

Romance and Adventure of Pershing's Life, Stories Hitherto Unpublished of Great Military Chief, Begin in Sunday's Bee

GENERAL PERSHING

A story every boy in America, particularly every Boy Scout, should read. It is not only a story of the man who turned the tide in the war, but also a personality story of this great American and westerner.

Thrilling episodes in the life of General Pershing, which never before have been published, together with intimate and personal incidents of his life and sidights on his character gathered from close relatives and friends both on his boyhood and manhood, form the warp of the great story which begins in The Omaha Bee, Sunday.

This is the real story of General Pershing, written by Harold F. Wheeler, who traveled to every place in this country where the general had lived or had been known, gathering the material for his work. It is a gripping narrative—more than a historical review—and is above all a human document appealing to and gripping the reader. The material for the story was gathered at great expense, as every effort was made to collate all the high lights of the general's career, whether it was a boyhood love episode, or a stirring incident of the Philippine campaign.

Story in Installments

The story will be released to the readers of The Bee in installments, the first one starting Sunday the day before his arrival in New York, on Monday.

His welcome in the city of New York probably will surpass any welcome ever before given a military man by the American public.

A Human Figure

The story puts the general in an entirely new light. It shows him to be a warm, human figure, hidden behind the stern front of a great military chief. It illustrates the hidden incidents of his life as a child, as a cadet in the United States military academy at West Point, as a dominating military figure in the Philippines and Cuba, and, finally, as a leading war chief in France.

His Great Tragedy

It details the great romance of his life, and the terrible tragedy which brought it to an end, and which would have wrecked a man less strong. This is the story of the fire at the Presidio in San Francisco, in which he lost his wife and three of his children.

Main Incidents of Life

The main incidents of his life are covered as follows: As a baby, quaint and interesting stories have been found by Mr. Wheeler about his birthplace, the quaint town of La Clede, Mo., including stories of the townspeople, how they look, and what they have to say of their distinguished townsman.

In this is included the story of his mother's making the first American flag in La Clede.

His First Chew

His first chew and his first smoke. Mr. Wheeler did not fail to dig these up.

The story of his youth covers the tale of his fight with a bully, his first romance, and his rescue of the school-teacher from death.

His First Raid

His first raid was on a peach orchard. Following that he joined the church.

His life at West Point follows the regulation routine the cadets are compelled to face, but the thrashings young Pershing gave his would-be hazers have added interest, of course, on account of his later fame. The boys who were thrashed then regard the incident now with great satisfaction.

Fighting the Apaches

The Sioux campaign was a wonderful one, and every incident has been hunted down. Fighting the Apaches in New Mexico is another stirring chapter in the history of our early Indian wars on the frontier. Mr. Wheeler takes us through it all with Pershing.

Named "Black Jack"

Various explanations have been given for the nickname "Black Jack" by which General Pershing has long been known to the soldiers, and the writer was at great pains to run down and discover its real source.

You will have to read the story in The Sunday Bee to find how it came about.

His Courtship

The story of his courtship of the beautiful Helen Warren is all told about, of course.

The story, in fact, begins at the beginning of the general's life and comes down almost to the hour of his arrival in New York.

It will run daily. Order your papers now. If not a Bee subscriber, call Tyler 1000.

PREPARE PLANS FOR CENTENNIAL OF FT. CALHOUN

Will Ask Government to Have Troops Parade During Celebration to Be Held October 11.

The centennial celebration of the first white settlements and the founding of the first military post on Nebraska soil will be held at Fort Calhoun October 11.

Arrangements for the celebration were made and the date fixed at a meeting of the State Historical society at the Omaha Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

Heads Finance Body

The Rev. John Kelley of Fort Calhoun, was made chairman of the finance committee for the event; A. E. Sheldon, secretary of the State Historical society, chairman of the program committee; Everett Buckingham, chairman of the parade committee, and Arthur Thomas, chairman of the publicity committee.

A. E. Sheldon has telegraphed to Washington for permission to use troops in the pageant, which is to be held at Fort Calhoun. Pioneers of Douglas county and Washington county will meet at Fort Calhoun during the celebration and have a monster basket picnic. Coffee will be served in military style from a Fort Omaha field kitchen.

May Get Indians

Committees for securing Indians for the pageant are yet to be appointed. Some of the leading historians of the Mississippi valley will be present at the celebration. Governor McKelvie is to take part in the program.

