$5,000,000 IS ASKED FOR NEW SCHOOL NEEDS

Superintendent Beveridge Outlines Building Program to Last Five to Eight Years.

J. H. Beveridge, superintendent of public schools, submitted to the Board of Education last night recommendations covering an estimated building program of $5,000,000, which he believes would meet the school needs for a period of five to eight years. This is in addition to the new High School of Commerce, for which plans are being drawn.

The superintendent's program calls for the following:

Four-room addition to Mason school, $45,000; four-room addition to Lake school, $45,000; new Saratoga school, 16 rooms and auditorium, $200,000; new Walnut Hill school, 16 rooms and auditorium, $200,000; new 12-room building for Benson Central, $135,000; new eight-room Sherman school, $90,000; new six-room Belvidere school, $66,000; new six-room Mine Lusa school, $66,000; auditoriums for Park and Clifton Hill schools, $53,000.

Four Junior Schools.

Junior high schools as follows: 34-room building at Twenty-second and Chicago streets, $550,000; 32-room building at Twenty-fourth and Corby streets, $500,000; 12-room building west of the stock yards, $200,000; 22-room addition to South High, $350,000.

A North high school to accommodate 1,200 pupils is proposed at a cost of $1,000,000. It is also proposed to add $700,000 to $800,000 already available for the new High School of Commerce. New sites and additional ground are estimated at $800,000.

This program has been prepared for the guidance of the board members in their future construction deliberations. The superintendent explained that the proposed junior high schools at Twenty-second and Chicago streets and Twenty-fourth and Corby streets would relieve the congestion at Central High and High School of Commerce.

More Money For "Tech."

It is proposed to submit at the fall election in connection with a school bond proposition an item of $700,000 to enable the board to carry out its larger building program for the new High School of Commerce, which probably will be known as "Technical High," on account of the new building to be equipped for technical as well as commercial education.

In connection with his building program summary, Superintendent Beveridge submitted a detailed report showing the condition of all schools during the last school year in the matter of capacity, and he also indicated the growth of the school population during recent years, on which information he based his expectancy for the next five years.

Increases in Salaries.

The board last night authorized an increase of salary from $2,700 to $3,600 a year for Miss A. M. Ryan, assistant superintendent of instruction. The following members of Central high school faculty were each allowed an increase of $100 a year: Adelia Kiewit, J. F. Woolery, E. E. McMillan, Jessie Towne and Zora Shields. School nurses will be paid $1,100 for first year, $1,200 for second and $1,300 for third and subsequent years of service, this being $100 a year increase for the schedule.

Dr. E. T. Manning was elected for another year as public school health director at a salary of $2,000. Ira A. Jones was appointed supervisor of physical education, to succeed R. L. Carns, resigned. Miss Myrtle DeGraff was appointed assistant supervisor of art.

The following High School of Commerce appointments were announced: Mary Buell, cooking; C. O. Gottschalk, automobile mechanics; Nellie Noble, sewing; Mabel Shaw, hygiene. Delbert Meyers was appointed teacher of mechanical drawing at Central high, and Albert Spellman teacher of mechanical drawing and manual training at South high.

TRY TO KIDNAP SLEEPING GIRL FROM BEDROOM

Miss Levey Miller and Sister Trying to Pull Woman From Window.

Miss Levey Miller, 22-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Miller, 819 South Sixth street, Council Bluffs, yesterday morning was awakened by being violently pulled through the window. Miss Miller's sister, 18 years old, sleeping with her, was awakened at the time. The screams of the two girls and the vigorous fight they put up frightened the powerful man who had seized the sleeping girl and he fled after he had dragged her half way through the window.

The bedroom is on the ground floor and the bed was drawn close to the window. The elder sister was sleeping next to the open window. Her assailant removed the screen without awakening the girls. Miss Miller was aroused when the man roughly seized her by the shoulders, and he had dragged her half way out when her sister was awakened. The younger girl instinctively threw her arms around her sister and both began to scream and struggle with the man. Their screams aroused the parents sleeping in the adjoining room, but before Mr. Miller could reach them the man had broken away and fled.

