

MARSHAL FOCH TO ATTEND MEET OF EX-SOLDIERS

Officers of the American Legion Informed French Commander Will Address Convention.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 27.—(Special.)—Field Marshal Foch will attend the national convention of the American Legion, to be held in Minneapolis November 11, according to word received by the officers of the legion. His visit to the United States in November has been definitely announced. He will be a speaker at the legion meeting. Members of the legion are preparing to present the distinguished French commander with a medal.

Stock Has Tuberculosis.

Sixteen per cent of the hogs and 8 per cent of the cattle in Iowa have tuberculosis, according to estimates made by Dr. Robert Wall, state veterinarian. This estimate is based on tests which have been going on throughout the state since last March. About 300 herds of cattle have been tested in this period. When a cow or steer is found to have tuberculosis it is slaughtered and the difference in the amount the animal brings at the slaughter pens and in its appraised value is paid jointly by the state and government, although the state will not pay over $80 for a pure-bred and $40 for a grade, and the government will not pay more than $50 for a pure-bred or $25 for a grade. Dr. Wall believes that inspection of meat animals at packing centers should extend to poultry, which he declares are often infected with diseases, but no examination is made of them.

Fires Cause 96 Deaths.

Ninety-six deaths were caused by fires in this state last year, 49 of which were in fires where gasoline or kerosene was responsible. This is the record which reports to the state fire marshal's department disclose. In 1918 the total property loss from 4,393 fires in Iowa was $6,440,771. Three-fourths of these fires could have been prevented, the state fire marshal says. Among some of the common causes of disastrous fires are the following: Carelessness in the use of electric irons, defective chimneys, starting fire with coal or gasoline, matches, stoves, pipes through walls or roof, smokers' carelessness, children playing with matches. These facts are pointed out in a poster issued by State Fire Marshal J. A. Tracy calling attention to Fire Prevention day, October 9.

Disloyalty Case Upheld.

George Gibson of Union county, convicted in 1918 of inciting and encouraging hostility to the government and the state and of making disloyal utterances, has lost his appeal case in the Iowa supreme court which handed down a decision upholding the Union county district court. The specific charge against Gibson was that he "did attempt by speech, action and in manner of speaking to incite, abet, promote and encourage hostility and opposition to the government of the state and the United States, contrary to the statutes in such cases made and provided and against the peace and dignity of the state." Gibson was sentenced to a year in jail and the payment of a fine of $1,000 and costs of $130.50. He furnished a $3,000 bond and has been out on bond since his trial. According to evidence introduced at the trial he made disparaging remarks about the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. and referred to soldiers as "trench meat" and "cannon fodder."

Afton Homecoming.

Afton will give a big homecoming and reception to the returned soldiers in a two days' celebration to be held October 2 and 3. Many entertainment features have been planned. Frank Moore of Guthrie Center, state representative from Guthrie county, will deliver an address. A big feed, base ball, band music and dancing are among the events of the program.

New Business Concerns.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of state by the following concerns: Shine Easy Shoe Polish company, Des Moines; capital stock, $300,000; P. E. Apprell, S. W. Apprell and George D. Apprell, incorporators. Sherman Electric company, Lu-Verne, Kosciusko county; capital stock, $10,000; Max Meyer, president, and Fred Blumer, secretary. Hunter Land company, Cedar Rapids; capital stock, $100,000; James Hunter, president, and H. J. Soper, secretary-treasurer. The Chemical company, Sioux Rapids; capital stock, $200,000; William J. Crow, president, and L. R. White, secretary.

All Right for Wife to Love Boarder, but Not to Call Him "Papa"

Akron, O., Sept. 27.—Stephen Bishop could stand his wife being infatuated with the star boarder, whose name he doesn't know, but when his wife taught his three children to call the boarder "papa" and ignore the presence and authority of their own father, Stephen says he had more than he could bear. He asks for a divorce on that ground.