According to plans, a part of the pageant will be held in Omaha. Among those present at the meeting at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday were Mrs. O. A. Scott of Omaha, D. C. Deussen of Blair, Col. Jacob W. S. Wuest, commandant at Fort Omaha, and A. H. Livingston of Calhoun.

Another meeting of the heads of the committees appointed yesterday will be held at the Omaha Chamber of Commerce next Thursday.

Dancing at Lakeview to Start Again Saturday

The brief interruption caused by the closing of the regular season and the opening of the post-season, to be played on Saturdays and Sundays only until further notice, has permitted the many different attractions at the popular Lakeview park to get a breathing spell.

Dancing in the big dance palace will start tomorrow night at 8:20. Two sessions will be given Sunday, one in the afternoon and another in the evening. All the other attractions will be operating in their regular manner as in the good old summer.

London contains more Scotsmen than Aberdeen, more Irishmen than Dublin, more Jews than Palestine, and more Roman Catholics than the city of Rome.

AMUSEMENTS. "OMAHA'S FUN CENTER" Gayety Daily Mats, 15-25-50c Ev'ngs, 25c-50c-75c-91c Last Times Today-- 2:15-8:30 Star & Garter Show Burlesque Tomorrow (Saturday) Matinee and Week Geo. Douglas The BonTons ALL John Barry & The BonTons NEW LADIES' DIME MATINEE WEEK DAYS

Jewish Relief Body Fed 200,000 Children in Poland In July

The Nebraska committee for relief of Jewish War sufferers, of which Governor McKelvie is chairman, has received a report from Dr. Boris D. Bogen, head of the American Jewish relief work in Poland, which tells how little children of that war ridden land relish even the unpalatable army hardtack.

"The food situation east of the Bug river continues to be desperate," the report states. "It is estimated that during the month of July 200,000 children were fed by the Jewish relief bureau."

The Nebraska committee of the relief of Jewish war sufferers is seeking to raise $400,000 as Nebraska's share of a national fund of $35,000,000 to be raised during a drive from September 15 to 22.

Army Flyers to Make Stop in Omaha Soon, Is Belief

Receipt of a telegram from the director of air service at Washington for Lieut. Clifford C. Nutt, commander of the transcontinental air squadron, has led Omaha army authorities to believe that the squadron will make a stop in this city soon. Army flyers here are directed to hold the telegram for the flight officer until his arrival here. Adverse weather conditions have interfered with the flight and the aviators have been held up in the east because of many mishaps attributed to unfavorable weather conditions.

Meet to Decide Strike Action.

Washington, Sept. 4.—The special committee of the steel workers' union appointed to organize the employees of the United States Steel corporation met here today with a view to renewing their efforts to obtain a conference with officials of the corporation for discussion of wages, hours, working conditions and the right of collective bargaining.

BRANDRETT'S THEATRE

TONIGHT AND SATURDAY Saturday Matinee

HENRY MILLER BLANCHE BATES

In a play by Philip Moeller "MOLIERE"

Prices: 12 rows Orchestra, $2.50; balance, $2.00. Two rows balcony, $1.50; remainder, $1.00. Second Balcony, 50c. Saturday Matinee, 50c, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00.

WELL-COME

Dreamland Dancing Academy

GRAND OPENING

Saturday Evening September 6th

SOCIETY WOMEN VICTIMIZED BY INDIAN MAIDEN

Women Tell Police Judge Prominent Omahans Visited Lair of Cherokee Fortune Teller.

A sturdy belief in the necromancy of fortune-telling caused two women, Mrs. G. W. Matheny and her daughter, Mrs. L. Roggenkamp, 833 South Twenty-second street, to purchase calico, shoes and sweaters in glowing colors to give to Annie Lehan, the seeress, professing to be a Cherokee Indian.

The bronze-colored maiden was arrested Wednesday in her haven of phrenology at 1311 Douglas street. A warrant charging her with the theft of 10 yards of calico, a $15 pair of shoes, a yellow sweater and a diamond ring, was sworn out by the two women who stated in police court yesterday that they bought the goods and loaned them to the seeress upon her advice.

Relatives Implicated.

Upon hearing the story of Annie Lehan, H. L. Mossman, assistant city attorney, swore out warrants for the arrest of three of the girl's relatives for vagrancy. Their names are Joseph Lehan, Milan Mark and Steve Unavitch. All profess to be Cherokee Indians. When the two women sought the secret advice of the Cherokee maid

AMUSEMENTS.

