

Polish cavalry training at the cantonment at Lens.

Lady Diana Manners and her husband, Capt. Duff Cooper of the Grenadier Guards, leaving St. Margaret's after the wedding ceremony. Lady Diana Manners is the youngest daughter of the Duke of Rutland and is considered one of the most beautiful women of Great Britain.

Eton College boys watching a boat race in England.

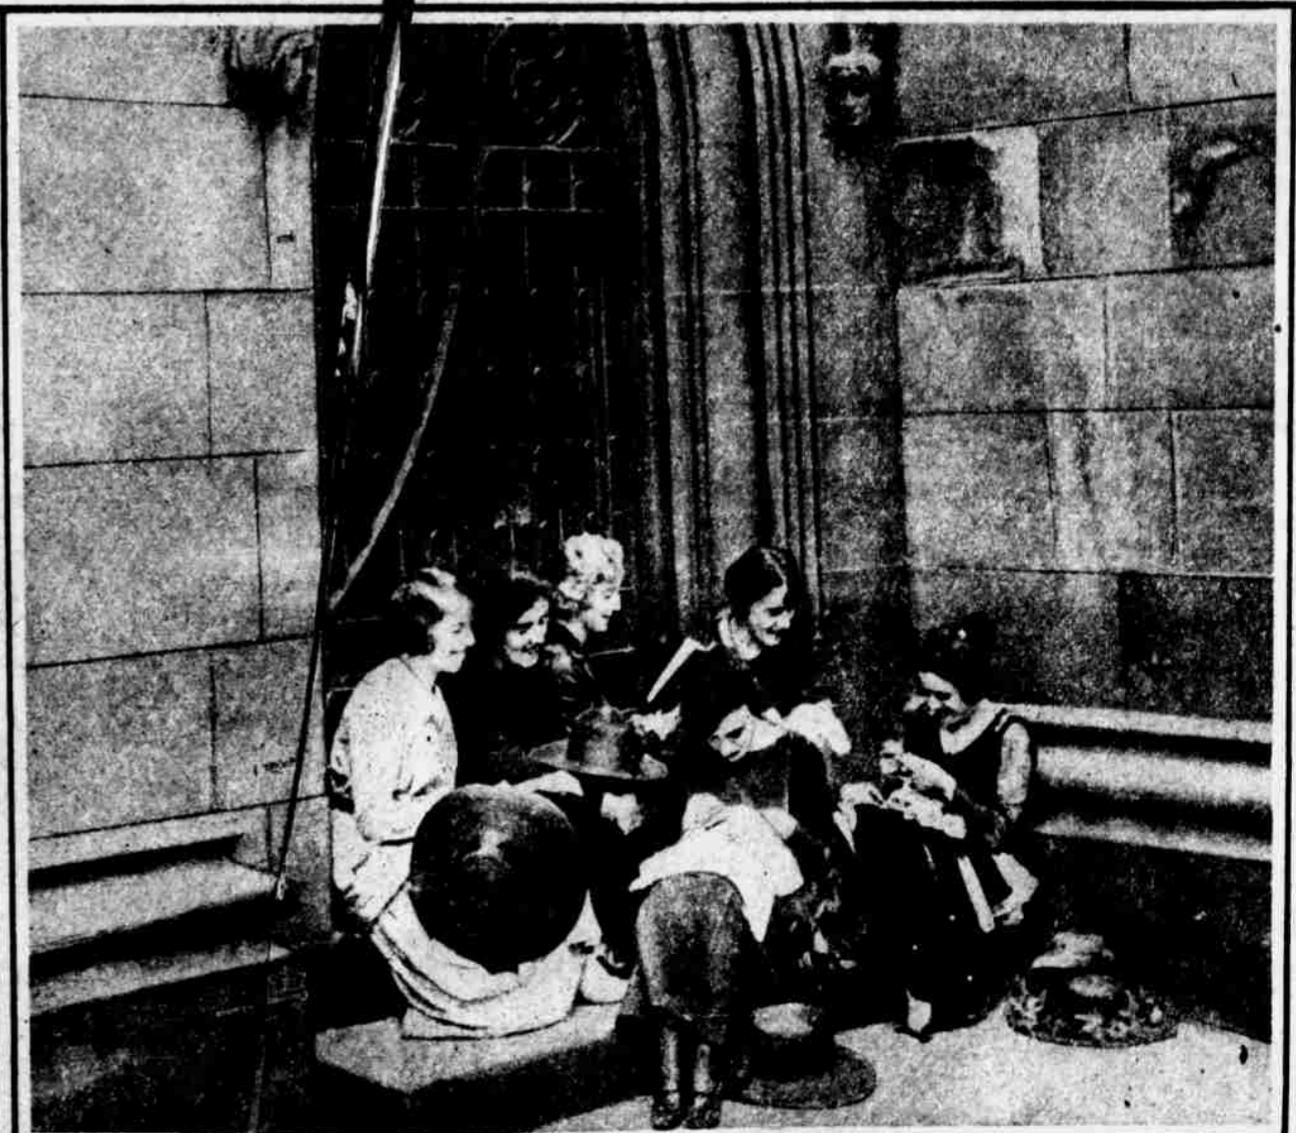

Rare indeed are the pictures which portray as well as this the smile of Gen. John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American Expeditionary Forces in France. This photograph was taken at the Pavillon Horloge, Paris.

OLD TRINITY CHURCH WELCOMES THE NOONTIME CHATTER OF THE GIRLS

(Photographs Copyrighted by Underwood & Underwood)

Usually one would not select a graveyard to lunch in or to spend the luncheon hour, but in the Trinity Churchyard, that venerable spot in New York, girls do this regularly without even thinking that they are doing anything extraordinary.

Mid graves a century old, the girls lunch and sew, read and gossip. Not one of them would think of lunching in the usual cemeteries, but with Trinity it is different.