In the darkness the girls could only see the outlines of a powerful man and they could not tell whether he was white or black.

Police searched the neighborhood but found no trace of the man.

On account of feeling ill Miss Miller had retired shortly after 8 o'clock. Her sister had gone to a theater and did not return until midnight and Miss Miller was awakened when she came in. The sister spoke of seeing a shadow pass the bedroom window as she entered the room. The girls spoke of calling their father but did not do so. Miss Miller sustained a number of bruises and scratches but was not otherwise injured.

9 BIDS RECEIVED FOR 1ST MILLION OF ROAD BONDS

Lowest Offer Made by Chicago Company With Bid of $1,007,000 — Omaha Firm Next.

Nine bids were received and opened by the Douglas county commissioners yesterday for the first $1,000,000 of the $3,000,000 highway improvement bonds, voted by the people, to pave 115 miles of county roads.

Award of the bonds to the successful bidder will be made next Friday morning after they have been tabulated and analyzed.

All the bids for the bonds were at a substantial premium. The highest bid offered was by Elston & Co., Chicago. This firm offered to pay $1,028,600 for the $1,000,000 bonds.

Submit Lowest Bid.

The lowest offer made was by the Halsey, Stewart Co., Chicago, which bid only $1,007,000.

The Peters Trust Co. of Omaha made next to the highest bid, $1,023,000. This bid was made in conjunction with the Harris Trust & Savings Co. of Chicago and the First Trust & Savings Co. of Chicago.

The third highest bid was by James T. Wachob of Chicago, $1,020,450. The other bids are as follows: Continental Commercial Trust & Savings bank, Chicago, $1,017,900; Omaha Trust company, $1,017,500; Merrill Oldham Co., Boston, Mass., $1,013,400; National City Co., Chicago, $1,011,990; Lincoln Trust Co., Lincoln, Neb., $1,011,125.50.

Some of the bidders offer to take the bonds in blocks of $200,000 and issue their certificates of deposit, bearing interest of 3 to 4 1/2 per cent per annum on the amount of bonds not used immediately. The commissioners will weigh the advantages of these propositions in comparison with those which offer only to take the entire $1,000,000 at once.

The bonds bear 5 per cent interest and county commissioners were pleased with the high offers made for them. They become due in blocks of $200,000 a year beginning with 1932.

As soon as the bonds have been sold to one of the bidders next Friday, the commissioners will prepare calls for bids on the first of the paving. A fine of five cents must be published for 30 days before the bids can be awarded.

AT THE THEATERS

BLANCHE BATES, by her performance of Madame de Montespan in Henry Miller's production of "Moliere," in which she is starring with Mr. Miller, has again demonstrated her right to rank among the foremost actresses of the American stage. For the last year or two she has not had the good fortune to appear in plays suitable to her talent until "Moliere" came along. As she lately said in one of her curtain speeches, after thanking Mr. Miller for the opportunity he had given her, she had been talking in plays for several years and now she was grateful that she had the chance to act once more.

Rarely is a vaudeville show presented with so many admirable features offered as is the case this week at the Orpheum. The bill has two stellar attractions, one being Blossom Seeley, who appears in "Seeley's Syncopated Studio," capably assisted by Bennie Fields, Grossman, Lynch and Lopez. Another is the concert number presented by the Italian tenor, Ciccolini. He has a repertory, including grand opera selections and ballads in English. Nothing on the bill is more pleasing than the one-act play, "The Tale of a Shirt," by Erwin and Jane Connelly.

If you are wise enough to attend the show at the Gayety this week and you hear the introductory music of the song "Room 202" played by the orchestra, you may be tempted to leave a sigh and say: "What, again?" But you will be all wrong, although the song was included in the first two shows of the season, it is left to Ray Reed and Howard Paden to "put it over" in a manner that wins them re-call after re-call. Ladies' dime matinee at 2:15 daily all week.
