List of Dry Goods to Be Sold at Army Sale Is Received in Omaha

Col G. S. Bingham, in charge of the Omaha zone surplus supply office, yesterday received a complete list of the dry goods stocks which will be on sale when the army store opens in the basement of the Auditorium on September 25. The list includes enormous quantities of wearing apparel and an almost complete stock of hardware. Blankets, boots, underclothing, leggins, hats, overalls, stockings, towels, gloves and shirts are among the list of clothing. The list which is classified as hardware includes. brooms, brushes, ash and garbage cans, flashlights, griddles, kettles, knives, lariats, picks, pencils, gar-den tools, spoons, stocks and dies, shovels and saddles.

No price list has been received at the Omaha zone supply office as yet, but one is expected soon. Colonel Bingham stated that he would telegraph Washington for the price list if it did not arrive this morning. He will also make further inquiry concerning the food which is to be shipped for the Omaha store.
