Oh, the pure joy of living!
The flush of health's glow,
The buoyant breath,
To think! and to know!

ANOTHER charming society maid is to celebrate her nuptials in the early autumn, which has been so favored this season by Omaha girls for weddings. Song of the Law.
Suek for beauty everywhere you go,
Give some service all about your way;
Knowledge, too, you must pursue,
Be trustworthy every day.

If your health is not the very best,
You simply can't be happy;
So let's be happy every day,
For we are Camp Fire Girls.

If you are lazy, don't, oh, don't read this.

A sergeant, in addressing several hundred army cooks, said: "All you men who are lazy, take one step forward." Every man but one took the step with very little hesitation. The sergeant went up to the man who had kept his original position. "Why don't you own up to it—you're as lazy as the rest of them," said the sergeant. "More," answered the fellow, "I am too lazy to take the step."

Do you send in a report each for your group for the papers?

Why isn't this column a success this week? Because out of 40 groups, four sent in news, and the office dog was too busy to call up each group and dig up news.

A Home Recipe for Wrinkled, Saggy Skin
The famous saxolite lotion recommended by beauty specialists for removing wrinkles and for reducing distended pores, can easily be made at home. Ask your druggist for saxolite in powdered form, one ounce, and a half pint of witch hazel. Dissolve the powder in the witch hazel and bathe the face, neck and hands in the solution. Results are remarkable, and instantaneous. The skin tightens, and this naturally reduces the wrinkles, as well as creases or folds about the neck, cheeks or hands. The finer benefits of the skin also becomes firmer and more solid.

One feels much refreshed and exhilarated after using this truly wonderful preparation. Many women look five or ten years younger after using this only a short time.—Adv.

FIFTY YEARS THIS REMEDY HAS HELD THE PEOPLE'S CONFIDENCE
A medicine that has endured as long as PE-RU-NA and possessing a record of such substantial help to humanity, must have wonderful and untold merit and healing, health making qualities and be backed up by something besides promises.

By purifying and enriching the blood and reducing the irritation of the raw and quivering nerves, PE-RU-NA exerts a soothing influence upon mucous membranes lining the interior of the body, which explains its great value in all diseases having origin in Catarrh or a Catarrhal Inflammation. It is used effectively in coughs, colds, catarrh of the nose and throat, bronchial troubles, effects of the grip and Spanish Influenza, constipation, diarrhoea, dysentery, catarrh of the stomach, bowels, liver, kidneys or other organs, and all disorders due to irritation and congestion of the mucous linings.

Ninety-seven out of every hundred have Catarrh in some form

The glad message of PE-RU-NA helps and benefits has been carried far and wide by thousands of users. Gratitude thus expressed accounts almost wholly for the widespread and universal popularity of Dr. Hartman's celebrated PE-RU-NA tonic for Catarrh.

English Women Representation in League
Ninety-five Delegates Met to Insist Upon Active Part in League of Nations.
By CONSTANCE DREXEL, Universal Services Staff Correspondent. Special Cable Dispatch.

London, Sept. 6.—While the United States senate is debating the peace treaty, British women are initiating an effective campaign for obtaining representation in the league of nations, sending the names of British women to the secretary with recommendations for various commissions under the league.

The committee has been quietly at work for months, and yesterday the London delegates of 95 women organizations of Great Britain met to insist upon an active part of British women in the league. Three American women were present: Mrs. Curtis Brown, Mrs. George A. Muller and Mrs. J. A. Seaverns of the American Women's Club of London.

Countess Selborne, president of the conservative equal suffrage league, declared for a plan of representing all women in the league, saying that league offices should not be given to "cranks" in women's organizations.

Mrs. Hood, representing the women's co-operative association comprising 70,000 working men's wives, said in a speech she did her own house work and still had time to work for the women's organization.

"Therefore," she said, "I think idle women who have no time to join our organizations are not worth bothering with."

Miss Eleanor Rathbone of the

English Women Representation in League

Liverpool town council, accused Martha MacArthur of delaying the sending of women's names to the league because the labor women had their own program from Washington conference next month.

A resolution was passed urging the British government and the league of nations to appoint women in all of the league's capacities. A committee was appointed to recommend women for the various offices. Mrs. O. Gordon, president of the British national council of women, had a resolution passed demanding that the league submit to the women's organizations any scheme for the women's sections or commissions.

Lady Aberdeen, president of the International Women's Council, announced that the council will open offices in Geneva and that the Norwegian government has appointed the vice president of Norway's Council of Women a delegate to the league assembly.

DYEING

Hundreds of people are having their old or faded clothes dyed in the original or some other shade, and will get another season's wear out of them.

Our dyeing department was never in better shape to handle large quantities of work, nor did we ever turn out nicer work. Many of the suits and jackets we dye look just as nice as new, and do not show they ever have been dyed.

The five or six dollars you pay for dyeing will give you a garment that will look as good and wear about as long as the fifty or sixty dollar garment you would buy at the store.

Think this over and come in and see us about it.
