Heart Beats

By A. K.

Since early childhood, I've tried to solve A problem Most difficult— By twisting and turning Motives aright For the whys and ways Of women and men. Why did that kindly Perfectly good man Marry an indolent Peevish crank Who "tolleth not Nor does she spin— Nor try to make Home comfy. But she worries and frets At her husband And God Because of her unhappiness— When it isn't the fault Of either one That she Is a miserable wretch— It's the Cosmic wages Which come to pay For the sin Of a wasted life. Thousands of girls— Regular girls— Long for a chance To cook beefsteaks For just that kind Of a man. But the men they get Are foolish cads— British scoundrels— Faithless and deceitful— Cruel at times And care not a thing For a wife Or a comfortable home. It's the same unteachable Contrary knot The knot of Human Fate That even old Omar Couldn't undo— Nor fathom! It's mysteries. But he was wise— Acknowledged defeat And took the world As he found it— While I Like a bee Go buzzing around Making futile attempts To untie it.

Halloween Party.
Junior High School Girls—There is greater scope and freedom for "stunts" without boys, so perhaps your crowd of girls would have a jollier time without them. Here are a few suggestions for entertainment; your own imagination will develop them. Come dressed as ghosts. Enter by basement or back door. Have the house dimly lighted and the basement not at all. Hang a lantern or a jack-o-lantern at the entrance and let the guests stumble along as best they can to get into the reception rooms. Pin a number on each one's back. Give guests pencils and slips and let them guess the identity of their ghostly companions. Not one word shall be spoken except by the one in charge, until all have written down their guesses. Then let each unmask and check up the lists to see who has guessed the greatest number correctly. If you are having progressive games, punch the tally card of the person gaining the highest point in this first "Pass around sheets of paper about

Miss Hussie In Young Set

One of Omaha's most attractive and beautiful girls is Miss Helen Hussie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hussie. She was graduated from the College of the Sacred Heart last June, where she specialized in the study of philosophy. She is also an accomplished musician. Miss Hussie has made no definite plans for the winter, but will probably remain in Omaha and devote her time to the study of music. She is prominent in the activities of the younger set and is one of its most popular members. Because of her many charming qualities, Miss Hussie has been chosen to act as a maid to the Ak-Sar-Ben queen of 1919.

Honor Autumn Brides.
Among the pre-nuptial affairs for Miss Grace Slabaugh was a luncheon given Thursday by Miss Gertrude Stout at the Omaha club. Pink roses attractively arranged formed the centerpiece of the table. Covers were laid for 14 and the guests included girls of the younger set. Mrs. George Engler entertained at luncheon Friday at the Athletic club in honor of Miss Slabaugh, her sister, and Miss Eleanor Austin, who will be an October bride. Lacy-enders and yellow roses tied with tulle formed the only decoration for the table. The guests, who included the girls of the younger set, numbered 24.

Start with a Modern Bathroom!

SOME persons plan their new home from the outside in, and others plan from the inside out. But it's usually the women-folks who say, and with some emphasis too, "Let's have a modern bathroom." And they're right!

Up-to-date bathroom fixtures are not only a "safe and sane" investment from a money standpoint, but they also afford genuine pleasure to every member of the household. No one enjoys an old-fashioned bathroom. And no one likes to pay repair bills—the "twin-brothers" of antiquated fixtures.

Begin your plans with the bathroom, and see our model display today. Our stock of Thomas Maddock's modern, sanitary fixtures is exceptionally complete.

Lesson in Scientific Complexion Renewing

Everyone has a beautiful skin underneath the one exposed to view. Bear that in mind and it will be easier to understand the correct principle of acquiring a lovely complexion. Nature is constantly shedding the top skin in flaky particles like sand, only much smaller in size. In abnormal conditions, or in advancing age, these particles are not shed as rapidly as in robust youth. The longer they remain the more soiled or faded they become—that's the immediate cause of a "bad complexion."

It has been discovered that ordinary medicated wax, to be had at any drug store, will absorb these worn-out particles. The absorption, while hastening Nature's work, goes on gradually enough to cause no inconvenience. In a week or two the transformation is complete. The fresh, healthy, youthful under-skin is then wholly in evidence. You who are not satisfied with your complexion should get an ounce of mercolized wax and try this treatment. Use the wax nightly, like cold cream, washing it off mornings.
