sensation of the fair so far has been the flying of Lieutenant Locklear, who appears to defy all elements of the air and performs stunts that keep the people with their hearts in their throats most of the time. His feat of climbing from one plane to the other while many hundred feat in the air is hard on people with weak hearts. Locklear stands on the top wing of one plane and with the other just above him seizes a rope ladder and climbs to the upper machine. Yesterday he failed to get the right focus on the thing and had to try it the second he is struck not with any particular exhibit, but by them all. In the agricultural hall the county collective exhibits are the peer of any collective exhibits shown in previous years. Many of the western counties show something wonderful and how the judges are hoping to distinguish which is the better is hard to tell.

Wednesday 71,774 people passed through the gates and 6,185 automobiles. The day's attendance topped all previous records by more than 6,212. The attendance for the first four days this year was 56,559 more than the first four days last Thursday is Omaha day and as usual it is expected that visitors Kelvie today sent the following telefrom the metropolis will be greatly in evidence. Among the visitors will be a bunch of carrier kids from The Omaha Bee who will enjoy the fair and be given most anything

Governor Refuses to Intervene In Death Sentence of Two Men

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 3 .- (Special) -Governor McKelvie today refused to intervene in the sentence of death, by electrocution, imposed on Alonzo B. Cole and Allen Grammer, the two men convicted of the murder of Grammer's mother-in-law about a year ago. In declining to commute the sentence, Governor McKelvie said, although he was personally opposed to the death sentence, he would not interfere with the law as long as the statutes of the state provide for such a sen-

The only hope the convicted men now have is favorable action by the supreme court on their appeal from a decision of the district court of Lancaster county denying their petition for release from the penitentiary on a writ of habeas corpus The supreme court meets early next week and an immediate decision is expected, as the men are sentenced to die in the electric chair September 12. According to testimony brought out at the trial of the two men, Grammer paid Cole $500 to murder

STATE FAIR DAY OF NONPARTISAN

Governor Will Not Oust Beatrice Officials Until Action Has Been Taken in Courts.

Lincoln, Sept. 3 .- (Special.) -A delegation representing the Nonpartisan league, to the number of about 75, called upon Governor McKelvie Wednesday in an effort to bring before him the facts regarding the disturbances of a Nonpartisan league meeting at Beatrice some time ago.

The delegation was headed by Jesse R. Johnson of Lincoln ,manager for the organization in Nebraska; C. A. Sorenson, league attorney; J. D. Ream of Broken Bow, Milsince that time and also another set passed at the meeting in Broken Bow, condemning the action of For the first time since war was the so-called mob which broke up ure to give the meeting protection The first train leaves for Lincoln at the time of the disturbance. Will Not Act.

The governor told the delegation that it was his purpose to give protection to all meetings conducted along right lines, but that the statutes provided that where an assault had been made, as in the case at Beatrice, ple going both by trains and auto is the courts were to be called upon, and until that recourse had been taken he would not act. The courts, he said, were for the protection of the

He said that while even the newspaper men had never been told, he had called into his office a number of peace officers who had refused to do their duty or had been negligent in their duty, and admonished them that he would stand for nothing of that kind. The result had been that those officers, understanding the attitude of the governor that a second offense would mean a loss of their office, had gone out and made good offito Be Held This Month cers. While the governor did not say that he had had the Beatrice officials before him, he called attention
