

FOES OF PACT EJECTED FROM THE U. S. SENATE

Senator Williams Charges Galleries "Packed" by Opponents of Covenant When Applause Follows.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Senator Johnson, republican, of California, speaking in the senate today, sharply resented a statement by Senator Williams, democrat, of Mississippi, that he was returning to California to continue his attack on the president and to mend his political fences.

"I understand that the senator from Mississippi is unable to comprehend adequately my motives," Senator Johnson declared. "But I am going to California and all the other states I can reach, not to mend political fences, but because of the great optimism I have in the common people of this land and the certainty that when they hear the story of the league of nations they will respond as Americans and demand that it safeguard their interests."

Senator Johnson said he was going to California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Utah and Colorado, if he had time.

Explains Treaty Amendment.
Senator Johnson asked why Great Britain should insist on having six votes and said his amendment would not deny votes to the British colonies.

"It gives them their votes in the assembly," he explained. "It only says, not that Canada or Australia or the others shall be deprived of a vote, but that America is big enough, rich enough, powerful enough and good enough to have as many votes as the British empire."

"There is no more reason for giving Canada or the other British colonies a vote each than there would be for giving New York state a vote."

"When the president asserts that it is of little consequence or importance or advantage he despoils the document he brings to us."

The league assembly, Mr. Johnson declared, would deal with every question touching "the peace of the world." The assembly's voting power, therefore, is of "transcendent importance," he declared.

Will Continue Trip.
"I returned from Minneapolis," Mr. Johnson said, in conclusion, "to endeavor to present what is in my mind on this amendment in the hope that I would be able to get a vote on it. I have found after consultation not on one side, but on both, that it is impossible, that it is relegated to the end of the entire debate. Now I am going to start where I left off at Minneapolis."

There was a faint start of hand-clapping when Senator Johnson concluded. Senator Williams immediately replied, denying that Great Britain had six votes in the league. He declared it had but one and that the British colonies had one each and that they were "self-governing commonwealths."

Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, asked if India was so governed. When Senator Williams started to reply spectators in the galleries broke into laughter and drew a sharp rebuke from Vice President Marshall. He ordered all persons ejected who participated in the demonstration and declared emphatically that the senate rule must be enforced or abrogated.

Senator Williams replied that, as usual, the galleries apparently were "packed" and said it appeared of the debate continued it would not be long before the galleries "will be putting motions as they did in the French revolution."

Senator Williams declared the president had answered fully every point raised by Senator Johnson and everybody else.

AT THE THEATERS
RICHARD CARLE has long been a source of unalloyed merriment and, therefore, is welcome whenever he comes around. Last evening at the Boyd, when the lights imitated the steel workers and went out, he made fun out of a situation from which a less self-contained comedian would have derived only annoyance. Moreover, in all the years he has been coming here Mr. Carle has evinced no dread of having others in his company. He loves the spotlight, as does any good actor, but he is willing to give some others a chance. Consequently he is assisted by some comedians who are funny, singers who can sing, and dancers who can dance, and all work together in a way that provides a maximum of entertainment.

Mr. Carle's own share of the fun consists of those quiet drooleries of which he is so consummate a master, little jests of word or manner filled with the essence of pure fun, the flavor of a wit that has matured and is pungent without sharpness, acid yet not acrid. His song in the last act contrasts conditions prior and subsequent to July 1, a clever contrivance but lacking of effect here, where we have sustained more than two years of the drought, and where those who might have been excited over the matter some months ago have learned where to go and how to keep "mum" about it.

David Quixano's robust baritone won him much applause and gave his listeners much pleasure, a statement that may equally apply to Caroline Andrews, whose pure, strong and vibrant soprano is a source of genuine delight. Misses Jennie Mann, Marie Fanchionetti (with an interpolated dance) and Leona Stater also afford much that is worth looking at and listening to. Milton Dawson and John J. Ward share in the funmaking and the three Murdocks, with their grotesque dancing, astonish onlookers. No more supple, nimble or original dancers ever fitted over a local stage. As to the chorus—Mr. Carle's eyesight is such that he must wear glasses on the stage at all times, but it has never failed when it comes to picking a chorus. And the girls can sing and dance, too.

A word about the music. Alexander Johnstone, who is directing the tour, is also the composer. He not only has the faith to thus support his score, but he has provided a score that is worthy of support. You will listen in vain for familiar strains, but you will be charmed by the subtle melodies that run through it all. Only a bit of "jazz" is provided, just enough to support a single dance number, while the flow of theme is sustained by a well-balanced composition of real harmony of such simplicity as to please without obtrusiveness.

Matinee and evening performances today end the short engagement and attendance of those who enjoy musical comedy is recommended.

