited capacity. . . . Mexico gave no fewer than 80 German officers commissions in the Mexican army and assigned them to train troops for service against the United States. German uniforms were worn so commonly in Mexico, that even the local Mexican papers complained about it. Moreover, by Carranza's direct orders, Mexican telegraph wires were thrown open to German code messages. I personally carried orders from Carranza to Governor Calles to permit the spy Wabirski to send code messages freely."

Recognizing Rebel Group. Aiding or recognizing some rebel group. Naming of a group of Mexicans and assisting them in the formation of a government. Withdrawal of recognition from the present government, which, the paper said, would be tantamount to recognition of the rebels. Order Your Hudson Now For Later Delivery. Buyers Know the Advantages of Anticipating Their Wants With This, the Largest Selling Fine Car. Constantly for four years Super-Six sales have exceeded those of any other fine car. Buyers have had to wait a month or more during the selling seasons before they could get delivery. On some models, at this writing, we are far behind orders. Yet factory production was never as large. Thousands are driving less desirable cars that were accepted because they could not get delivery of a Hudson. Many frankly express their regret that they had not ordered a Hudson early enough to assure delivery in time to meet their needs. Can There Be Any Hesitancy In Your Preference? Four years have given universal recognition to the Super-Six. The patented principle in its motor, ended destructive engine vibration and added 72% to the power without increased weight in size. That motor was developed by Hudson and it is exclusively Hudson. In the present model are the refinements resulting from 60,000 cars in service. And then there are its official records of the most trying tests. No other car ever so established itself. Some, at first, may have doubted the value of such proofs as were made on the speedway and in trans-continental racing so far as they relate to the type of car that would meet ordinary service. But no one now questions the importance of those records. The fastest mile for a stock chassis was not established as a mark for Hudson owners to aim at. Nor was the twenty-four hour record of 1819 miles set as something that should be attempted by every Super-Six. GUY L. SMITH "SERVICE FIRST" OMAHA, U.S.A. PHONE DOUGLAS 1970
