Now is a good time to drive out Catarrh

Don't be misled into thinking your Catarrh is gone. The first touch of winter weather will bring it back with all its discomforts. The blood is laden with the Catarrh germs, which direct their attack against the tender and delicate membranes of the nose and throat. These germs cannot be reached by sprays or douches, which, of course, have no effect whatever upon the blood. Mild weather will aid the treatment and this is an excellent time to thoroughly cleanse the blood of the germs of Catarrh and be forever rid of the troublesome sprays and douches that can only relieve you for the time. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, made from roots and herbs direct from the forest, which combat promptly disease germs or impurities in the blood. This great remedy has been used for more than fifty years, with most satisfactory results. It has been successfully used by those afflicted with even the severest cases of Catarrh. It relieves catarrh by treating the disease at its source. S. S. S. is sold by druggists everywhere. For the benefit of those afflicted with catarrh or other blood diseases, we maintain a medical department in charge of a specialist skilled in these diseases. If you will write us fully, we will give you case careful study, and write you just what your own individual case requires. No charge is made for this service. "Hod" Eller Takes Up the "Shine Ball" for Mound Work

New York, Sept. 3.—Horace (Hod) Eller of the Reds, who pitched a no-hit, no-run game early in the season, is an exponent of the shine ball. Off course Eller may have been using the delivery for some time, but only recently has he employed it as openly as he does now. He used it against the Giants in two games which he finished in the series which ended in Cincinnati recently, and he was practically unhittable in both games. Eller has on the right leg of his uniform trousers a generous smearing of paraffine, and before he delivers a ball to a batter he rubs it vigorously in the preparation. In his back pocket he carries resin and powdered emery, which he also sifts over the ball occasionally. The result of this doctored of the pellet is that Eller has a fast curve that is difficult to reach or hit safely, and some of the Giants narrowly missed bringing their backs as they swung furiously at the ball delivered to them by Hod. The average pitcher who uses a shine ball of similar delivery makes an attempt to conceal his application of a foreign substance to the pellet, but there is nothing surreptitious about Eller's methods of gaining added effectiveness. Records show that dwarfs have been known to live to the patriarchal age of 99 years, whereas giants usually die while comparatively young.

SOME FAMOUS KNOCKOUTS.

WILLARD was out in the first. The other blows he grabbed didn't matter much. When it rains the ocean doesn't get any wetter. Some other famous puffers were: Cain and Bro.

One round. Thousand-ounce clubs. Abel didn't hear the gong. He couldn't have heard the Chimes of Normandy, Marquis of Razzberry rules. One shindig that the ticket specs never heard in on. Cain out in the first. Still out.

Dave Versus Goliath. Dave bowed one off his skullpiece, which was a dangerous spot in those days. Now they toughen kids' domes up with trigonometry and syntax. The only thing that will make an impression on their hatacks is an ice cream cone or Bill Hart. Golly went down like a quart of liquor on June 30. The only difference is that he stayed down.

Cleo and Friend. Friend was known as Marc Antony. Cleo spelled it Mark. He was. She knocked him coo-coo with her nimble eyes, and Marc tumbled like a busted Zepp. He never did find out what became of yesterday.

New York Boxing Game. This was one tough bird and inhaled a lot of punishment before it rolled over and turned its bunions toward the raters. Knocking it cold was just like trying to drown a water bug, but the promoters and managers finally slapped it dizzy.

Caesar and Caesar. This was a battle royal. All that Caesar furnished was the royal part. The other birds did the battling. Brutus and his Gas House gang opened the old bird up like a village postmistress slitting envelopes. Brutus flattened him out with a short knife to the sirlion. The movie money was split eight ways.

J. Barleycorn. Champ for 2000 years. Was topkicker so long that he was supposed to be invulnerable like Kaiser Bill. He was. Tasted the rosin for the first time on June 30th. The brewers are hoping it is a short, snappy illness. He had an awful kick in either left or right hand, but was known to put some birds away with two fingers. No good at long range, but a demon when thumping away at the stomach.

Went good for four years. Made a pass at Uncle Sam and busted 'emself on the nosepiece. Still picking butterflies out of their hats. May look the same but will never get over it.

Comiskey Opposes Lengthening World's Series Schedule

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago Americans, declared his opposition to the proposal of the national base ball commission that the world's series be increased from seven to nine games. He said that it had been the custom to play a series of seven games to decide the world's championship and that he could see no good reason for changing.

"I believe that when an organization establishes a custom it should be followed," President Comiskey added. "Of course, if the league votes for nine games, then we will have to see what is to be done. I sympathize with the fans who want to see the games each fall and who are disappointed because a 32,000 capacity ball park will not seat 150,000 persons, but this situation cannot be avoided."

Members of the White Sox had no game scheduled Wednesday and the players witnessed the game between the Chicago Nationals and Cincinnati to get a line on the club they expect to meet in the base ball class next month.

U. S. SOCIALISTS COPY PROGRAM OF RUSS SOVIET

Communists Say Time for Parleying and Compromise Has Ended.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—War and the withdrawal of radical insurgent elements have reduced the total membership of the national socialist party in this country to 22,217, according to a report read at the convention of the organization. Before the war the socialist party claimed a membership of 117,000.

A summary of the more important business transacted by the convention follows: Urged political freedom for Ireland and India.

Critical congress for declining to seat Victor Berger, socialist of Milwaukee, pending an investigation of his claims to the office. Endorsed the plan for a general industrial strike October 8 to compel the release of Tom Mooney, Eugene V. Debs and other prisoners. Endorsed the co-operative store plan to reduce the high cost of living.

Greetings to Debs. Sent telegrams of fraternal greeting to Eugene V. Debs and other political leaders imprisoned during the war. The delegates applauded for several minutes when a report was read that Emma Goldman had been released from prison two weeks ago.

The new communist labor party of America adopted a platform declaring the party in full harmony with the revolutionary working class parties of all countries and standing by the principles stated by the third international program adopted at Moscow, Russia. Other planks in the platform read: "We fully recognize the crying need for an immediate change in the social system. The time for parleying and compromise has passed and now it is only a question whether the full power remains in the hands of the capitalist or the working class."

Ultimate Aim of Party. "The communist labor party of America has as its ultimate aim the overthrow of the present system of production in which the working class is mercilessly exploited and the creation of an industrial republic."

"To this end we ask the workers to unite with the communist labor party of America industrially and politically in the struggle for the conquest of the state and the powers of government in the establishment of a co-operative commonwealth."

John Reed of New York presented the report of the committee on program and labor, which was said to be the most radical declaration of principles ever issued by a political party in the history of this country. The lengthy document is said to have been largely copied from the program of the soviet republic of Russia. Action on the report was deferred until Thursday.

London, Sept. 3.—It has been ascertained that the dispatch from Berlin, Tuesday, giving German reports from Riga to the effect that General Gough of the British army has issued a proclamation to the population of Petrograd that an attack was about to be made on that city is untrue.

Waste in Automobiles Learned of by Reavis. Washington, Sept. 3.—Hundreds of automobiles, many of them uncrated, have been held in fields at Camp Holabird, Baltimore, since last February awaiting sale by the government, the special house war investigating committee was told today by Major R.
