

FOUR PERSONS INJURED ON CITY THOROUGHFARES

One Girl Struck by Street Car and Another by Motor Car; Two Men Hurt in Automobile Smash.

Glady Moran, 5 years old, 3117 Glover street, was seriously injured yesterday, when she was run down by a south-bound Hanscom park street car at Thirty-second avenue and Frederick street. According to eye witnesses of the accident, the child stepped directly in front of the car and was dragged more than 20 feet.

A passerby carried the child into his automobile and took her to the Wise Memorial hospital, where attending physicians declared she suffered a fracture of the skull, a badly injured right foot, fracture of both kneecaps and a disfigured face. She was operated on at once.

According to the police, the little girl was on her way home from the Windsor school, Thirty-fourth avenue and Martha street.

Child Run Down.

L. J. Reese of Red Oak, Ia., was arrested yesterday by Detective Ransom after the motor car which he was driving had struck and slightly injured Wilson Martin, 12 years old, 2755 Capitol avenue, at Twenty-sixth and Farnam streets. Mr. Reese, according to witnesses, attempted to drive away following the accident but was arrested at Twenty-eighth and Farnam streets by the detective. He is charged with reckless driving and running down a child. He was held without bond.

Two Men in Smash.

Michael J. Foley, 2402 30th street, and William Monahan, 3010 Davenport street, were seriously injured yesterday afternoon, when an automobile in which they were riding south on Turner boulevard was struck by a westbound Farnam street car.

Both men were taken to the Nicholas Senn hospital. Mr. Foley suffered a fractured left jaw, a broken right arm and other injuries. Mr. Monahan was severely hurt though doctors have not as yet determined the exact nature of his injuries.

Motorcyclist Injured.

Roy Anderson, 2709 Dodge street, suffered a fractured shoulder and body bruises at 5 o'clock last night when the motorcycle on which he was riding with Elmer Jackson, 2018 Davenport street, collided with an automobile driven by Harry Robinson, 2114 California street, at the corner of Twenty-eighth street and Capitol avenue. Robinson was arrested and charged with reckless driving and violating rules of the road. Jackson was slightly bruised.

LARGE AUDIENCES ENJOY CLARENCE EDDY'S RECITALS

Dean of American Organists to Open Musical Season in Omaha.

The musical season was inaugurated with dignity yesterday when Clarence Eddy, dean of American organists, gave two recitals at the Kautze Memorial church. The happy occasion which brought this favorite organist to Omaha again was the presentation of the new organ recently installed. The instrument is an excellent one with modern action, the console equipped with every appointment for the convenience of the performer. Of its many stops the Vox Humane and Clarinet are perhaps the most admirable. Needless to say, Mr. Eddy (who, by the way, seems to be in league with the powers of eternal youth) made the most of its many possibilities. While there were moments of profundity, his two programs held much of a light character, as befitted the season.

The big numbers of the afternoon program were the Borowski Sonata and the brilliant Concert Variations by Bonnet. "Hosana," by Dubois; Eddy's own arrangement of the familiar Russian Boatman's Song and a wondrous "Basso Ostinato," by Arensky, while less taxing for both performer and listener, were most thoroughly enjoyable.

"Mannin" from the "Magnificat Suite," by Dett, found instant favor and was repeated by request in the evening.

The evening concert opened with the impressive Prelude and Fugue by Bach, in which the composer's own name furnishes the theme, the tones B, A, C and H, one of the simplest and grandest of themes. Pietro Yon, from whom we have come to expect good things as a matter of course, was represented on the program by a "Diversion" called "Hope," full of fascinating harmonies and delicate effects. "Evening Harmonies," by Karg-Elert, evidently a favorite of Mr. Eddy, was curious in that its Wagneresque progressions ended quite unexpectedly in a passage of French chords. "Neptune," by Stouton, was a rousing festival march with a well contrasted middle section. One simple carol, "The Holy Boy," by Ireland, must linger in the listeners' memory as a pure gem.

To comment upon the playing of Mr. Eddy would be superfluous. Suffice it to say that he has lost none of his force as an interpreter. His readings are vivid and his magnetism is marked. The two large audiences which assembled yesterday were most responsive, a fact which was noted and appreciated by the great organist.

