

OFFICERS HELD ON MURDER CHARGE REMAIN ON DUTY

Ringer and Eberstein Refuse Comment on Allowing Armstrong and Brigham to Still Carry Guns.

Despite the fact they have been arrested for manslaughter in connection with the murder of Eugene St. Joseph, the Plaza hotel bellboy, detectives George Armstrong and George Brigham, who have been released from jail on bonds, last night were assigned to duty again at the Omaha police department. Both Armstrong and Brigham are serving a penitentiary sentence for participating in the murder, but Commissioner Ringer and Chief Eberstein, apparently have not attached the slightest importance to the fact that their men less than a week ago participated in shooting down cold blood an innocent Omaha citizen.

Refuse to Comment

Both Commissioner Ringer and Chief Eberstein went to their offices last night refusing to comment on the situation. Approached yesterday morning, Mr. Ringer refused to issue a statement at 10 o'clock. He made an appointment to meet a reporter for The Bee this office. The police commissioner refused to keep his engagement. Chief Eberstein also elected to ignore the public in the matter. He refused to accept the interview and explain why the two officers were not suspended pending investigation of the serious charges which have been brought against Armstrong and Brigham. Police commissioner refused to investigate charges against other police officers, as has been the custom in similar cases by the city administration.

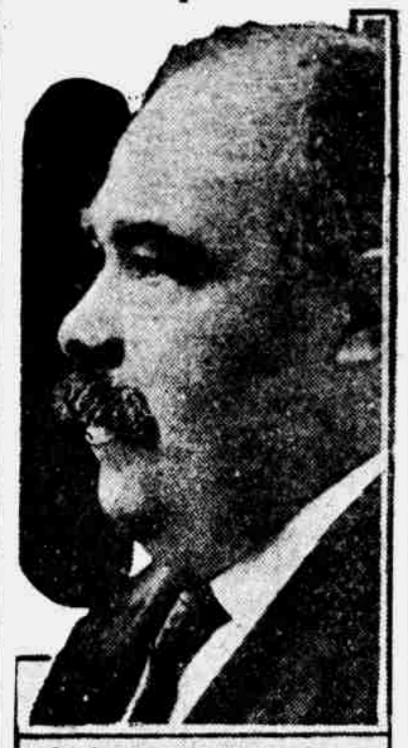

Negroes Meet Today.

An indignation meeting, actuated principally by just such methods on part of the heads of the department, will be held this afternoon at Johns church, North Twenty-second and Grant streets, to protest against the unlawful acts of the members of the Omaha police department. Demands will be made that the city administration to abolish the rough tactics of the police, the full penalty to be given the policemen who are guilty of the derelict of Eugene Scott and for the members of the morals squad to be mandated to hold in respect human life and human rights.

Wife Goes Back Home With Husband; Loves Chinaman

Although protesting her love for Gee Bing Yoo, Chinese, with whom she eloped from Chadron, Neb., to Council Bluffs, Mrs. Cloe Waltham was influenced by her husband, F. E. Waltham to return to their home at Chadron. The couple left for that city Friday afternoon. Yoo is being investigated by Immigration Inspector O. B. Holton, with a view of deporting him. Pending the outcome of the investigation he has been paroled to J. M. McFarland, an attorney.

Says Pershing Built Up Advertising Machine to Further Political Hopes

Washington, Sept. 6.—Explaining his recent vote against creating permanent rank for General Pershing as a reward for services in France, Representative Schall, republican, Minnesota, declared in the house Saturday that the officer had built up a personal advertising machine abroad and that his fame was due to "misinformation, hypocrisy and pretense."

He charged that General Pershing had political aspirations and had sought the endorsement of congress for use in this campaign.

VACATION ENDS FOR PUPILS IN OMAHA SCHOOLS

Studies Will Be Resumed Monday Morning With 1,000 Teachers to Welcome Children Back.

Willie will have to get up early Monday morning, shine his shoes, don a new shirtwaist, and then will have to pass an inspection by his mother to see whether he has washed his neck and face with the care which the occasion demands. The summer vacation, with all of its joys, has passed away, and the stern realities of school days will be here again.

Thousand Teachers Ready.

One thousand teachers will be at the schools to welcome the boys and girls back to their studies. The kindergarten departments of the elementary schools will be attended by many tots who will begin their long climb up the hill of knowledge on the morrow.

