

INSURANCE MEN NAME OFFICERS AT MEET TODAY

Nebraska Companies Entered Delegates at Banquet Last Night; Close Today.

Delegates to the 14th annual meeting of the American Life convention and their friends attended a banquet given by Nebraska insurance companies at the Hotel Fontenelle last night.

The banquet was the closing social function of the meeting, which ends today with an election of officers. Harry L. Seay, Dallas, Tex., acted as toastmaster.

E. E. Rhodes, Newark, N. J., warned members of the convention at the meeting yesterday that only conservative investments should be made. Mr. Rhodes' topic was "Present Day Problems."

"Ethics" Causes Discussion.

"A certain per cent of the insurance company's assets should be set aside to provide for fluctuations in the value of other holdings," said Mr. Rhodes. "Insurance companies are also apt to take too big a risk in the estimate of mortality."

"Ethics" was the subject of a lengthy discussion among delegates yesterday. Isaac Miller Hamilton, Chicago, read a paper on "Field Ethics Controlled from the Home Office," in which he declared that one insurance company seldom gained by stealing an employ of another company.

Job Seeker "A Lemon."

"As a rule the man who is anxious to change his employment is a lemon," said Mr. Hamilton, "and it generally takes his new employers some time to find it out and costs them a lot of money. Of course, there are some exceptions to this rule, where men really should make a change."

Charles W. Gold, who led a discussion on the subject of "Ethics," agreed with Mr. Hamilton.

Other speakers yesterday were Charles W. Helser of San Francisco; Minor Merton of Chattanooga, Tenn.; E. E. Rhodes, Newark, N. J.; John J. Cadigan, Spokane, Wash.; J. A. McVoy, St. Louis, and Benedict D. Flynn, Hartford, Conn.

The number of delegates at the convention has swelled to more than 235.

KING AND QUEEN OF BELGIUM TO VISIT IN OMAHA

Packing Houses Interest King While Queen Will Inspect Leading Hospitals of This City.

Governor McKelvie will be asked to aid in making Omaha's reception for the king and queen of the Belgians, who are to be in Omaha on October 25, a real success.

This was decided on at a preliminary meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday to discuss arrangements for receiving the Belgian rulers here. The mayor, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, the Belgian Relief committee, and the Woman's club attended the meeting.

Mayor Smith will send a formal invitation for Omaha to their majesties at once, it was decided, as was requested in a telegram which he received from the State department yesterday.

The general opinion of those attending the meeting was that a large party of Belgian government officials would accompany the king and queen.

Another meeting will be held next week at the Chamber of Commerce to complete arrangements for the reception of the royal party.

Announcement by the State department in Washington that the king would prefer to visit packing and cold storage houses, and that the queen took particular interest in hospitals, was discussed.

According to information received by F. A. Brogan, executive chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, the royal party will arrive in Omaha at 9 in the morning, and remain till 4 in the afternoon. It is expected that Prince Leopold will be brought along.

Thomas J. Nolan, Belgian consul in Omaha, said the Belgian colony in Omaha had been confident that their majesties would come here, and had already made preparations for their reception. Mr. Nolan estimates there are 500 Belgians in the colony on the South Side.

Former Minnesota Governor Visits Brother in Omaha