French Seventy-five Shell Calls Town to Work

Edinburg, Ind., Sept. 27.—The shriek of a French 75 shell falling Edinburg to its work, sounds lunch time and sends it home in the evening. It's a tame shell, however, aimed to peaceful pursuits. Ernest Law, a returned soldier, converted the shell into a whistle for the French locomotive of which he was engineer. Then he brought it home and it now occupies a high place on the canning factory roof.

Funeral Services Held for Omaha Boy Killed in the West

Albert S. Petty, son of Mrs. John W. Petty, 2311 Douglas street, was buried in Holy Sepulcher cemetery. His father was a pioneer gunsmith of Omaha. He was killed on the railroad tracks at Caliente, Nev., when an inspection sprucker on which he was riding was struck by a locomotive. He enlisted in the 64th balloon company at Fort Omaha, was transferred to Los Angeles and after his discharge entered railroad service. The pallbearers at the funeral here were Lieut. George Parish, Frank Coulter, Morris Foley, Raymond Coady, Joseph O'Doherty and Leo Morrell.

Jeffers Would Stop Lumber Exportation For Next Two Years

Washington, Sept. 27.—(Special Telegram.)—Congressman Jeffers introduced a bill to prohibit the exportation of lumber for a period of two years and providing penalties for the violation of the same. In explaining the purpose of his bill, the Omaha representative said:

"In these crucial days of reconstruction, it became necessary to take special precautions to protect the work now under way, and to encourage further building activities. The great demand for lumber during the war was evidenced in the decrease of exports. However, reports of the Department of Commerce to June 1919, show that the foreign trade is again on the increase. Figures compiled by the department show that, excluding shingles, staves, furniture, moldings, etc., we exported 1,077,973,000 board feet of lumber in the 12 months ending June, 1919. This is more than 10,000,000 feet in excess of the amount exported the previous year, and is 30,000,000 feet more than the export of 1917.

This, in spite of the demand locally for lumber in shipbuilding, which increased more than 100 per cent in the past year. More than this, we find that the production of lumber steadily drains. In 1907 we cut 46,000,000 board feet of lumber in the United States, while in 1915 only 38,000,000 board feet were cut. This is that the annual exports of lumber from the United States amount normally to 8 per cent of the total cut. The original forest area of this country was 850,000,000 acres. It is now less than 545,000,000 acres. My bill seeks to prevent further shipments of lumber to foreign nations until our country can supply its building demands."

Bloodless Victory for American Tars on Dalmatian Coast

Washington, Sept. 27.—A force of American sailors from the cruiser Olympia was landed at Trau, on the lower Dalmatian coast, September 23. Secretary Daniels announced today. Without bloodshed, the Americans gained possession of the city, which previously had been occupied by a force of Italians.

Secretary Daniels' announcement said: "On September 23, a number of Italians surprised and captured Trau, a Dalmatian port in the zone assigned by the supreme council to be policed by the Americans. A small landing force from the U. S. S. Olympia succeeded in recovering the town and preserving order there without bloodshed. Serbians were persuaded by Admiral Andrews from taking action."

Rear Admiral Andrews, commanding the naval forces in the Adriatic, in reporting the landing, said he acted on instructions from the supreme council at Paris.

Conductor-Dentist Carries Tools With Him

Huntington, W. Va., Sept. 27.—A conductor-dentist operates a branch of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad system in this state. He is Dr. Harry Halstead. When patients failed to come to him fast enough Halstead took a position as conductor. He carries forceps in his pocket. During the past week the train was halted four times by persons who wanted teeth drawn. The dentist-conductor never fails to make the stops.

Nearly Blinded by Exploding Coffee Pot

Bedford, Ind., Sept. 27.—John Gasaway nearly lost the sight of both eyes when a coffee pot blew up. Gasaway and Henry Clendenen were operating a fishing and mussel shell camp and Gasaway was preparing a meal over the gasoline stove. Just as he stooped to lift the coffee pot it exploded, scalding his face and burning his eyes with the hot fluid and grounds. It was believed the strainer of the pot became stopped up.

