Fashion Dispatch

(By Fairchild Fashion Service.) (Special Cable to The Bee.)

Paris—Ostrich feathers being very much in vogue, it is not surprising that the prices brought in the Paris market have reached a top notch price. Raw ostrich of the finest grade has sold as high as 1,500 francs or in other words about three times as much as was paid at the New York sales. At the same time, while New York prices are very much lower than the foreign rates, they are increasing more rapidly. The demand is almost entirely for the better grades and, while there has been a very serious shortage of labor, it is reported that workers attracted by higher wages elsewhere are returning.

It is predicted that with prices soaring as they are and the demand increasing for feathers, prices here will soon reach the high figures of Paris, London and the Cape.

Lovelorn

BY BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

Ask Her.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I have been reading your "Advice to the Lovelorn" and think it good, so come to you for advice. I am a youth of 20, and I know of a young lady who seems to be fond of me, but she is going with another young man at the present. Do you think it would be safe for me to take her out, too. I am waiting for your advice. I am, H. R. M.

The girl has the privilege of choosing her friends and if she is not betrothed to the young man you mention, ask her if you may call.

Pickle Wife.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I have written to you once before for advice and received it. This time my case is quite difficult. I am a married woman, 24 years old. I am in love with a single man, 26 years old. He writes me love letters and tries to persuade me to divorce my husband and marry him. I know he loves me because he has proven it to me several times. I knew him before I married, but would not accept him because I did not know whether he was worthy or not. He has money and can give me everything I want. My husband is 10 years my senior and does not like to go out evenings or to theaters, or doesn't want company to come to our home. Hoping to see my letter in print Saturday in evening paper with answer, I remain, ELLEN BELVA DAYTON.

P. S.—I have no children.

I find it very hard to be patient with a woman of your type, for you are selfish in the extreme. You are not only preparing to bring your husband sorrow, but you are robbing another of a prospective mate. You must certainly have known your husband's characteristics before you married him and you were old enough to realize what you were doing. Abide by your choice and make him as happy as you can, forgetting the other man, whose attitude is so despicable that he would not make you happy very long. To get a delicious creamy fudge the butter should not be added until the fudge is done.

MORRIS

Supreme Marigold

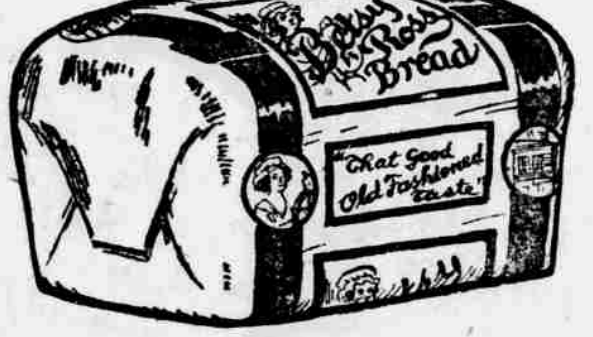

It's delicious for eating and for cooking—Morris Supreme Marigold Oleomargarine.

Try it spread thick on bread; there's nothing more pure and wholesome, and you save at least 15 cents on each pound. It's equally good as a shortening in baking.

Like all Morris Supreme products, Marigold comes packed under the yellow and black label. Request this brand when you buy oleomargarine. Two kinds: Marigold and Nut Marigold.

Wrapped at the Bakery

Why should we take such care to make BETSY ROSS Bread clean if we took no care to insure its reaching you clean? We know you want to buy it clean and that's why we seal it in its special waxed-paper wrapping. The dust and dirt are kept out. Flies cannot touch it. You remove the wrapper to find a loaf clean and inviting in appearance and tempting in taste and delightful in its freshness. You know it has been protected against careless handling and against drying out.

BETSY ROSS is wrapped by wonderful machines, to which the loaves are carried on endless, moving belts after they come from the oven and are properly cooled. These machines wrap the bread and seal the paper perfectly with wax, more rapidly and in a more cleanly way than by hand-wrapping.
