RUSSIAN PRINCES EITHER BEGGING OR WORKING HARD

Aristocrats of Former Court Have Difficult Time to Earn Small Weekly Wage.

By H. S. MUIR.
Special Correspondent, International News Service and London Express.

Helsingfors, Sept. 27.—There is a Russian boy-prince in Helsingfors who goes practically barefoot. His boots, given to him by a compassionate neighbor, would be spurned by a tramp. They are without soles, and he limps painfully as he picks his way over the hard, cobbled streets.

The Barefoot Prince.

The barefoot prince typifies the plight of many of the best Muscovite families. The silent suffering and unshed tears of these people—the flotsam of the old regime—would make a story full of pathos fit to raise the pity of many a hardened class fanatic. There are thousands of Russian families enduring the direst hardships of poverty and the agonies of long months of mental and physical torture just because their gentle birth constitutes them the hated enemy of the Russian proletariat. Some of them are living in misery under the Red terror, daily awaiting the executioner; others are enduring a bitter exile in Scandinavian countries, anxiously looking forward ot the day of their deliverance. Many of them would help themselves if they could, but they were never taught to earn their living, so nobody will employ them.

Second Violinist.

The barefoot prince is but a rung lower on the ladder of misfortune than many of his kind. In the busiest restaurant in Helsingfors a gray-haired man of aristocratic bearing plays second violin. He is an ex-colonel of the Russian army, and was a rich man before the revolution. He is a pathetic figure.

Living in a cheap flat overlooking a squalid courtyard in Helsingfors, there is a Russian nobleman who has put all the splendor of the past behind him and now keeps the wolf from the door by baking pastries. He works at night, and his wife retails the cakes during a daily round of the restaurants.

Colonel Takes Tips.

On a recent visit to the frontier region, a Russian ex-colonel of the Imperial Guard, who was wounded in Galicia, drove me from the station to my hotel. In a threadbare suit and dingy straw hat, he drives an even dingier drosky, and is quite used to carrying luggage and taking "tips."

Society leaders who once helped to grace the czar's court can be seen here any day in faded finery which would be discarded by a London work-girl. Princes and counts who once owned half a dozen stately homes and vast lands now live in obscure lodgings and make a frugal meal in cheap restaurants at the same table as the humble clerk or typist.

Nurses Consider 12 Hours Long Enough For Full Day's Work

San Francisco, Sept. 27.—Eight hundred nurses belonging to the San Francisco County Nurses' association are planning to demand more pay and shorter hours on the first of the coming month. Announcement to this effect has just been made at the headquarters of the association.

The increase is made necessary by the mounting prices of living necessities and it is expected that it will be granted. There will be no strike nor threat to strike. The nurses will merely refuse to take cases where the demands are not met.

The nurses will demand $5 a day for a 12-hour work day on ordinary cases and $6 a day on maternity cases. At the present time the nurses receive $30 a week for ordinary cases and are subject to call during the entire 24 hours. They are supposed to have two hours off during the afternoon, but say they seldom have this.

The new schedule will not affect patients in hospitals because they are entitled to treatment at all hours and will receive it, but the attending nurses will not be on duty such long hours. In cases where patients desire to have special nurses it will be necessary for them to employ two or be satisfied with the special nurse for 12 hours each day.

In home cases if constant attention is desired two nurses will have to be employed.

Harvard Medical School Swamped With Applicants

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 27.—The greatest number of applications ever made for admission to the Harvard Medical school, three times more than the school can accommodate, have been received. Of the 400 applicants, 280 must be refused, and even with this culling there is an increase of 30 over the previous limit of 90 for first-year students.

Harvard officials explain the great increase by the work of Harvard medical men in the war, which they say has brought the school to a position of pre-eminence among the colleges of medicine and surgery in this country.

Des Moines City Detective Is Shot and Killed by Negro

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 27.—(Special Telegram.)—Con J. McCarthy, night city detective, was shot and killed early this morning by a negro whom he had placed under arrest. Officers arrived on the scene soon after the shooting and exchanged shots with the negro, who escaped after being chased several blocks.