KRUG PARK

THE HOME OF PICNICS

TONIGHT FESTIVAL OF FUN

Clown Bands, Parades, Fancy Costumes, Contests and Souvenirs, Confetti, Etc.

FRIDAY NIGHT Shoe Lacing Contest

Everybody Invited

EMPRESS

TWO SHOWS IN ONE VALERIA'S EYES. Whittened Barrett, TYLER & ST. CLAIR; ELDRIDGE, BARLOW & ELDRIDGE; IRVING WHITE & MARIE. Photo-play Attractions—W. F. FAHNIEN, "THE BROKEN LAW"; MACK SENNETT COMEDY.

LAKEVIEW PARK

Open SATURDAYS and SUNDAYS Only

DANCING TOMORROW AND SUNDAY AL WRIGHT'S JAZZ BAND OTHER ATTRACTIONS

FRANK MACH Violinist

Produces Results Phone Douglas 1952

a week ago, they were told to buy 10 yards of "bright red calico."

"Make nice robes," Annie is said to have told the women. "And wear them; or rather let me make them and you come here in two days. I'll know heaps."

Two days later the women returned and were told to buy a pair of bright colored shoes and a yellow sweater.

"They obeyed. "Now, give me those clothes and your diamond ring. I'll burn them at midnight in the graveyard. Come see me tomorrow and I'll tell you heap much about fortune."

Unfailing, the women returned, but no fortune, not even their own goods, awaited them. They swore out a warrant for Annie's arrest.

Hundreds Victim

In police court yesterday both women stoutly admitted belief in fortune telling.

"And there are hundreds of other women, some prominent, who have sought the advice of these Indian maids along lower Douglas street," one of the women remarked to the police judge.

The goods were returned to Mrs. Matheny and her daughter. The case of theft against the seeress was continued.

It is said that the oldest investment security is the real estate mortgage, money having been loaned on land in Babylon as long ago as 4,000 years.

AMUSEMENTS.

Daily Mat. 2:15 Every Evening 8:15

ERWIN and JANE CONNELLY, Epe and Dutton, Clifford Walker, Gardinetti Bros., The Sterlings, Topics of the Day, Kinggrams.

PHOTO PLAYS.

PARAMOUNT ARTCRAFT WEEK

RIALTO

Marguerite Clark

in "GIRLS"

MOON

Today and Rest of Week

It's Really Funny "UPSIDE DOWN" —with— Taylor Holmes and Joe Martin, a Real Monkey Comedian Today and Saturday

LOTHROP 24th and Lothrop

D. W. Griffith's Special "ROMANCE OF HAPPY VALLEY"

SAYS ORDINANCE ON SOFT DRINKS IS NOT LEGAL

Peter Zoroya Asks Injunction Against Closing of His Place by Police Chief.

Alleging that city ordinance No. 10,080, passed by the city council January 9, 1919 at the instance of Police Commissioner Ringer, is unconstitutional, Pete Zoyora asked the district court yesterday for an injunction against Mr. Ringer and Chief of Police Eberstein to keep them from closing up his pool room and soft drink parlor at 524 South Twenty-eighth street.

Many soft drink places have been closed in Omaha under the provision of this ordinance.

Chief's Power Too Great.

Mr. Zoroya's petition attacks the constitutionality of the ordinance on several grounds. It pretends to confer legislative and judicial powers on the chief of police, Mr. Zoroya says. Upon a report from the chief of police that a place has violated the ordinance it is mandatory on the city council to revoke its permit.

It is unconstitutional because it is class legislation, he charges.

The ordinance allows children under 15 years of age to sell soft drinks in open-air stands and permits the mayor to issue five-day permits free of charge. It also attempts to legislate regarding the sale of intoxicating liquors and to impose greater penalties than are allowed by the constitution, Mr. Zoroya charges.

He also declares that the ordinance in placing police power over the sale of "non-intoxicating" drinks, is unconstitutional.

He says that his place was closed without notice to him of charges and that the city council did not decide whether he was guilty of any violation of the provisions of the ordinance.

To make good French fried potatoes peel them, cut in lengthwise strips and let them lie in cold water for an hour. Drain and wipe on a dry towel. Then plunge into hot fat. Test this by dropping a crumb of bread into it. If this browns in one minute the fat is of proper temperature. When the potatoes are brown drain them on brown paper.

PHOTO PLAYS

Chief's Power Too Great.