FEW SENATORS WANT TO HEAR PACT READING

That Part of German Peace Treaty Affected by Amendments of Senator Fall Uninteresting to Senators.

Washington, Sept. 27.—All that part of the German peace treaty affected by the amendments of Senator Fall, republican, New Mexico, which would exempt the United States from representation on foreign commissions was formally read to the senate late today with only half a dozen senators listening at the end. The reading paved the way for general debate, beginning on Monday, and made possible a vote on the amendments during the week. There was no indication tonight, however, as to how soon the discussion might close, for many senators, including Senator Fall, will speak.

The vote will give the first acute test of the lineup of the forces. Republicans have claimed that the amendments will be adopted, and democratic leaders declare their defeat is certain. The reading was interrupted soon after it started by a brief discussion of the league of nations covenant, but the half holiday spirit was in the air and senators, weary of a week of treaty debate, had no desire to return to the fray.

Want Wilson's Views.

Some democrats suggested today that because of the certainty that not one vote would be changed, further discussion, they send their case to the jury, so to speak, without argument. This, they contended, would speed up the treaty and put the question of delay squarely on the republicans. Most democrats opposed such procedure, but those who advanced it said they would endeavor to obtain the views of President Wilson.

Urged to Withdraw.

While Senator Johnson, republican, California, was speeding today to his home state to resume his fight on the league of nations, the League to Enforce Peace gave out here, a telegram sent to him by jurists, business men and others of California, urging him to withdraw his opposition to ratification of the treaty. Senator Johnson hopes to get back in time to plead for adoption of his amendment, designed to equalize the voting power of the United States and Great Britain in the league, which by general agreement, has gone over for consideration after all other amendments have been disposed of finally.

Senator Smith, democrat, Georgia, announced today that he planned to present to the senate, Monday, a set of reservations to the treaty similar to those offered by the group favoring "mild reservations." It is understood that Senator Smith's reservation to Article 10 of the treaty will declare that American military force cannot be used in furtherance of a territorial guarantee without the approval of congress.

Defies Stage Superstitions.

London.—Arthur Collins, in his disregard for stage superstitions, provides a complete contrast with his predecessor at the Lane. Sir Augustus Harris was perhaps the most superstitious person of his period. He used to go to all sorts of lengths and put himself to all kinds of easily avoidable trouble in order to follow even the silliest of stage superstitions. He had an especial horror of peacocks' feathers coming anywhere within measurable distance of any part of the theater. Yet, directly Collins succeeded to the management of the Lane, he not only laughed at all such superstitions, and especially at the peacocks' feathers one—but actually put on there a Peacock's Feather Ballet.

Sweet-Toned Ampico Was Life Work of Inventor Stoddard

The development of the Ampico, heard last night at the Hotel Fontenelle, has been the life work of its inventor, Charles Fuller Stoddard. Nearly 25 years ago he heard for the first time a player piano, then in the early stages of its development. The excessively mechanical nature of the performance affronted his musical sense, and he determined some time to invent a piano that should play as well or better than the great pianists. The Ampico is the result.

Today's Events

"Daylight saving" will come to an end in England tonight. Today has been fixed as the date for a general election to be held in Hungary. Most Rev. John Baptist Crozier, archbishop of Armagh and primate of all Ireland, has issued a request that, in view of recent events in Ireland, today be made a day of special prayer.

Fastest Sub In World U. S. AA-1; Makes 20 Knots On Official Test

Boston, Sept. 27.—Official tests of the first American fleet submarine, the AA-1, formerly known as the Schley, conducted off Provincetown, indicate that the vessel is the fastest and most efficient craft of its kind ever constructed. Over a measured course the big submarine made a surface speed of 20.92 knots, exceeding contract requirements in both respects. With the exception of British freak submarines, steam driven on the surface, which attained a speed of 23 knots, the American craft is said to be the fastest submarine afloat.

