The mists above the morning rills
Rise white as wings of prayer;
The altar curtains of the hills
Are sunset's purple air.

SOCIETY

ACCORDING to Indian legend told Coronado in the sixteenth century, there was a land far to the northward of Mexico, where riches abounded, where a king lay under a tree of tinkling bells, gently fanned by bejeweled slaves, where the inhabitants drank from gold vessels—wealth and abundance on every hand. Spurred on with a desire to seize such a land for his king, Coronado set out for the Land of the Quivera, reaching a point in, or very near, Nebraska of the present day. His dreams were shattered. No gold, no jewels, no swans, no tinkling bells. Only rich, fat earth, and miles and miles of grassy prairie, poor Indians, and roaming buffalo.

Little did Coronado know of the glorious kingdom to be. Little could he guess of the Land of the Quivera "in the year of grace, MCMXIX." But we more fortunate ones can witness the splendor, and give evidence of prosperity of the kingdom, by attending the ball of the Ak-Sar-Ben. Invitations to this crowning festivity of the year have been issued on heavy beveled paper, embossed with the coat of arms and set with the official seal, reading as follows:

Sir Knight of the Court of Quivera: His majesty, your gracious King, Ak-Sar-Ben XXV, rejoices much that patriotism abounds throughout our land, and desirous that prosperity and good cheer may prevail throughout his realm, commands you herewith to attend in person the ancient rites incident to your King's and Queen's coronation at the Royal Castle at eight o'clock of Friday, on the third day of October, in the year of grace, MCMXIX, there and then to pay tribute to your gracious Lord and Lady, and the cause of justice which they proclaim.

Ordered under my hand and seal, at the Realm of the Den, on this XV day of the Golden Month of the Harvest, in the year of grace, MCMXIX, and forthwith in the year of our Quivera, CCCLXXIX.

SAMSON,
Lord High Chamberlain.

Loomis-Bedwell.
A very pretty home wedding was that of Miss Charlotte Bedwell, daughter of Mrs. C. E. Bedwell and Mr. Maurice Loomis. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's mother, Saturday afternoon, Rev. Frank G. Smith read the marriage lines. Roses and ferns were used through the rooms.

Mrs. Eugene Holland of Lincoln, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was attractively gowned in pink satin, made simply with draped skirt and trimmed with silver. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and lavender asters.

The bride was charming in a gown of white satin combined with silver lace and made with chiffon drapes. A long tulle veil made in coronet effect fell to the hem of her gown. A large bouquet of white roses and swansonia completed her costume.

Mr. Gilbert Loomis, brother of the groom was best man.

Mrs. Bedwell, mother of the bride, was gowned in dark blue georgette.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Loomis attended the University of Nebraska. Mr. Loomis is a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity and was over seas nine months with Base hospital 49. His bride was a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority.

After a short western trip, Mr. and Mrs. Loomis will be at home at 1001 South Thirtieth avenue, November 1.

Musgrave-Maxwell.
The marriage of Miss Beulah Maxwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Maxwell, and Mr. Roy Musgrave, son of Mr. W. L. Musgrave, took place at high noon Saturday, at the First Presbyterian church. The Rev. Edwin Hartie Jenks read the marriage lines. It was a very quiet affair witnessed only by immediate relatives and friends.

Miss Antoinette Bruno and Mr. William Clarke Russell were the only attendants.

The bride wore her traveling suit of navy blue peach-bloom cloth with small hat to match. Her corsage was of Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mrs. Blanche Rowe entertained at Breakfast of 18 covers at the Conant hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Musgrave have gone on a short motor trip and will be at home at the Reynolds apartments after October 10.

Miss Morris Entertains.
Miss Helen Morris entertained informally at her home, Thursday evening. Twenty guests attended and the evening was spent in dancing.

Mr. Earl Sutphen arrived home Thursday evening from Camp Dodge. He was two years overseas with the First division.

Weak Eyes
Lavoptik

There has never been anything in Omaha with the QUICK results of simple witch hazel, camphor, hydrastis, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash. In one case of weak, inflamed eyes a few days' use of Lavoptik brought surprising results. In another case TWO applications relieved sharp eye pains. The witch hazel and camphor soothe and relieve the inflammation; the hydrastis and other ingredients have tonic and antiseptic properties. We guarantee a small bottle Lavoptik to help ANY CASE weak, strained or inflamed eyes. Aluminum eye cup FREE. Sherman & McConnell Drug Stores.

