

ENEMY ALIENS TUNNEL OUT OF FORT DOUGLAS

Between 7 and 17 Make Escape Beneath Wire Enclosure of Prison.

By The Associated Press.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 15.—Between seven and 17 enemy alien prisoners at the war prison barracks at Fort Douglas, near here, escaped early today by way of a tunnel constructed underneath the wire enclosure of the prison. An early check of those missing indicates that none of the important prisoners escaped.

According to Col. George R. Ryan, there were 207 prisoners in the compound, most of them of the I. W. W. class. Police and sheriffs throughout the state have been warned to watch for the escaped men.

Reports from Ogden said several suspects had been rounded up by the police there, but none yet identified as escaped from the war prison.

The tunnel through which the men made their escape extended for 80 feet beyond the wire enclosure of the compound and was dug six feet below the surface. Its construction completely escaped detection, no trace having been found of the dirt removed.

Search for the men is being made throughout the intermountain country.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

"THE MIRACLE MAN," at the Rialto, has broken this theater's own record. Seldom does a thing grip as does this motion picture. It is a picture of crooked lives made straight, of sordid lives made bright by the wholesome sway of the country and an old man's trust in men. No propaganda, no creed. A vivid, vital story of human hearts, told on the screen in scenes of marvelous variety. Driving ahead with action that grips and holds. Softened with humor so true that it laughs with mankind, so deep that it starts the tears.

Strand—Clara Kimball Young in "The Better Wife" is a story of an American girl who goes to England and there becomes acquainted with Sir Richard Beverly and his family. Charman Page, the American girl, immediately falls in love with the baronet's little boy, and when his mother is killed in an automobile accident Sir Richard grows to love Charman, but refrains because of the memory of his first wife till he learns she was not deserving of his love, and the American as the second Lady Beverly is actually the better wife. Nigel Barrie as the English baronet gives a very finished performance. The exterior scenes are beautifully chosen, some of them are magnificent. Katherine Williams, Lilian Walker, Irving Cummings and Edward Kimball are also in support.

Sun—"Sahara," with Louise Glaum, is the story of an extravagant wife who goes through her husband's money. Being an engineer, he gets a position to go to Egypt, where she finds herself on the desert, miles away from everyone. A Russian comes along and she leaves her husband and child. The husband becomes a dope fiend, and along with his little boy he goes to Cairo.

ie Chaplin as the wayward daughter, while her sister is an invalid, being nursed by her mother, who does everything she can to make home pleasant, but this girl doesn't want the sort of home she has. She seeks society, gets into a house party and there sees the emptiness of it all, and we see her going home, content to stay and also content with her real boyish lover.

Moon—Olive Thomas in "Love's Prisoner," plays a dual role and is convincing as a thief and a charity worker. She turns from her life of deceit and we see her as a woman whose slumbering sense of right and wrong is awakened by love. The support is adequate, the exteriors are well chosen and the interior scenes are satisfactory.

Empress—The return of Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne to the screen in a strong, stirring picture of love and adventure was not only refreshing but a rare treat, and a full house greeted the showing of the feature, "Daring Hearts," at the Empress yesterday.

Mayor Smith Hopes to Have Another Sale at Municipal Store

Mayor Smith yesterday expressed the hope that he may be able to obtain enough War department's surplus stock of tools before September 25 to make it possible to operate his municipal store during October. The War department issued an order stating that no supplies will be sold to municipalities after September 25. The mayor is now endeavoring to dispose of a lot of unissued army surplus groceries which was left over from the last municipal store sale in the Auditorium. These left-over goods are being sold in hallway space in the city hall, adjoining the city clerk's office.

Butler Opposes Jail Bond Election Called for Nov. 4

The city council committee of the whole yesterday reported favorably a resolution calling a special election November 4 to vote on $100,000 of bonds to assist in the construction of a city jail building. Commissioner Butler spoke against the proposal. "We have nearly $75,000 now on hand for this purpose," he said. "That is enough to build a police administration building, which is all we need. The people ought not to be asked to put up money for an unnecessary structure to cost nearly $200,000."
