LEAGUE COMPROMISE LOOMS

PERSHING UNABLE TO MAINTAIN COMPOSURE IN WELCOME PARADE

America Meets American Commander-in-Chief Upon Arrival in New York with Perhaps the Greatest Ovation a Returning Hero Ever Received from United States Citizens — Voice Trembles with Emotion As He Responds to Greetings Extended.

New York, Sept. 8.—America welcomed General Pershing home today. Honored by foreign rulers and governments, the commander-in-chief of the mightiest army that ever fought its way to victory under the Stars and Stripes returned to his own folk to meet a greater honor than any foreign potentate or power could confer—the thanks of the world's greatest democracy to the man who had planned the decisive blow in democracy's supreme fight against tyranny.

His voice trembled with emotion as he responded to the greetings extended by Secretary of War Baker in his own behalf and that of the president as well as the welcoming address of representatives of the senate and house, the state and city.

As his car passed slowly through the cheering multitudes which jammed Broadway from the Battery to the city hall Pershing attempted in vain to maintain his composure. Always he replied to the cheers with stiff salutes of the officer. Rising to his feet he waved his cap above his head with a boyish gesture which told how deeply he was stirred, while the grim lines of his bronzed face broke into a smile which was as infectious as it was rare.

It was a proud moment for the great American soldier, but a proud moment remained. New York did not exhaust its welcome today; Wednesday he will ride down Fifth avenue at the head of the First division of the regular army, the first to go and last to leave and victors in the first battle ever fought on European soil by American soldiers.

Standing by and completely hidden by the imposing figure of the general, was a little boy trying to look very dignified and soldierly. He was "Sergeant" Warren Pershing, the commander-in-chief's only surviving child. When the general received his commission, he turned to his son and handed him the document which was his father's.

DEMOCRATIC SENATOR HINTS AT CONCESSIONS

Simmons Says He Will Suggest Compromise on "Conservative Reservations of an Interpretative Character."

Washington, Sept. 8.—(By The Associated Press.)—Marked indications of a compromise in the senate controversy over reservations to the league of nations covenant came today from both democratic and republican sources after Republican Leader Lodge had announced that the treaty would be reported to the senate Wednesday and probably be taken up for consideration next Monday.

Probably the most important development of the day was a statement to the senate by Senator Simmons of North Carolina, prominent in administration leadership, declaring "some of the concessions in the way of reservations will have to be made to secure its ratification."

POINDEXTER TALKS

Senator Poindexter, republican, Washington, in a two hour address, replied to statements of President Wilson in his speech-making tour.

In reply to the president's declaration that the league would end the war of American soldiers abroad, Mr. Poindexter called attention to the sending of American troops to Siberia and the reported plans to send others to Silesia and Armenia.

INTERVENTION IN MEXICO FOUGHT BY U. S. CLIQUE

Existence of Organized Propaganda Movement in America Established.

Washington, Sept. 8.—(By The Associated Press.)—Existence of an organized propaganda movement in the United States calculated to counteract any step toward armed intervention in Mexico was established at the first hearing Monday of the senate foreign relations subcommittee charged with investigating the Mexican situation.

Dr. Samuel Inman, an officer in the League of Free Nations association, and a former neighbor in Mexico of President Carranza, admitted under sharp cross-examination that his association had sent out literature aimed to quiet any demand for intervention by the United States in the southern republic.

Dr. Inman told the committee that American oil companies were expending large sums of money in an attempt to obtain intervention, but under cross-examination said he recently had been told that the oil interests were opposed to intervention.

During the cross-examination which followed his testimony Inman was subjected to sharp questioning by Senator Fall, New Mexico, chairman of the subcommittee and Senator Brandegee, Connecticut.

AUDITORIUM PACKED TO CAPACITY TO HEAR WILSON TALK ON PEACE

Crowd Cheers When President Declares if He Stood in Way of the Pact He Would Give His Life Gladly That it Might be Consummated—Overflow Through Stands in Street During Address to See Nation's Chief Executive Before His Departure from City.

Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States, and America's leading representative at the peace conference, offered his life for the sake of the peace covenant and the league of nations in his speech in the Omaha City Auditorium yesterday—the fifth speech made by him in his "swing around the circle" in the interest of the pact and its ratification, unreservedly by the senate of the United States.

PRO-GERMANISM AGAIN RAMPANT, WILSON ASSERTS

Chaotic Element Against "Steadying Hand" in U. S., He Says at Sioux Falls.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 8.—(By The Associated Press.)—Declaring that pro-Germanism again had lifted its head in this country, President Wilson declared in an address here Monday night that "every element of chaos" was hoping there would be no "steadying hand" placed on the world's affairs.

"I want to tell you," said the president, "that within the last two weeks the pro-German element in the United States again has lifted its head. This element saw a chance, he said, by keeping their nation out of the league of nations to make possible again what Germany had tried to do in the great war. It was a clean-cut issue, Mr. Wilson declared, between this new order or the old German order.

Declaring the peace treaty provisions for an international labor conference would give labor a new bill of rights, the president declared the treaty was a "laboring man's treaty" in the sense that it was a treaty drawn up for the benefit of the common people.

Settlements for Peoples. The political settlements themselves, said the president, were made for the peoples concerned. He asserted that the document laid down forever the principle that no territory ever had been governed except as the people who lived there wanted it governed.

"That is an absolute reversal of history," said the president, "and it's all in the league of nations." High taxes, a large standing army and a "military government in spirit" would be required, he said, "if the United States were to follow the advice of some men and 'stand by itself.'"