Glasgow Retains Direct Action

Glasgow, Sept. 11.—By a comparatively close vote the trades union congress in session here today voted down a resolution declaring against the principle of direct action. The vote was 2,255,000 against the resolution, to 2,086,000 in its favor.

AT THE THEATERS

HERE is good news for playgoers: The Boyd theater will be utilized a few weeks longer before being razed for high class shows, the opening date being Richard Carle in "Sunshine" September 26-27. Stuart Walker's company, presenting "Seventeen," is to appear at the Boyd theater for the week of October 12. If for no other reason than this, patrons will be glad that the playhouse is to endure a while longer, even if it does not last for the entire dramatic season. The site, as everybody knows, is presently to be utilized for a new building to be added to the Burgess-Nash store.

The following Schubert attractions, however, have been booked for the autumn: The first is the "Seven Days," which is being offered in Her Sleep," which will be the offering in Ak-Sar-Ben week. The engagement opens September 28 and closes October 1.

Next after that comes "Seventeen," the charming play dramatized from the story by Booth Tarkington. Last season this attraction was booked here when the influenza closed all the theaters. Again at Christmas time the company was scheduled to appear, but at the last minute the engagement was canceled.

The musical comedy, "I Love You," is to come October 23, 24 and 25. This is to be followed by the big melodrama, "Seven Days' Leave," which is booked for October 26, 27, 28 and 29.

One of the biggest attractions set on tour by the Schuberts, "The Passing Show of 1918," is to be the attraction late in October, with Eugene and Willie Howard being two of the conspicuous favorites in the immense cast.

No war play shown at the Orpheum has aroused the enthusiasm which is evoked by "An American Ace," the big melodrama which is on view this week. With a cast of 17 people, headed by Taylor Graville and Laura Pierpont, and presented in 11 scenes with a carload of striking stage effects, the thrilling stage story is elaborately produced. Three other acts of the current show score emphatic hits. One is the travesty act done by Jack Durham and Sammy Edwards. Another is the piano comedy of Herschel Henleer, still another is the startling gymnastic feature presented by European equilibrist known as the Three Jahns.

Today George Douglass, John Barry and their merry associates, "The Hon. Tom," who have done so much toward making Merchants' market week a grand success, will give their two final performances at the popular Gavety. Tomorrow matinee, "The Million Dollar Dolls," whom Omaha was deprived of seeing last season because of the flu shut down, will open a week's engagement. Cliff Bragdon, Ede Mae and Scottie Friedell head the organization. Ladies' matinee today and tomorrow.

The Quaker City quartet at the Empress fully sustain their reputation. Their "Forge" number from "Robin Hood" is put over with all the fire and ambition of four lusty blacksmiths. Another number that proves a big hit is the patriotic song entitled "America Never Took Water," which at the present period is most appropriate.

Alexander, the original, "The Man Who Knows," student of the occult and the deliver into psychical research, and his show of wonders, will commence next Monday night, September 15, at the Brandeis theater and continue six days, with a ladies' matinee on Friday and a general matinee on Saturday.

E. S. Waterbury Addresses Wholesale Credit Men

E. S. Waterbury of Morris & Co., Chicago, addressed the regular monthly meeting of the Omaha wholesale credit men at the Hotel Fontenelle last night. He spoke in opposition to the government regulation of industries, as defeating the purpose for which it was intended—to reduce living costs.

The solution of the readjustment of prices, he contended, was to increase production, holding that prices are all regulated by the law of supply and demand. Strikes and the formation of regulation bureaus by the government, employing thousands of able-bodied workers, he said, were the principal factors in keeping up high prices.

Canadians and British Organize Maple Leaf Club

Former members of the Canadian and British forces in this city, all casuals, many of them veterans of three years of warfare, organized the Maple Leaf club at a meeting at the Army and Navy club last night. The new club is now composed of 16 members.

Resolutions, seeking affiliation with the Great War Veterans' association of Britain and Canada, were passed. It is probable that a charter will be received by the local organization in the near future, according to J. H. Neilson, 4368 Burdette street, who was chosen secretary.

Admission of "Enemy" Delegates Up to Labor

Paris, Sept. 11.—The supreme council has decided to let the international labor conference, which meets at Washington in October, decide for itself whether German and Austrian delegates be admitted.