The boat will carry a crew of 60 men and four-inch guns, mounted on its decks. It will have a cruising radius on the surface greater than any but the latest battleships, probably 12,000 miles, and in reality forms a new weapon of naval warfare, as no German or British submarine equals its military characteristics.

Kaiser Anticipates Good Time In London During Trial, Bernard Shaw Says

British Humorist, in Sardonic Vein, Tells of Imaginative Visit to Ex-Emperor at Amerovgen and Treats of Wilhelm's Witty Replies to All Questions Advanced By Correspondent Relative to Anticipated Trial in British Metropolis.

London, Sept. 27.—(By Universal Service.)—George Bernard Shaw here with presents the circumstances and conditions under which he believes the former kaiser should be brought to trial. The article is in the form of a supposititious interview with his ax-imperial majesty, whose ideas on this particular subject Mr. Shaw has no doubt coincided with his own. BY GEORGE BERNARD SHAW. The Amerodan correspondent of "The Kilmackilloge Sentinel" has visited Amerovgen and been admitted to an audience with the ex-kaiser, whom he found engaged in a history of the war for an American publishing firm. The ex-kaiser talked freely of the proposed trial in London and declared that the conditions on which he will voluntarily leave his asylum in Holland and surrender himself to the allies are as follows:

1. No unusual punishments are to be included within the powers of the air and an established condition of criminal law in all civilized countries and excludes such sentences as marooning on St. Helena or Ascension.
2. In spite of the stipulation made by the United States, the death penalty is not to be excluded and is to be de rigueur on conviction for violation of neutrality in the first instance.
3. The death penalty is to be de rigueur also on conviction of international conspiracy against the peace of nations.
4. The tribunals to try all indictments lodged by parties to the war, or neutrals damaged by it and suitable accommodation is to be provided in the dock for at least four sovereigns and two presidents. Provision for their execution on the same day and the same scaffold in the event of their conviction on a capital charge is to be provided and the executions are to take place in public.
5. Responsible ministers are to be subject to the indictment and to the extreme penalty.
6. After the indicted have pleaded they shall not be admitted to bail until the sentence of the tribunal is delivered; but their accommodations under detention shall be suitable to the rank held by them before August, 1914.
7. The proceedings shall be public and shall be fully reported, at the joint expense of the several states concerned, in the leading newspapers of their capitals.
8. H. I. M., the German kaiser, who will conduct his own defense, shall have an unlimited right to summon and cross-examine witnesses, including his co-defendants.

Anticipates Good Time.

The kaiser, who seemed to be in the best of spirits, declared that he had nothing to add to these articles and that he anticipated an extremely interesting time in London. He was anxious that it should be known that he was placing no obstacle in the way of the trial and he was only too grateful to Mr. Lloyd George for having provided an opportunity for bringing the real authors of the war to justice. "I shall not," he said, "put your London police to the trouble of advertising that I am 'wanted' there. I shall not end my days on St. Helena, but where I really am 'wanted, and badly wanted—and that is in Berlin."

The kaiser was present during these interviews and laughed heartily several times at the kaiser's sallies, especially when he asked whether Viscount Grey intended to travel during the trial. That surplus piece of furniture can be turned into cash by a Bee Want Ad.

A Deferred Shipment Enables Us To Sell Three-Piece Tapestry Suites at $159.50

MANY months ago we placed an order with one of the big upholstery firms for a number of these tapestry suites, but before the order could be completed and shipped to us the factory was temporarily closed because of labor conditions. When work was resumed these suites were completed and sent to us and the price we paid was the price that prevailed at the time our order was placed. Since then prices have advanced considerably on furniture of this type.

WE earnestly believe that the prices we have placed on these three-piece tapestry suites is the lowest price at which similar suites can be obtained anywhere. If we had to buy these suites in the open market today we never would be able to place the same price on these suites. They are covered with a good grade of tapestry and have comfortable cushion spring seats and are made in a factory famous for its high quality of workmanship.
