

MOON THEATER
OPENS TONIGHT,
HAYAKAWA, STAR

Latest Achievement of World Realty Co. Has Been Completed at a Cost of Over $200,000.

Omaha's newest motion picture house, the Moon, erected at 1408-10-12 Douglas street by the World Realty company at a cost, exclusive of the site, of more than $200,000, will open its doors to the public for the first time at 6 tonight. The house is in readiness in every detail, it is said.

"The Gray Horizon," starring Sessue Hayakawa, is the initial Moon feature. It will be continued through Wednesday of next week.

Huge Sign Illuminated.
The projecting apparatus of the Moon was installed Friday and successfully tried out. The finishing touches of the interior and exterior illuminating features were made Friday and the sign over the front of the house was illuminated for the first time Friday night. It is said it may be seen for a distance of seven miles. The sign is 30 feet in height.

The Moon organ, one of the most comprehensive instruments of its kind in the country, installed at a cost of $40,000, has been in readiness for several weeks. Giving the effect of a full 30-piece orchestra, it is said that only an expert can detect the difference between music furnished by the Moon organ and that of an orchestra.

Have 99-Year Lease.
Construction of the Moon theater began January 1, 1919. Excavation was started in the fall of 1918. The site had been acquired early in 1918 on a 99-year lease by the World Realty company, and plans were at once taken under advisement for construction of the theater.

"The Gray Horizon," opening the photoplay program at the Moon, is regarded by film authorities as the best picture in which the Japanese star has appeared.

Preferred Parking Space For City Officials Causes Much Criticism

The resolution introduced into city council Thursday by Commissioner Towl, providing that Eighteenth street adjoining the city hall shall be reserved for the automobiles of city officials is causing much criticism and amusement.

"If the city council can pre-empt portions of the public thoroughfares for the automobiles of its officials, then every business house in town can mark off the street in front of its place of business for the exclusive use of its automobiles," said one business man.

Commissioner Falconer pointed out that "sometimes city officials have to hunt around for some place before they can find a place to park their cars."

"Well, so do we all have to hunt around for a place to park our cars," said the business man. "And I guess the city officials are no better than the rest of us and their time doesn't seem to be as valuable."

Argument Over 80 Cents Worth of Fish Leads to $10,000 Damage Suit

Eighty cents' worth of fish is the cause of a $10,000 damage suit filed in district court yesterday by Louis Margolin, Twenty-fourth and Parker streets, against A. Stoler, Twenty-fourth and Franklin streets.

Mr. Margolin says he is a "large property owner, owning real estate and personal property of considerable value in Omaha, and a well-known business man," and that Mr. Stoler "owns a fish market" at Twenty-fourth and Franklin streets.

Mr. Margolin states that Mr. Stoler accused him, in the presence of many persons in the fish market Thursday, of owing him 80 cents for some fish purchased years ago. He alleges that Mr. Stoler called him vile names in the English and Jewish language. All of which damaged his good name and reputation to the extent of $10,000, he says.

Chicago Police Hold Negro Wanted for Murder Here

Omaha police are combing files of reports of an alleged negro criminal, named Eason Hill, who was arrested in Chicago Wednesday. He is said to be wanted for murder here. Chicago police telegraphed that the arrested man confessed to the murder of a white woman in Omaha.

Chief of Police Eberstein and Chief of Detectives Dunn declared they know nothing of a report of a negro named Hill wanted here for any crime. Bertillon Officer Hans Nielsen says he has no record of an Eason Hill. Further investigation will be conducted.

Coroner's Jury Exonerates Woman for Death of Youth

A coroner's jury at the inquest yesterday over the body of Charles Jordan, 5 years old, 2915 Jackson street, exonerated Miss Sylvia Whistler, 1312 Mason street, from all blame for the accident in which the boy was killed. Young Jordan was struck by an automobile driven by Miss Whistler at Nineteenth and Nicholas streets last Friday night. The body will be taken to Glidden, Ia., his former home, for burial.