Mr. Zoroya's petition attacks the constitutionality of the ordinance on several grounds. It pretends to confer legislative and judicial powers on the chief of police, Mr. Zoroya says. Upon a report from the chief of police that a place has violated the ordinance it is mandatory on the city council to revoke its permit.

It is unconstitutional because it is class legislation, he charges.

The ordinance allows children under 15 years of age to sell soft drinks in open-air stands and permits the mayor to issue five-day permits free of charge. It also attempts to legislate regarding the sale of intoxicating liquors and to impose greater penalties than are allowed by the constitution, Mr. Zoroya charges.

He also declares that the ordinance in placing police power over the sale of "non-intoxicating" drinks, is unconstitutional.

He says that his place was closed without notice to him of charges and that the city council did not decide whether he was guilty of any violation of the provisions of the ordinance.

To make good French fried potatoes peel them, cut in lengthwise strips and let them lie in cold water for an hour. Drain and wipe on a dry towel. Then plunge into hot fat. Test this by dropping a crumb of bread into it. If this browns in one minute the fat is of proper temperature. When the potatoes are brown drain them on brown paper.

PHOTO PLAYS

Chief's Power Too Great.

Mr. Zoroya's petition attacks the constitutionality of the ordinance on several grounds. It pretends to confer legislative and judicial powers on the chief of police, Mr. Zoroya says. Upon a report from the chief of police that a place has violated the ordinance it is mandatory on the city council to revoke its permit.

It is unconstitutional because it is class legislation, he charges.

The ordinance allows children under 15 years of age to sell soft drinks in open-air stands and permits the mayor to issue five-day permits free of charge. It also attempts to legislate regarding the sale of intoxicating liquors and to impose greater penalties than are allowed by the constitution, Mr. Zoroya charges.

He also declares that the ordinance in placing police power over the sale of "non-intoxicating" drinks, is unconstitutional.

He says that his place was closed without notice to him of charges and that the city council did not decide whether he was guilty of any violation of the provisions of the ordinance.

To make good French fried potatoes peel them, cut in lengthwise strips and let them lie in cold water for an hour. Drain and wipe on a dry towel. Then plunge into hot fat. Test this by dropping a crumb of bread into it. If this browns in one minute the fat is of proper temperature. When the potatoes are brown drain them on brown paper.

PHOTO PLAYS

Chief's Power Too Great.

Mr. Zoroya's petition attacks the constitutionality of the ordinance on several grounds. It pretends to confer legislative and judicial powers on the chief of police, Mr. Zoroya says. Upon a report from the chief of police that a place has violated the ordinance it is mandatory on the city council to revoke its permit.

It is unconstitutional because it is class legislation, he charges.

The ordinance allows children under 15 years of age to sell soft drinks in open-air stands and permits the mayor to issue five-day permits free of charge. It also attempts to legislate regarding the sale of intoxicating liquors and to impose greater penalties than are allowed by the constitution, Mr. Zoroya charges.

He also declares that the ordinance in placing police power over the sale of "non-intoxicating" drinks, is unconstitutional.

He says that his place was closed without notice to him of charges and that the city council did not decide whether he was guilty of any violation of the provisions of the ordinance.

To make good French fried potatoes peel them, cut in lengthwise strips and let them lie in cold water for an hour. Drain and wipe on a dry towel. Then plunge into hot fat. Test this by dropping a crumb of bread into it. If this browns in one minute the fat is of proper temperature. When the potatoes are brown drain them on brown paper.

PHOTO PLAYS

Chief's Power Too Great.

Mr. Zoroya's petition attacks the constitutionality of the ordinance on several grounds. It pretends to confer legislative and judicial powers on the chief of police, Mr. Zoroya says. Upon a report from the chief of police that a place has violated the ordinance it is mandatory on the city council to revoke its permit.

It is unconstitutional because it is class legislation, he charges.

The ordinance allows children under 15 years of age to sell soft drinks in open-air stands and permits the mayor to issue five-day permits free of charge. It also attempts to legislate regarding the sale of intoxicating liquors and to impose greater penalties than are allowed by the constitution, Mr. Zoroya charges.

He also declares that the ordinance in placing police power over the sale of "non-intoxicating" drinks, is unconstitutional.

He says that his place was closed without notice to him of charges and that the city council did not decide whether he was guilty of any violation of the provisions of the ordinance.