The negro had been arrested on suspicion of being a house prowler who has caused considerable trouble of late. McCarthy searched the negro for weapons, but overlooked the weapon he had concealed in his shoe.

Prayer by Compass; Musselmans Locate East In London Fog

London, Sept. 27.—Praying by compass may have its disadvantages and all that, but if you were a devout Musselman from the hinterland of Sudan and found yourself housed for the first time in a London hotel you'd either have to pray by compass or not at all.

Sir Said Ali El Morghani, Said Abd El Rahman El Mahdi and their dark-skinned companions of the Sudanese diplomatic mission to King George find themselves in this predicament. Wherefore when the prophet's sacred hour of prayer draws near and each Sudanese gentleman gets out his little prayer rug to lay between the rosewood clothes press and the brass bedstead in the Hotel Savoy's more or less palatial "royal suite," the single magnetic needle brought along from Africa as part of the company's necessary equipment points unerringly to the blessed east.

So each devout follower of Mohammed knows just how to place his prayer rug in relation to that part of smoky London revealed by the windows.

The visits of the chiefs of tribes in the Sudan to Buckingham palace drew a large crowd to the gates to see these very stately and imposing personages in their flowing white dress. They came from the Sudan, where not many years ago Kitchener was leading a British army, to congratulate the king on the victory of the allies. The head of the mission is Sir Said Ali El Morghani, whose loyal address to the king was interpreted from the Arabic by Sir Reginald Wingate.

One point in the speech was that, whereas former wars only decided the fate of belligerent nations, this war had involved the future of all weak nations, among which was the Sudan. He spoke also of the loyalty of the Sudanese during the war in spite of the intrigues of the enemy.

Then a beautiful gold sword was presentd to the king by Said Abd El Rahman El Mahdi, who is a son of the Mahdi whose fame was once so great, with oriental expressions of fealty and submission.

The king replied at some length, asking the chiefs to convey to the tribes in the Sudan his appreciation of their loyalty and wishes for the welfare of the country. The chiefs received decorations and on leaving the palace drove to the York House.

There is, of course, considerable political importance in this ceremonial visit.

South Dakota Boasts First Memorial Park

Washington, Sept. 27.—Davidson county, South Dakota, is one of the first counties in the country to report a memorial grove planting to the American Forestry association. Hitchcock park, at Mitchell, will be turned into a memorial park by additional tree planting and a boulder placed in the center with the names of the county heroes. The American Forestry association is registering all memorial trees in a national honor roll.

Corsets to be Dearer.

London.—Corsets will cost still more next spring, owing to the higher wages paid workers and the increased price of steels from the United States. Already the cheaper qualities are three times the pre-war price, and the new advance will very nearly quadruple the 1914 selling price.

Cattle—There were no cattle of any consequence here today, the week's total of 53,700 head, while over 10,000 smaller than a week ago, was a little larger than most traders expected. The heaviest feeder demand of the season featured the market this week and stockers an feeders of all classes advanced 50c to $1.00. The heavy buying of stockers and feeders made such inroads on the supply of fat cattle that packers also had to boost prices in order to get stuff enough to supply their needs, and as a result western cattle of all description are generally 50c to $1.00 higher for the week.