The Italian delegation was anxious to have the council authorize the admission of those delegates, but the other delegations preferred to have the Washington conference decide the matter.

Building Ties in Chicago Expected to End Today

Chicago, Sept. 11.—After seven weeks of tie-up by a strike of carpenters and a lockout of allied trades, Chicago's building industry will be resumed tomorrow and be in full swing by Monday, according to reports.

The carpenters are to resume work at 92½ cents an hour until May, 1920, when they will be placed on the same wage basis existing for other skilled trades.

EPISCOPALIANS HOLD "WAKE-UP" MEETING HERE

Bishop Hulse of Havana, Cuba, and Other Speakers Leave for North Platte Conference.

The regional conference of the Episcopal church, held in Omaha, closed last night with a mass meeting in Trinity cathedral at which addresses were made by distinguished clergymen, laymen and women. Bishop Richard Hulse of Havana, Cuba; Rev. George Long, executive secretary of the church's midwest province, and Philip J. Knapp left at midnight last night for North Platte where a regional conference of the western Nebraska churches will be held today.

Bishop Hulse last night declared that the present nation-wide campaign of the church is the most important thing now being done by the church.

Wake-Up Movement.

"This is a 'wake-up' movement," he said. "The enemies of Christianity make that one of their principal arguments—that the church is asleep. It is not true. The church necessarily uses different methods from wide-awake business. The church may profit by borrowing ideas from business and applying these ideas toward the realization of the ideals of Christianity."

"Such is the object of the present great survey of the 'stock' of the church. We will see what material we have in men, women and money and will then apply it toward doing the work that God would have us do in the present-day world."

Women in Campaign.

Mrs. Arthur Goldsmith of St. Paul spoke on woman's part in the campaign. "Besides active work the Christian women can help by prayer," she said. "The spiritual side of a movement like this is the most wonderful of all. What the most perfect business methods cannot perform, God, through prayer, can perform. The strong faith and the earnest prayers of Christian women are the strongest powers in the world."

Bishop Remington of South Dakota and Rev. George Long of Milwaukee, Wis., were other speakers.

Bishop Hulse Speaks.

Yesterday was an extremely busy day for the Episcopal clergy of this diocese. The conference continued all day at the Trinity parish house, 1716 Dodge street. Bishop Hulse spoke at the morning meeting.

"The nation-wide campaign of the church now going on is showing the people their responsibilities and teaching them their ability to shoulder those responsibilities," said the bishop. "The primary purpose of the campaign is not to raise any money, but to inspire and inform Episcopalians regarding the church's activities and to mobilize all the church's resources in men, women and money for the expansion and continuance of these activities, particularly in missions, religious education and social service."

Administers Holy Communion.

Holy communion was administered by Bishop Hulse in Trinity cathedral just before the opening of the conference.

Philip J. Knapp spoke yesterday on "Facts Up-to-Date." He stated that 24 dioceses have sent in completed surveys to the national headquarters.

"We are taking stock of the church and its resources," he said, "and we are going to apportion the work to be done to the people in proportion as they are able to do it."

Big Handkerchief Sale Takes Place Next Saturday at Union Outfitting Co.

Annual September Sale Fur Coats, Scarfs, Muffs and Sets in Progress.

Sale Prices Are 20% Below What You Will Have to Pay Later On.

Just how much the Special Purchase Sale of Women's Handkerchiefs, which takes place at the Union Outfitting Company next Saturday, means in money saving is apparent when one realizes they can be purchased for less than similar qualities cost wholesale today.

The majority are fancy handkerchiefs with pretty pink, blue and lavender borders with one corner daintily embroidered.

The September Fur Sale is also of considerable interest, as the savings are particularly noteworthy. In addition to the low regular prices, there is a further reduction of 20 per cent.

Those furs which promise greatest popularity this winter can be had in a wide range of handsome muffs, neckpieces and sets.

These timely, money-saving events in the enlarged Cloak and Suit department are merely outward evidence of the ever-growing Buying Power of the Union Outfitting Company.

No transaction is ever considered completed until the customer is thoroughly satisfied. And, as always, you make your own terms.