On account of the visit of President Wilson, the morning session will not be observed closely in schools near the route of the president's automobile ride. Other children who wish to see the president will be excused if accompanied by elders.

To Relieve Benson High.

A six-year course in the Benson high school will relieve the Benson West and Benson Central schools of the seventh and eighth grades. An extended program of medical inspection will be carried out this school year under the direction of Dr. E. T. Manning and Miss Charlotte Townsend, assisted by a staff of 18 nurses.

Teachers Need Rooms.

J. H. Beveridge, superintendent of schools, states that the crowded condition at the Dundee school will be relieved next month, when an annex will be ready for occupancy. One of the situations in connection with the opening of schools is the difficulty with which some teachers are getting themselves located. Many returned from their vacations to find the housing problem serious and rents advanced.

Mrs. Adams Denies Report That Husband Disappeared

Mrs. W. F. Adams, 3156 North Fifty-ninth street, states that there was no foundation for the report that her husband disappeared at the time of the disappearance of Miss Genevieve Keefe of Benson, two weeks ago.

Miss Keefe was found in a local convent last week and it was announced that she went there on the pretext that she was an orphan away from home. "Miss Keefe came to our home at 3 a. m. and my husband took her down town in an automobile, as she said that she wished to go to a hotel," said Mrs. Adams. "My husband then went on a business trip and did not know that his name had been associated with the affair until he returned home and was shown the newspaper articles. It is absurd to say that my husband disappeared, because he did not."

Stolen Diamonds Sell Cheap in Turk Capital

A wonderful opportunity in the near east for American business men. The Roumanians, he said, offer to pay 40 and 50 per cent of the bill for goods and ask 12 to 18 months' credit for the balance, but are willing to pay from 6 to 7 per cent interest, guaranteed by the strongest Roumanian banks. France is not an attractive market for American goods just now. Wheten said, as the French are not investing at present owing to the low rate of exchange. They are buying from "hand to mouth" and are waiting for the exchange to rise. Speaking of the near east Mr. Wheten warned American firms to get busy and send only the best men, well versed in finance and commerce, to do missionary work and re-establish business connections with these countries and to counteract German propaganda which he said was already beating American firms. "Just to show you how the Germans are working," he said, "I saw a letter in Milan sent out by a German firm to its former customers, stating that all prewar balances owed by the Italian customers had been cancelled and a clean slate started. "The Germans are offering goods at from nine to 12 months credit with no initial payment and with the present rate of exchange the mark being worth about six cents. This sort of thing Americans must fight. We need the biggest and best men to counteract it. There are few Americans in the near east. We are losing a wonderful opportunity of cornering this market. "In Roumania the greatest needs are hardware, interior house fixtures, boots, shoes, clothing and automobiles—not agricultural machinery, as the European peasant has no use for modern appliances."

Movie Man Gets Real "Close Up" of Wilson

Another youngster struggled through and presented Mrs. Wilson with a bunch of sweet peas. Her face wreathed in smiles, Mrs. Wilson expressed her appreciation. One of the "movie" men accompanying the presidential party got an unexpected chance for a "close-up" of the president when Secretary Tumulty helped him over the rail to the platform to take the surging crowd. After training his camera on the crowd the operator turned and got a good picture of the president as he stood chatting. "Here, stop that," Mr. Wilson said good naturedly, "you must not do that behind a man's back." He then came over and patted the "movie" operator on the back. All along the route patriotic decorations were much in evidence. On the slope of a railway cut near St. Joseph a family of country people had taken a vantage point to catch a glimpse of the president, one of the men struggling to hold an eight-foot American flag in a stiff breeze and all the others waving smaller flags as the presidential special rolled by. Mr. Wilson spent a part of the afternoon in the club car, where he talked over points in his speeches with the newspaper correspondents. He said he was satisfied with the treaty situation in the senate and was enjoying his trip. Every Persian who can read and write calls himself Khan, who has been to Mecca calls himself Haggi, and who claims descent from the prophet Samed, Said, or Syed.

Corn Belt Farm Land Prices Disproportionate, Is Warning

Washington, Sept. 6.—Farmers in Iowa and other corn belt states were warned Saturday by the Department of Agriculture to beware of speculators who have created a land boom in those states. "Prices of farming lands have risen with such rapidity that serious consequences may be expected, especially with the return of normal conditions, the department said."