Quotations on cattle: Choice to prime beeves, $16.00@17.00; good to choice beeves, $14.50@16.00; fair to good beeves, $13.00@14.50; common to fair beeves, $11.00@13.00; choice to prime yearlings, $16.50@17.50; good to choice yearlings, $15.00@16.50; fair to good yearlings, $12.00@14.50; comon to fair yearlings, $10.00@12.00; good to choice heifers, $8.00@10.00; choice to prime cows, $9.50@10.50; good to choice cows, $7.50@9.00; fair to good cows, $6.50@7.50; common to fair cows, $5.00@6.50; choice to prime heavy feeders, $12.00@13.00; good to choice feeders, $10.00@11.75; medium to good feeders, $8.50@10.00; common to fair feeders, $7.00@8.00; good to choice stockers, 9.50@11.50; fair to good stockers, $8.00@9.50; common to fair stockers, $6.00@7.00; stock heifers, $6.25@8.50; stock cows, $5.75@7.25; stock calves, $6.25@8.50; veal calves, $7.00@14.00; bulls, stags, etc., $5.50@7.50; choice to prime grass beeves, $13.00@14.75; good to choice grass beeves, $10.50@12.50; fair to good grass beeves, $8.50@10.00; common to fair grass beeves, $6.00@8.00; Mexican beeves, $6.00@9.00.

Hogs—Receipts of hogs this week have been fairly liberal, total for the six days being a trifle over 11,000 more than last week, reaching 31,800 head. The market has worked lower practically every day since Monday, a little strength showing up today with bulk of sales today at $15.75@16.00 and top of $17.15.

Trade has been characterized by a weak undertone and more or less discrimination against heavy packing sows with a liberal carryover nearly every day. Quality of the receipts has been fairly good, although there has been a decided scarcity of well finished light weight hogs and very liberal proportion of heavy sows. Today's market is generally 75c@$1.00 lower than last Saturday.

Sheep—No sheep and lambs were received today and trade remained unchanged. Marketing this week has been on a heavy scale, about 187,000 head showing up. Thin light lambs comprised the bulk and good killing grades were very scarce. Variations in fat lamb prices this week have been limited to a 50c spread, top moving from $14.50@15.00 and dropping back again at the close to $14.50. Compared with a week ago fat lambs are generally steady. Dullness has featured demand for fat sheep and prices are closing fully 50c under a week ago. Toppy ewes are not wanted above $6.25 with culls and canners selling as low as $2.00@3.50. Wethers claim a limit of about $8.50.

Country buyers are still taking most of the receipts but demand at present time is rather quiet. A light run Tuesday produced a $1.00 advance in feeding lambs, but trade since then has been slow at little easier figures, present values are about half dollar above those recorded a week ago. Best close-wooled lambs are selling at $11.75@12.00, medium to good grades $10.75@11.25 and the less desirable light weight feeders anywhere from $9.50@10.50. Good feeding ewes at $5.25@5.75.

Corn Continues to Slump During Last Week's Trading

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Notwithstanding assertions in some quarters that farm commodities have of late dropped to a point probably below the real cost of production, the downward slide of the corn market has made further progress this week. Corn prices this morning showed declines varying from ¾c to 3c a bushel compared with a week ago. Oats were unchanged to ¾c lower. In provisions, the differences ranged from $1.50 decline to $1.22½ advance.

One of the main reasons ascribed for the fresh setback in the value of corn was the prospect that this year the new crop would be ready to market much earlier than usual. In this connection, a good deal of notice was taken of the fact that one shipment of new corn was slated to arrive in Chicago Monday, beating previous records by about two weeks. Besides, reports indicated that new corn was conditioning rapidly in all sections, and that to an important extent the plan by which producers would systematically curtail offerings had failed to meet with general acceptance. The bearish influenence of the steel strike was completely discounted before hand.

Oats were steadied somewhat by a bulge in foreign exchange rates.

Lard rose owing to a big decrease in the warehouse stock of the commodity here. Other provisions weakened with corn.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Week-end adjustment of trades led to a material advance today in the value of new crop deliveries of corn, but September showed weakness. The market closed unsettled, ¾c net lower to 3⅛c gain, with December $1.25⅞ to $1.26 and May $1.23¼ to $1.23⅜. Oats finished 1½c to 2⅛c up, and provisions varied from 40c decline to a rise of $1.50.