To make good French fried potatoes peel them, cut in lengthwise strips and let them lie in cold water for an hour. Drain and wipe on a dry towel. Then plunge into hot fat. Test this by dropping a crumb of bread into it. If this browns in one minute the fat is of proper temperature. When the potatoes are brown drain them on brown paper.

impose greater penalties than are allowed by the constitution, Mr. Zoroya charges.

He also declares that the ordinance in placing police power over the sale of "non-intoxicating" drinks, is unconstitutional.

He says that his place was closed without notice to him of charges and that the city council did not decide whether he was guilty of any violation of the provisions of the ordinance.

To make good French fried potatoes peel them, cut in lengthwise strips and let them lie in cold water for an hour. Drain and wipe on a dry towel. Then plunge into hot fat. Test this by dropping a crumb of bread into it. If this browns in one minute the fat is of proper temperature. When the potatoes are brown drain them on brown paper.

PHOTO PLAYS

Chief's Power Too Great.

Mr. Zoroya's petition attacks the constitutionality of the ordinance on several grounds. It pretends to confer legislative and judicial powers on the chief of police, Mr. Zoroya says. Upon a report from the chief of police that a place has violated the ordinance it is mandatory on the city council to revoke its permit.

It is unconstitutional because it is class legislation, he charges.

The ordinance allows children under 15 years of age to sell soft drinks in open-air stands and permits the mayor to issue five-day permits free of charge. It also attempts to legislate regarding the sale of intoxicating liquors and to impose greater penalties than are allowed by the constitution, Mr. Zoroya charges.

He also declares that the ordinance in placing police power over the sale of "non-intoxicating" drinks, is unconstitutional.

He says that his place was closed without notice to him of charges and that the city council did not decide whether he was guilty of any violation of the provisions of the ordinance.

To make good French fried potatoes peel them, cut in lengthwise strips and let them lie in cold water for an hour. Drain and wipe on a dry towel. Then plunge into hot fat. Test this by dropping a crumb of bread into it. If this browns in one minute the fat is of proper temperature. When the potatoes are brown drain them on brown paper.

PHOTO PLAYS

Chief's Power Too Great.

Mr. Zoroya's petition attacks the constitutionality of the ordinance on several grounds. It pretends to confer legislative and judicial powers on the chief of police, Mr. Zoroya says. Upon a report from the chief of police that a place has violated the ordinance it is mandatory on the city council to revoke its permit.

It is unconstitutional because it is class legislation, he charges.

The ordinance allows children under 15 years of age to sell soft drinks in open-air stands and permits the mayor to issue five-day permits free of charge. It also attempts to legislate regarding the sale of intoxicating liquors and to impose greater penalties than are allowed by the constitution, Mr. Zoroya charges.

He also declares that the ordinance in placing police power over the sale of "non-intoxicating" drinks, is unconstitutional.

He says that his place was closed without notice to him of charges and that the city council did not decide whether he was guilty of any violation of the provisions of the ordinance.

To make good French fried potatoes peel them, cut in lengthwise strips and let them lie in cold water for an hour. Drain and wipe on a dry towel. Then plunge into hot fat. Test this by dropping a crumb of bread into it. If this browns in one minute the fat is of proper temperature. When the potatoes are brown drain them on brown paper.

PHOTO PLAYS

Chief's Power Too Great.

Mr. Zoroya's petition attacks the constitutionality of the ordinance on several grounds. It pretends to confer legislative and judicial powers on the chief of police, Mr. Zoroya says. Upon a report from the chief of police that a place has violated the ordinance it is mandatory on the city council to revoke its permit.

It is unconstitutional because it is class legislation, he charges.

The ordinance allows children under 15 years of age to sell soft drinks in open-air stands and permits the mayor to issue five-day permits free of charge. It also attempts to legislate regarding the sale of intoxicating liquors and to impose greater penalties than are allowed by the constitution, Mr. Zoroya charges.

He also declares that the ordinance in placing police power over the sale of "non-intoxicating" drinks, is unconstitutional.

He says that his place was closed without notice to him of charges and that the city council did not decide whether he was guilty of any violation of the provisions of the ordinance.

WHAT'S GOING TO HAPPEN

Sept. 7th

Watch Tomorrow's (Saturday) Papers for Answer.

THE SPOT LIGHT IS ON IT

SEPT. 7

THE DATE YOU WILL REMEMBER

Watch Tomorrow's (Saturday) Papers for Answer.

So this date will surely linger. Tie a string around your finger.

Sept. 7th

Watch Tomorrow's (Saturday) Papers for Answer.