

Special Purchase of Best Aluminumware In Sale Saturday at Union Outfitting Co.

World Famed Painting Called "The Redeemer" on Exhibition Free to Public.

The Picture, Valued at $70,000, Is on Display This Week Only.

As every woman knows, that for health and cleanliness, economy and wear, there is nothing to equal Aluminum in the kitchen, it is safe to say that the Special Purchase, which the Union Outfitting Company places on sale next Saturday, will be well attended.

The sale is remarkable because of the excellent quality and the fact that the concessions in price made by the maker, on account of the purchase, will enable you to buy Aluminum ware at about the price of Granite ware.

If you love a kitchen made bright with Aluminum ware, you will also be interested in the great War Painting of Herbert de Mareau, who was killed in the fighting at Chateau Thierry.

It is a scene on a Belgian battlefield at eventide. In the foreground a French soldier is stretched prone on the battlefield and in the distance the sun is sinking to rest through the battle smoke. The painting is exhibited free.

The sale of Aluminum ware is additional evidence of the ever increasing Buying Power of the Union Outfitting Company, located just out of the High Rent District. As always, you make your own terms.

OPPOSITION TO POTASH MEASURE IS BOOMERANG

Expected Supplies From Europe Not Coming—Protective Bill Would Have Furnished Home Product.

By E. C. SNYDER (Staff Correspondent of Omaha Bee.)

Washington, Sept. 9.—(Special.)—Efforts made by opponents of the bill for the protection of the potash industry to keep it from being reported by the ways and means committee have brought about some results not contemplated, said Congressman Green of Iowa, Tuesday.

Expected Foreign Supply. "They have supposed that if the bill could be delayed the south and east would be able to lay in a large supply of cheap German potash at prices which prevailed before the war. In this they have been disappointed. So far, only a small amount of potash has been received from abroad and the price has been about double what prevailed prior to the war. What has been imported from Europe has come from the mines in Alsace, now in the possession of the French.

"In France, where production seems to be going on at a greater rate than in Germany, there is a great demand for potash, as the light French soils have had none for four years. It is not likely that any large amount of potash will come soon from France, if at all.

Cause a Shortage. "The result is that there is an impending shortage of potash and the fertilizer companies have with difficulty supplied their fall requirements, which are small compared to what they should have next spring. If the potash bill had been passed with the other tariff bills that have gone through the house the American factories would have been in full blast by this time. Some of them have started in a small way, stimulated by the prospect of a shortage, but they are not likely to continue unless some definite assurance can be given of the maintenance of prices.

Bitters Get Bitten. "Our soils that need potash will be insufficiently supplied next year. The whole situation is but another illustration of the error that is made in attempting to rely on foreign countries to supply products of which an adequate supply could be obtained in our country at a reasonable price if initial protection was given. It is likely that the prospect of a shortage will lessen the opposition to the bill which heretofore has been quite strong, not only on the democratic side, but in certain republican districts in the east."

Potash Production Plant at Lakeside Destroyed by Fire

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 9.—Word reached here today that one of the state's largest potash production plants was destroyed by fire at Lakeside, Neb., a few days ago, with a loss of more than $500,000. Spontaneous combustion of coal caused the fire. The plant was owned by Heber Hord of Central City.

FLASHES from FILMLAND

"THE PERFECT LOVER," with Eugene O'Brien in the lead, is attracting capacity houses at the Strand. Manager Harry Watts has made some records in big business. Norma Talmadge holds the foremost place, but there is every reason to believe that Eugene O'Brien will top it. This is the last day, today, and if you are anxious to see one of the best pictures of his kind, this will be your last opportunity. The star, the cast, the settings, the direction, is of the highest order. The last part of the week will be seen Dorothy Gish in "Nobody Home," this should prove to be another big draw for this house.

Brandeis—"Yankee Doodle in Berlin," is still drawing capacity houses. The comedy has the best Sennett comedians, Ben Turpin, Chas. Murray, Chas. Conklin and Marie Prevost. Everybody is charmed by the graceful Mack Sennett Girls.

Muse—"13th Chair," with Creighton Hale and Yvonne DeLo in the leads, "the most wonderful mystery play ever produced." Madame Medusa the Medium is at each performance and gives private reading during the day at the theater.

Moon—"Gladys Brockwell in 'Broken Commitments,' a heavy drama. The sympathy is for 'Sporting Chance' Astin, an escaped convict, but a man at heart, played by William Scott, who gives a good performance. 'When Doctors Disagree' will be seen the last part of the week.

South Side Automobile Tire Robbers Are Given Fines of $100 Each

Jess Eckford, 1715 South Twenty-fourth street, and George Herald, 2319 Harney street, who are alleged to have been stealing automobile tires on a wholesale scale during the past two months, were each fined $100 and costs Tuesday in the South Side police court.

The arrests were made Saturday, following the recovery last week of 31 stolen tires in a shed belonging to Frank Skrupa, 4515 South Twenty-sixth street, who has been arrested and charged with receiving and concealing stolen property.

Plan to Clean Trucks for Handling of Return Loads

A plant for cleaning trucks used to haul live stock to the local market in order that return loads may be handled by the same machines is being urged by a number of truck drivers. Truck shipping has grown rapidly during the last few years, but has been handicapped by lack of facilities to prepare them for handling return loads, it is said.

AT THE THEATERS

Laura Pierpont is pleasantly amusing as the French girl in "An American Ace," the headline attraction this week at the Orpheum. In this melodrama originally produced by Lincoln J. Carter and adapted for vaudeville by Taylor Granville, she is starting with him over the Orpheum circuit. One of the telling scenes is a plane battle above the clouds. Another is the scene showing the Americans going over the top. There is a rich assortment of other acts on the bill. A feature that scores a hit is the piano comedy of Herschel Henlere.

Michael Feeley's acrobatics during the first act of "The Bon Tons" at the popular Gayety this week are of such a hazardous nature that one is privileged to wonder whether he will live to present his feats at the following performance. He propels his body through space like an airplane making a nose dive. But he doesn't light on his nose; he lands on the top of his head and it's only a question of time before he breaks his neck at the pastime. Ladie's matinee at 2:15 daily all week.

Today marks the closing of the engagement of the Capps family at the Empress theater, where this octette of entertainers have delighted the little folks and made the old ones feel young again. The kiddies contribute individual specialties that are altogether worth while. The closing number shows all six children offering homage to their parents. The Quaker City quartette, known on the circuit as "The Singing Blacksmiths," headline the new show which opens tomorrow.

Alexander. The lure of the unknown, the charm of mystery are promised in the forthcoming visit to Omaha of Alexander, the original "man who knows," who will sponsor his own show of wonders for six days at the Brandeis theater, commencing next Monday night, September 15th. This will be the mystic's initial appearance in Omaha, the only city in the state to be played this season.

IT IS true that the sheer beauty of the Liberty has taken the style centres of the country by storm.

But Liberty success is infinitely more than a fashionable vogue, because it is built on performance, even more than beauty of design. New York is no more enthusiastic over the graceful lines of the Liberty, than the wonderful smoothness of its performance. And New York is no more enthusiastic over either, or both, than this community of our own.