General covering on the part of shorts in December and May corn kept those months on the up grade throughout the session. It was apparent, however, that holders of September contracts were liquidating and that, although September deliveries had been smaller than expected, any prospect of a squeeze in the remaining days of the month was not looked upon by many dealers as serious. On the other hand, the smallness of the September deliveries and the lightness of offerings tended to make shorts uneasy as to whether new crop supplies would come forward freely. Besides, hog quotations were higher, and bullish sentiment was indirectly encouraged by an advance in foreign exchange rates likely to stimulate the export of oats and provisions.

Oats displayed independent strength as a result of enlarged seaboard inquiry, supposed to be for Scandinavian countries.

Provisions averaged higher with grain and hogs. Packers bought lard.

FINANCIAL

New York, Sept. 27.—Wall street expressed today its strengthening belief in an early settlement of the steel strike by heavy purchases of leading stocks, most of which rose to highest prices of the week.

As a group, steels led the list, United States Steel making a gain of 2 points, and Bethlehem, which rivaled it in point of activity, rose 7 points.

Crucible steel was the central feature, however, its extreme advance to the new high record of $2.17 being accomplished at the further expense of the shorts. Crucible made a net gain of 11½ points, or a total of 26¾ since Thursday's final quotation.

Motors and allied specialties were next in speculative favor, almost a score of those issues finishing at gains of 2 to 4 points, equipments making similar improvement.

Sugar once more featured the food division, rising 3 to 10 points and shippings rose 2 to 7 points, the strongest issues being Atlantic-Gulf-United Fruit and American International.

Recent favorites, notably tobacco and oil, moved uncertainly, while leather, textiles and rails embraced the less active, but firm to strong stocks, maximum prices in many instances being registered at the close. Sales amounted to 775,000 shares.

The bank statement reported an increase of almost $72,000,000 in actual reserves, canceling last week's record deficit and leaving a moderate excess.

Buying of liberty issues was again the feature of the bond market, the list as a whole reflecting the strength of stocks. Total sales, par value, aggregated $6,400,000. Old United States 2s gained ½ and the 4s, ¼ on call during the week.

New York, Sept. 27.—The copper market has remained very quiet during the past week. Steel Strike Affects All Trading On Stock Market

New York, Sept. 27.—The steel strike dwarfed all other developments of the week in the stock market, but the upward course of prices in the later dealings indicated strong hopes that normal conditions in that industry soon would be restored.

Shares of the many manufacturing concerns largely if not wholly dependent upon stability in the steel trade maintained a firm tone with pronounced strength and several sensational advances in specialties.

Metal reflected a moderate revival of speculative interest although trade conditions, indicated by the poor earnings of the American Smelting company and lower prices for refined copper were not encouraging.

Rails were again the one important group to show little animation, interest in that quarter being limited to shares of secondary or reorganized properties in which gains were mostly cancelled.

Industrial unrest retarded new financing, the one large offering consisting of American Telephone notes amounting to $50,000,000 taken by a prominent banking syndicate. It is understood that several foreign loans and commercial credits are nearing consummation.

General domestic trade as reported by the mercantile agencies continues to be adversely influenced by strike disorders, there having already caused cancellation of orders and in other ways checked commercial expansion.

Weekly Metal Review.

New York, Sept. 27.—Steel plants generally throughout the affected areas have reported since the first day of the strike on Monday, last, steady gains, both in the volume of activity and also in the number of men reporting for work each succeeding shift.

The local trade continues optimistic as to the final outcome of the strike agitation and there have been few instances where consumers of steel have been pinched in the matter of supplies of semi-finished products.

In pig iron the volume of business is reported moderate, but there has been little dimunition in general activity owing to the strike. Prices are firm and business is being placed at a steady rate of delivery in 1920.

In copper the market continues quiet. The producers are holding firmly at 23½ cents a pound, September, and 24 cents October-November. Some interests in the local trade are shading prices and a level of 21½ cents a pound is reported here. In exports there is nothing to report at the moment. The lead market continues firm. The tin market continues fairly quiet and prices are somewhat easier.
