will evolve about Captain Dobso back, it is thought. The new Husk-er "beef trust," Freddie Dale of Hartington, (203 lbs. net) who is out for end, is figured as a possible fullback. Hartley, last year's vet, is not eligible, having played under S. A. T. C. rules. Scheellenberg, veteran back, may go to quarter. Howarth, veteran quarter of '18, may stick, however. Two other whirlwind possibilities for the generalship of the 1919 eleven are Dick Neuman of Columbus, and McGlasson of Lincoln. The latter returned only last week from service in France, where he earned the Croix de Guerre and the Distinguished Service Cross, in action. Neuman was an all-state basket ball guard and forward of 1916.

Veterans Bolster Line.

Wilder, end; Day, center, and Hubka, tackle, all veterans of the powerful 1917 team, returned during the week lending the final bar of stability to the Cornhusker hopes. Possibilities are that each will assume their old positions on the line. Dana may go to the other end, Swanson, Ray and Lyman to the other tackle. Johnny Collins, fast South Omaha who are out for wing positions. Guards will be amply provided. The four games scheduled for October-Iowa, Minnesota, Notre Dame and Oklahoma-are conceded considerable program, perhaps the hardest ever faced by a "big league" grid team. That three of them are to be played away from home at lowa City, Minneapolis and Omaha, is an added worry. Schulte, however, optimistic. "We'll make a jab, anyway," he says.

Defeat Gophers Slogan Defeat of the Gophers will be followed by an uninterrupted string of victories, it is claimed; befeat by Minnesota would bring disaster. The latter is surrounded by a corps of grid warriors of the east. The New York school, it is said, will have to be reckoned with in the settlement of the eastern championship.

Since Anton Stecher made the re-! mark recently that his brother, Joe, would meet Marin Plestina for $25,-000 J. C. Marsh, Plestina's manager, has been trying in some way to meet the figure and arrange the match. Marsh has finally put it up

May Be Third League.

Unless organized base ball rids itself of the stout octopus there is more than a possibility that there will be a third big league. The men behind the fight to oust Ban Johnson have the money and the courage to enter upon this project. Also they have some first-hand knowl-edge of the Johnson methods in trying to crush oppositions, which coupled with a knowledge of base ball and a sincerity of purpose should augur success. And they will have the base ball fans behind them.

It was Johnson who introduced trust methods and trust talk into base ball, making it more commerce than sport. People are beginning to distrust organized base ball as it is being manipulated today. The game itself is clean and has kept free from scandal. There is no reason why the management of base ball should not be just as clean as the game itself. The owners who have thrown down the gauntlet to Johnson will fight until it is. If the old leagues cannot be cleansed they will start a new league.

Good Time for Reform.

This is as good a time as any to reform base ball from the top. The frequently discussed rehabilitation of the National commission, the ruling body in base ball, should be brought about this year. The chairman of the National commission should be a man who is not inter ested in any club or in any league. As the commission stands today i cannot hope to have the confidence of the fans.

People who go to see base ball

ames are not particularly interested in the personne! of the National commission, but they want to know that the National commission is composed of men who will act not for any particular interest or groups of interests, but for the good of base ball. The body as it now stands is not competent to make disinterested decisions for base ball. The longer the reorganization of the commission is delayed the worse it will be for base ball.

A game-getting gun for the cruiser_camper_tramper

MODEL 94. Lever action repeating rifle, solid frame or take-down, 28-inch barrel. Made for .25-35 Winchester, .30 Winchester, .33 Winchester Special, .32-40 and .38-55 cartridges.

HUNTING PARTY, penetrating the jungles of Africa, usually carries in tow a small armory of rifles, shotguns and pistols. The black native acts as porter, carrying an assortment of guns from which the white master chooses according to the nature of the shot.

But the cruiser - camper - tramper of America who travels "light," wants just one rifle in his layout. That rifle must serve all purposes, for his game may one day be a deer; another day a bear. Nor will the hunter want an elephant gun in his hands for that occasional shot when some small game runs across his path. The cartridge must be heavy enough to bring down big game, and inexpensive enough to use freely on small animals.

carry and speedy to handle. It is a sure game-getter, accurate vary with the cartridge and bore. In even for birds, powerful enough for America's biggest game. It has been estimated that during the last ten years more deer and other big game have been killed by the famous Winchester Model 94, .30 caliber, than by any other combination of rifle and cartridge.

In addition to being chambered for its famous .30 caliber cartridge, the Winchester Model 94 can be had chambered for the .25-35 Winchester. This is an excellent cartridge for such small game as wild geese and turkeys, and yet powerful enough for deer and black bear. For greater power, the rifle may be cham-bered for the .32 Winchester Special. The Model 94 is also chambered for another group of cartridges-the .32-40 and .38-55.

Boring, chambering and rifling

The barrels are bored to micrometer measurements for the cartridge they are meant to shoot. The most accurate precision instruments are used to produce perfect chambering and ball-seating in the chamber. There is no play for the cartridge; it is a perfect fit - insuring maximum accuracy and velocity.
