

WOMAN'S SECTION OF THE BEE

He had then the grace, too rare in every clime, Of being, without any of the beam, A finish'd gentleman from top to toe.—Byron.

No life Can be pure in its purpose and strong in its strife, And all life not be purer and stronger thereby.—Meredith ring having been designed by the bride. Miss Naomi Carpenter, niece of the bride, who was ringbearer, wore a frock of white net combined with lace, and her corsage was of Mrs. Wards roses. Miss Mary Phillip of San Diego and Miss Marian Pettis of Lincoln, who were bridesmaids, were gowned in pink satin and wore corsage bouquets of lavender asters. Miss Eleanor Carpenter, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was of orchid satin made in long draped skirt, low bodice, and sleeves of tulle. A corsage of Ophelia roses completed her costume. The attendants wore the gifts of the bride, which she designed. To her maid of honor and her bridesmaids she gave gold ornaments for the hair set with amethysts. To the ribbon stretchers, Franklin Carpenter and Richard Frederick, and the ringbearer, she presented unique rings. The bride was attractive gowned in white satin combined with rose point lace, made with a draped skirt and low bodice. The long tulle veil fell to the hem of the court train. After a short wedding trip through the east, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick will be at home in Schenectady after September 15. Marriage Announced. Mr. and Mrs. Allen S. Romao announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen Hamilton Romao,

Society

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. August M. Borglum and son, George Paul, will return Monday after spending the summer at Silver Mine, Conn. George Paul spent eight weeks at the Culver Summer school.

Miss Mary Gant has returned from Estes Park, where she spent several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Clarke have returned from Belle Isle, Mich., where they spent the month of August.

Mrs. C. Buchtel and grandsons, Bob, jr., and Jack, have returned from Excelsior Springs, where they spent two weeks.

Mrs. C. M. Wilhelm returned Thursday from Estes Park.

Senator J. H. Millard and Miss Jessie Millard leave Friday evening for New York, Atlantic City and other eastern points.

Miss Helen Hibbard has returned after spending the summer in New York and other eastern cities.

Mrs. F. W. Fogg and daughter, Miss Adelaide Fogg, returned Friday morning from New York, where they spent the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Templeton left Friday for Kansas City, where they will spend two weeks as the guest of their son, Mr. F. F. Templeton.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Alexander have returned from a trip to Colorado Springs and Denver.

Miss Elizabeth Larson has returned from New York and Boston, where she spent the summer.

Happy Hollow

E. A. Sherman had 20 guests at dinner at the Happy Hollow club, Friday evening. J. D. Weirs entertained six. Mrs. Carrie Campbell, newly appointed secretary of the Y. W. C. A., was honor guest at luncheon Friday at the Happy Hollow club, given by the board of directors of the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Campbell arrived Sunday from Clinton, Iowa, where she has been engaged in Y. W. C. A. work, and took immediate charge of the organization here. Mrs. T. M. Garrett entertained at a Kensington at the Happy Hollow club Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Nan Clayton of Los Angeles, formerly of Omaha, who is the guest of Mrs. L. D. Carrier. Twenty-five guests were present.

Federation Headquarters. The Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs is maintaining headquarters in the new women's building at the Nebraska State fair, where all women, whether club members or not, are welcome. Mrs. Addison E. Sheldon, state president; Mrs. William Berry of Omaha, Mrs. Hugh LaMaster and Mrs. LeRoy Davis of Lincoln; Miss Julia Fuller, Beatrice; Mrs. Bertha Miller, North Bend, have served as hostesses. Club women from Illinois, Iowa, Colorado and Missouri have visited the headquarters.

The head of the department store incorporation of New York City has made the statement that the American housewife is the keenest judge of merchandise to be found anywhere and frequently knows more about the kinds of goods than the merchants who specialize in them.

Advice to the Lovelorn

Love Comes Unbidden and, "To Love or Not We Are No More Free Than the Ripple to Rise and Leave the Sea."

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Girls, Take Notice. Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I am a stranger in your city, being here only three weeks. However, I expect to make this my home. I was in the Empire last night, and by chance happened to sit next to a young lady that certainly appealed to me. This girl seemed to be a "regular" fellow. What I mean by that is, that she was talking to her friend about base ball and various other sports—also about California, Colorado, where I went to college.

Now I don't want to be classed as a "masner," but I certainly want to meet this girl, and with all due respect to the Omaha girls, she is the first that has appealed to me. Now I don't mean that I am madly in love with her—I am just homesick, and would like some one to talk to who would relieve the monotony.

This girl in question, should she happen to see this (which I surely hope she does), will recognize me, by remembering the couple behind her that annoyed every one within hearing by reading out loud. This girl caught a South Omaha car.

Again, assuring you and the girl that I am no "masner," I hesitated in using your column, thinking she would think I was mighty rude, but I know of no other way to meet her. Hoping to see an answer in the very near future, I am, respectfully, B.

Suppose I should locate the young woman in question, how do you expect me to locate you, since you sign yourself "B," with no address for my information?

She Loves a Fat Man. Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: Don't, I beg of you, make me laugh. But if you put any more such stuff in your paper as you did about "nobody loves a fat man," I am afraid I shall split my sides, so to speak. How, pray tell me, do you know that nobody loves a fat man? Not from experience, I'll wager. I suppose, then, from the way you talk the average girl thinks more of the little than of the big.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: Having read about "Innocent" and being in a position to know of these things, I thought that I would like to write and hope to see it in print, as it may be of benefit to some one. As I am reading a "MS" of a book soon to be printed called the "Great Black Plaque," and coming to a chapter under the name of "Social Life," I would like to repeat some of the things I have read here.

"Why should greater virtue be demanded from women than from men? If virtue is an ornament to the individual and a blessing to society, it would be no less brilliant when worn by the male than it is when worn by the female, and society receives greater benefit, for virtue is the basic principle of happiness."

To "Innocent." Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: In regard to "Innocent," I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Heartbeats

By A. K.

A village maiden So fair and sweet— With peach-pink cheeks And sparkling eyes— With silken hair And merry laugh Who won the hearts Of old and young. By ten at night She was "Beauty sleeping"— The morning she greeted With vim And a smile— This wholesome girl Whom her small world loved— The winsome lass Of God's design. But the village Held no cabarets— No dazling stages— No gay Broadway— Her girlish dreams Took her far away To old New York And the Great White Way. Into one mad rush For pleasure she rushed— Into the whirlpool Of dizzying sights— She plunged in deep And took a part. I the wee small hours She tumbled in— Tired with excitement Night after night— Nerves exhausted When the morning light Pecked in at the window To wish her good cheer. But the fagged Little girl Awoke one day And talked with the girl In the mirror: "My eyes have gone bad— Lost their luster— They're dull— My complexion is blotched And grim— The pink on my cheeks Is a drug store tint— Mean little wrinkles Surrounding my eyes— Follow and circled And drawn— My face is thin— Why this is a sin! I'm old And haggard And cross! I sold my beauty And the Spirit of Youth For jazz band nights And a sorry time. Ah, Beauty and Youth! Come back to me!" Youth never returns Once it is gone— This is the price The Night Hawks pay. SELAH!

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do not think I or any one else could cover the subject as well as the party who signs "Just a Girl." She has the right idea and I know her intentions are good. None of us, of course, may accuse "Innocent" outright until we hear the other side of the case. There certainly is a lot of much of this going on in the world and not enough thought of on the girl's part. I would rather have sympathy for the girl, even though of questionable character, than for this man who signs "Innocent," who claims to be of "good character."

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I don't know how to say it, but I do