They hoped that the luck of the fourth was to be with them in this game. Gandil grounded to Daubert, whose throw to the plate cut off Weaver. Jackson made third on the play and Gandil was safe at first. He stole second and all eyes turned on the Sox shortstop, Risberg, Risberg waited for three balls and two strikes and then popped out feebly to Daubert. Sallee, the Red pitcher, was thus saved from the tightest hole of the game for him. In the Red's half Williams began his ascension. Rath walked and advanced on Daubert's sacrifice. Gron also received a passage and then Roush singled to center, scoring Rath and placing Groh on third. Roush attempted to steal, but was Roush at Roush attempted to steal, but was pegged out by Schalk, Groh makinfi no attempt to leave third. Duncan also waited for four bad ones and he and Groh rode home on Kopf's triple to the left field fence. The agony was ended for Chicago when Neale was thrown out, Eddie Col-lins to Gandil. The stands were in a tumult and many looked down the side lines to see if any Sox pitchers were warming up, but there were none in sight. In the fifth an error by Risberg and a single by Rariden placed Reds on the bases, but Dau-bert, Groh and Sallee flew out and nothing came of it. Roush in the sixth received his second pass and he completed the circuit on Duncan's sacrifice and Neale's single This ended the Red scoring.

With one out in the seventh, Chicago made a new bid for the game and with the assistance of certain fielding eccentricties of their opponents got two runners across the plate. Gandil, the first man up was out at first, but Risberg singled to left and Schalk to the other corner the field. Neale attempted to head Schalk off at second, but his throw went into the crowd near third base and Risberg and Schalk scored before the ball was retrieved. Williams struck out and John Col-lins flied out to Roush. In the lins flied out to Roush. In the ninth the Sox made a desperate effort to call the contest out of the fort to pull the contest out of the fire. Gandil singled to center, but Risberg's savage blow went to Rath and Gandil and Risberg were a lightning like play. Schalk singled to center and Mc-Mullen was called up as a pinch terday, he singled, but today he was an easy victim.

Goudy After Restoration to Health Is Enthusiastic Over Tanlac.

"Yes sir, gentlemen, you've got the only medicine in the world that will really fix a man up the way he wants to be," said W. C. "If I had known about seven years ago," continued Mr. Goudy, "what I do now about Tanlac I his torwould have been saved all this torment that I've had to go through with. My worst trouble was right in the small of my back and I had such terrible pains that it seemed like somebody was driving a sharp twoedged knife right through me. I had to be careful even the way I turned over in bed or the pain in my back would nearly take my breath, and as time went on, the pain became so great that I could hardly sit still long enough to send a telegram. They all told me I had an awful bad case of kidney trouble, but it all started from stomach trouble I know, because years before this I suffered terribly from fermentation and severe burning like a coal of fire in my stomach. I had a poor appetite and the little I ate soured on my stomach and caused gas to form, and my nerves were all to

"About this time I began to notice where Tanlac was helping people right along and I decided to see if it would do me any good. I thought Tanlac might help me a little but I never had the least idea it would knock all my troubles to the winds and put me on my feet like it has. Why, I never felt better in my life and don't have even so much as an uncomfortable feeling and you just ought to see me eat and no matter what I eat I don't have any bad effects. I don't have a trace of those old pains in my back now and I've forgotten how all that agony felt, and my nerves are in perfect shape, too. I'll tell you I just feel like a man ought to feel-strong, happy and well, and all the praise goes to Tanlac for it did it all."

Tanlac is sold in Omaha at all Sherman & McConnell Drug Com-pany's stores, Harvard Pharmacy and West End Pharmacy. Also Forrest and Meany Drug Company in South Omaha and the leading druggist in each city and town through out the state of Nebraska.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 2.-With the Reds victorious in the first two games of the series, the demand for tickets to the third contest to be played in Cincinnati next Monday was greater than ever. The scalpers decided to hold their tickets un til Monday, believing they would be able to get enormous prices.

"Wait until we get 'em on ou home grounds," was the cry from the White Sox camp. This was taken to mean that the men of Gleason intend to give the Reds a beating.

The crowd did not begin to fil the stands as early as on Wednes-day. Holders of reserved seat tickets were much slower in arriving. There was a steady stream entering tered at a world's series. the stands when play began.

Commerce and South High School Grid

The first big foot ball game of the season will be played this afternoon then Coach Drummond's charges will clash with the South Omaha High eleven. This will undoubtedly e the biggest gridiron conest for hese teams in Omaha. An appealing feature is that it will be entirely a local game, both teams having an abundance of followers. Thirty husky Packers have been going through strenuous practice for the past three weeks at the school campus. They are full of 'pep" and expect to give the busi-ness lads a hard trimming. Coach Drummond has had his men go through the signal and scrimmage practice for three weeks and is confident that his warriors will be the victors. "Stonewall" Krasne, a heavy and

He was on the Central High school squad several years ago.