UNIONS PLEDGE SUPPORT IN S. A. DRIVE IN OMAHA

Representatives of Laboring Men Promise Substantial Aid to Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army was assured of whole-hearted support in its coming drive for $512,000 by organized labor at a dinner last night in the University club. Presidents and secretaries of Central Labor union bodies and of practically all the labor unions in the city were present, and several of them spoke.

The principal speaker was Brig. Gen. A. B. Peebles of Des Moines, Salvation Army divisional officer. He told of the work that the organization has done in the past and of its record during the war, and made a survey of the coming drive, which will be made from September 21 to 27.

Col. Amos Thomas, who returned recently from overseas, presided. He spoke of the work of the Salvation Army with the United States army in France in the highest terms.

President Tolliver of the Omaha Central Labor union declared that a campaign is being worked out by organized labor for definite work during the big drive, and said there isn't a union man who will fail to contribute substantially.

T. P. Reynolds, president of the State Federation of Labor; Amos Bigelow and John L. Kennedy were also among the speakers.

Heads of Boiler Company Discharged in Police Court

C. G. Johnson and Louis Johnson, heads of the Johnson Boiler company, Eighteenth and Mason streets, arrested Wednesday, charged with attempting to do bodily injury to William A. Angell, labor organizer, were discharged in police court yesterday. Mr. Angell testified that the Johnson brothers while driving an automobile tried to run into him at Eleventh and Farnam streets, two days ago.

Mudge Strong Box Opened By Sheriff On Order of Judge

One $5 war savings stamp and two cancelled insurance policies comprised the total contents of the safety deposit box of Clifford C. Mudge in the United States National bank vault. The box was opened yesterday by Sheriff Clark, accompanied by G. A. Muffling, Mrs. Mudge's attorney. District Judge Sears made the order for the opening of the box Wednesday.

Mrs. Mudge came here from her home in Chicago August 9 in search of her husband. She traced him to suite 101, St. Regis apartments, where he was living with his "affinity," Miss Frances Reene of McPherson, Kan. They were known as Mr. and Mrs. Don Wallace. They learned of the coming of Mr. Mudge's wife and fled before her arrival, and Mrs. Mudge has not been able to get trace of them.

Judge Sears ordered the furniture in the apartment sold. It is estimated to be worth $2,000. He gave Mrs. Mudge an order for $75 a month from the property of her husband that she can find here. She says a large sum is due him from the Urdike Grain Co.

Bank Changes Hands.

Fullerton, Neb., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—W. H. Hatten, for the past 21 years vice president and cashier of the Fullerton National bank, sold his interest in the institution to A. G. Arrasmith, for the past 20 years connected with the Griswold, Ia., National bank, 15 years of which was as cashier. Mr. Arrasmith will be cashier of the Fullerton bank.

Experiments by government experts have shown that sugar beets can be successfully grown in Ireland.

Omaha Men Appeal Order Forfeiting Bond of $500

Lincoln, Sept. 11.—Frank Ceriscenello and Emmanuel N. Cerney, both of Omaha, today filed an appeal in the Nebraska supreme court from a judgment for $1,000 with interest, which the Douglas county district court entered against them in favor of the state of Nebraska.

Ceriscenello was arrested on the charge of robbery in Omaha and Cerney went his bond for $500. When the trial was called Ceriscenello did not appear and the bond was declared forfeited. The men ask that the judgment be set aside.

Improve Beatrice Streets.

Beatrice, Neb., Sept. 11.—(Special.)—Thirty property owners along Fifth street held a meeting and voted to purchase 10 electrofluo posts for five blocks on that thoroughfare. The city has agreed to install the posts and connect up the lights.

For the convenience of parents of infants, a combined rocking chair and cradle has been patented.

Hogs On Omaha Market Drop Another Dollar; May Decline to $12

Hogs on the Omaha market yesterday took another slump of $1, following a decline of $1 Wednesday. The market today reached the lowest level of the year with a low price of $15. Commission men predict a drop to $12 within the next week. The average price yesterday was about $16.00. Buying was very slow. Only about 6,000 head of hogs were received on the Omaha market.

Continued agitation against the high cost of living and cessation of the eastern demand are given as the chief causes for the decline.

When troubled with pains in the stomach or diarrhoea give Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy a trial. It is excellent.
