

KELLY GIVES HIMSELF UP TO OMAHA POLICE

Makes No Mention of Reported Offer of Pardon If He Would Repudiate Statement.

The elusive Roy Kelly, 1607 Laird street, sought by police for the past six months, introduced himself to Chief of Police Eberstein at 11:30 yesterday and several minutes later was taken to the police station, charged with being an inmate of a disorderly house. The chief of police personally escorted Kelly to the station.

My name's Roy Kelly, chief. I'm tired of keeping out of your tracks. Here I am.

Grew Out of Brown Raid.

The specific charge against Kelly grew out of his escape from the clutches of Detectives Herdzina and Armstrong the night of June 6 during an unlawful raid conducted by the officers on the Brown flats on North Twenty-first street.

Kelly stated that he has been out of the city during the past three weeks, "just to get a little air." He made no mention this morning of the offer of clemency made to him by "higher ups" in the police department if he would submit to arrest and repudiate the statement he signed declaring that the raid on the Brown flats was a frame-up between the detectives and himself. This statement was published in The Bee.

Was Sent Word.

It is known, however, that Kelly, who is under parole from Kearney, was sent word that if he would repudiate his statement he would not be sent back to prison, or if he was it would be only for a short time. Just who this word came from has not yet been definitely ascertained.

Declared Not Disorderly.

Despite the fact that the Brown flats were declared not disorderly by Judge Holmes following the raid and mistreatment of Mrs. Brown by the morals squad officers, Chief of Police Eberstein nevertheless issued orders to his men to "bring in Roy Kelly."

But despite this order, Kelly remained at large and went his way at his pleasure until he decided to surrender.

Says Allowed to Escape.

In police court yesterday Kelly said: "I don't understand the charge against me. The officers allowed me to escape from the Brown flats."

"Since then, I have learned from numerous sources that Mr. Eberstein wanted to see me. It was sure easy going keeping out of his tracks."

Because Officers Herdzina and Armstrong were not in court to appear against Kelly, his case was set over until Saturday. He was released under $100 bonds.

Episcopalians Meet to Plan on National Meet

A committee composed of bishops, priests and laymen, representing the provincial synod of the northwest of the Episcopal church, met at the office of the diocese of Nebraska, 1716 Dodge street, yesterday to make plans for a nationwide campaign to be presented to the general convention which will be held at Detroit in October.

Among those attending the meeting were the Rev. Irving Johnson, bishop of Colorado; Rev. E. E. Kiehlbocker, Red Wing, Minn.; Rev. Garfield Walker, Devils Lake, N. D.; Rev. Arthur Lewis, Oskaloosa, Ia.; Very Rev. E. H. Woodruff, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Bishop Henry, Des Moines, Ia.; Bishop Shaylor and Dean Tancock of Omaha.

Auto Ride With Two Men Expensive for Women

Two unidentified men in an automobile inveigled Mrs. A. L. Walker of Glenwood, Ia., and Miss Gale Monroe, 2577 Harney street, into their car Thursday night at Sixteenth and Farnam streets and drove them out on the West Dodge road, the women told police. When several miles out the men robbed Mrs. Walker of $16 and Miss Monroe of $10 and diamond ring. Upon the pleas of both women the men brought them back to Twenty-fourth and Farnam streets at 3 o'clock in the morning.

The women said they got into the car which they thought was a "taxi" they had called.

Dog Catcher Is Mediator for Special Policemen

A dog catcher settled the differences of two special officers yesterday at Eleventh and Davenport streets by arresting both for disturbing the peace.

M. Glassman, 1118 Davenport street, and Walter Pettigrew, Fourteenth avenue and Twelfth street, Council Bluffs, both special watchmen for an ice company, sought to settle differences with the aid of a revolver when John Hockley, dog catcher, interfered.

Glassman and Pettigrew were discharged in police court. The quarrel, it was said, was caused over the ownership of a pile of lumber at Eleventh and Davenport streets.

Rotarians Have Dinner Dance at the Seymour Lake Club

Members of the Rotary club of Omaha and their families were guests at the monthly meeting at the Seymour Lake club Wednesday. Dinner, which was served at 7, was followed by musical selections by Charles Gardner and Mrs. H. G. Cox and dancing.

W. Welch spoke on the advancement of the club in the past year and of the increased membership.

W. W. Carmichael was chairman of the meeting.

Miss Parker in Recital

Miss Anna M. Parker, a pupil of Prof. Cecil Berryman, gave a recital last night at the Barker studios. She has composed a waltz in A minor and the rendering of the waltz called forth applause. This was her first recital. Next spring she will take up music as a profession.