Autumn Army Bride

Mrs. John Yates

One of the loveliest of the autumn brides, was Mrs. John Yates, formerly Miss Helen Grant, daughter of Col. and Mrs. F. A. Grant. Her marriage took place at the home of her parents, Wednesday evening, and was one of the most beautiful of the season. Mr. and Mrs. Yates are taking a short trip through the west. They will return October 15 and will make their home in Hastings, Neb.

For Miss Melcher.
Miss Doris Melcher, who will be an October bride. Eight tables were set for the game. Yellow chrysanthemums were used through the rooms.

Alma Gluck of Younger Set of Singers Unique and Versatile.

Of the younger set of singers none is better known than Alma Gluck, who appears here with the Chicago Opera association, when that famous organization comes to this city on the evening of October 21. Being so well known as Mme. Gluck means that she not only must have a host of friends, but that she has come in close contact with many notable men and women. Association, claims the prima donna, is the greatest education in the world, and by far the most broadening. During her singing career Mme. Gluck has associated with all classes of people. She knows the Russians and the Negro, the French and Italian, the Jews, Germans, Poles and Americans. Thus she knows how to sing their songs and put the proper spirit in them—she is a great favorite in the social world, a great favorite among musicians—and, best of all, a great favorite with the music-loving world.

For Three Autumn Brides.
Mrs. Wayne Selby entertained at a tea at her home, in honor of three autumn brides, Misses Grace Slabaugh, Eleanor Austin and Jayne Clarke. Roses and asters in lavender and white were used through the rooms. On the table in the dining room was a bridal bouquet of white roses made with a shower of lilies of the valley. A tiny doll dressed as a bride stood beside it.

Those assisting Mrs. Selby were Mesdames George Engler, Robert Reasoner, Edwin Bannister and Robert Loomis; Misses Katherine Selby, Mildred Rhodes and Carita O'Brien.

Mrs. E. C. Henry is spending a few days in Chicago.

Sorority Affairs.
Miss Helen Miller entertained informally at tea at her home Thursday afternoon for the members of the Kappa Psi Delta sorority. Twenty guests attended.

Miss Margaret Powell was hostess Saturday afternoon at her home at a "magazine party." Autumn flowers were used through the rooms. Thirty guests attended.

Prettiest Mile Club.
Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McDonald entertained 10 guests for dinner at the Prettiest Mile club, Saturday evening. E. E. Lloyd had eight guests at dinner. Harry Binder entertained a party of five.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Ochiltree entertained at dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Newell of Washington, D. C.

For Miss Austin.
Miss Helen Walker is giving a luncheon at the Blackstone, followed by bridge at her home, Monday in honor of Miss Eleanor Austin, one of the early autumn brides, and Mrs. Robert Reasoner will entertain at an informal bridge party for Miss Austin on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. T. F. Kennedy will give a lunch for her next Saturday.

Louis A. Metz and Jordan Peters left last evening for Ithaca, N. Y., where they will enter Cornell university.

Seymour Lake Club.
Saturday evening was the closing night of the Seymour Lake club and a Harvest Home dinner was given. Decorations were in autumn flowers and leaves and fruit baskets made of hollow pumpkins adorned the tables. Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Donahue entertained the largest party at dinner, their guests numbering 24; Willis Crosby entertained 14 guests and H. H. Roberts, 12. Smaller parties were entertained by George E. Brown, W. E. Check, Dean Ringer, H. C. Christiansen, Dr. William Berry, A. B. Sorenson, J. M. McCarthy, C. F. Hazelton, Arthur Swanson, Henry Windheim, C. A. Freis and W. C. Kelly.

RUPTURED? TRY THIS FREE

Wonderful Invention Sent on 30 Days' Trial Before You Pay.

Simply send me your name and I will send you my new copyrighted rupture book and measurement blank. When you return the blank I will send you my new invention for rupture. When it arrives put it on and wear it. Put it to every test you can think of. The harder the test the better you will like it. You will wonder how you ever got along with the old style cruel spring trusses or belts with leg straps of torture. Your own good, common sense and your own doctor will tell you it is the only way in which you can ever expect a cure. After wearing it 30 days if it is not entirely satisfactory in every way—if it is not easy and comfortable—if you cannot actually see your rupture getting better and if not convinced that a cure is merely a question of time—just return it and you are out nothing. Any rupture appliance that is sent on 30 days' trial before you pay is worth giving a trial. Why not tell your ruptured friends of this great offer?