Today's matinee starts the popular Gayety's bumper week of the entire season, as everybody who comes to Omaha to join in the festivities firmly believe that their Omaha trip would be a failure without an afternoon or evening spent at the Gayety. The "Reckless Eve" is the name of the burlesque attraction secured for the week and it happens that it will be the only girl and music show in the city throughout the week. Harry Coleman and Bert Lehr are the principal comedians. The costumes and scenes are gorgeous. Tomorrow's matinee starts at 3.

This is the final day of the popular Orpheum bill headed by the sparkling musical comedy, "A Reckless Eve." Patrons are reminded that an usual on Saturday night, the curtain is to rise early this evening at 8:10 o'clock. Opening with the matinee Sunday, the show is to be headed by one of the funniest low comedians of the stage in two burlesque sketches. The star is Harry Watson, Jr., who was last seen in Omaha in a conspicuous feature of Jack Norworth's intimate revue. In that show Mr. Watson was exceptionally funny on his travesty of the prize fighter and also in his telephone scene. Two featured acts will be Eddie Nelson and Dell Chain in "Use Your Own Judgment" and the interesting novelty, the Chinese Jazz Band with 20 instrumentalists. The bill is proclaimed one of the best of the season to date, and is especially well selected for Ak-Sar-Ben week.

Seats are selling rapidly for the engagement of the popular Irish actor-singer, Fiske O'Hara, who will be seen at the Brandeis theater for eight days beginning tomorrow, in his new romantic comedy, "Down Limerick Way," by Anna Nichols.

This charming comedy of the love adventures of Sir Daniel Darragh, a gallant young blade, whose sister is trying to marry him off, gives Mr. O'Hara an ideal role for his varied talents. The company is an excellent one, and the production of an elaborate nature. There is a special augmented orchestra that is carried on tour for Mr. O'Hara's song selections, and he will also render special selections between the acts.

One of the real hits of the season is "Quakertown To Broadway." D. B. Berg's latest musical comedy success, which headlines the bill at the Empress this last half. Music of the most popular character predominates, in the offering of Nelson Waring, pianist. He is also a singer of note and renders a delightful repertoire of new song numbers that are most effective.

South Side

Plans Are Complete for Big Centennial at Fort Calhoun
Arrangement for the Fort Atkinson centennial celebration at Fort Calhoun October 11 are complete. E. Buckingham, chairman of the committee on arrangements, stated yesterday that an order had been received from the War department at Washington permitting available soldiers at Fort Crook and Fort Omaha to participate.

The centennial celebration, which is in charge of the State Historical society, is to be a great pageant representing the arrival of United States troops on Nebraska soil and the founding of the first white settlements here.

Governor McKelvie, Mayor Smith of Omaha and Mayor Frahm of Fort Calhoun will speak. The affair is of state-wide interest.

Bands will furnish music, a float prepared by Gus Renze, Ak-Sar-Ben's artificer, will be used, and Indians will participate in the event. Food will be served from a Fort Omaha field kitchen.

Another meeting of the committee in charge of the event will be held at the Chamber of Commerce on October 3.

Berg Suits Me
Clothes That You Know Is the Best
A young couple were looking at some suits in the window of a certain clothing store the other day—tempting price tags were prominently displayed—but the suits were of an unknown make.

Each suit carried a question mark of quality and wearability. "Better buy a suit you know is good," said the woman. "You're right," said the man, and turned away.

This conversation reflects the attitude of the wise and thrifty men and the young men today.

With good materials scarce and the market flooded with inferior fabrics, it doesn't pay to gamble on quality.

The Berg Clothing Co. never has or never will lower their high standards despite conditions.

A Berg Clothing Co. Suit costs no more and you can depend on quality, all-wool fabrics, authentic styles and values that represent real economy. Splendid assortments, new weaves, new color-tones—

Take the Elevator and Save $10

High Quality Clothing Can Still Be Sold at Very Reasonable Prices

$20 to $40

WHY WE SELL CLOTHING FOR LESS MONEY

OUR METHOD OF MERCHANDISING, that is, the cutting down our "overhead" expense, allows us to sell suits and overcoats at more than $10 under the price charged by our lowest competitor. UPSTAIRS—just a moment's lift in the elevator, yet it saves us hundreds of dollars in rent. CASH BUYING gives us many discounts not obtainable if we asked for credit. NO CHARGES, eliminates all the costly bookkeeping systems and terrific credit losses.

NO DELIVERIES, NO FANCY FIXTURES, NO "GIVE-AWAY" SEASON-END SALES, nothing here to run up unnecessary expense that must be added to our clothing prices. That is why we can offer

$30 to $50 Suits or Overcoats

$20 to $40

A WORD TO OUR FRIENDS
Many people ask us how we make a profit large enough to satisfy us with our "low price system." The answer is obvious. By selling clothing for less, we sell more of it. By our system of "rapid turnover" we are able to completely sell our entire stock many times a year. Thus, on the same capital invested, we make our small profit many times.

OUR GUARANTEE:
If you can duplicate these suits or overcoats for less than $10 more in any other store, come back and get your money.
