

CLAIMS SHORT WEIGHT FROM STREET PEDDLER

Buyer Also Says License Inspector Refused to Test Measure to Ascertain Fraud.

J. E. Rickerett, 2124 Davenport street, claims that after his family had been cheated out of three and one-half pounds in weight on two pecks of potatoes last Monday by two peddlers, who had no license on their wagon, he called the police station and was referred to the weights and measures office in the city hall. They referred him to the license inspector, Samuel L. Rickerett, who came out to his house and allowed the peddlers to go free after refusing to be shown that Rickerett had been swindled, he says.

The peddlers claimed that their license was on another wagon, which they had left at home. Mr. Rickerett says the peck sold to his wife was two pounds short and the one sold his daughter was one and a half pounds short.

"I had my boy follow the peddlers until Mr. Fried came out," said Rickerett. "When he approached the men, they spoke to him as if they had known him all their lives. I test my scales nearly every week, and know they are correct. When Fried refused to go to my house and be shown that I had been cheated, I walked off. If a peddler can say that his license is home on another wagon whenever he is stopped, he can have all the wagons he wants out on the streets without licenses."

License Inspector Fried says Rickerett did not offer to take him to his house to weigh the potatoes or he would have gone and seen to it that he received the correct weight.

Fort Atkinson Centennial Celebration to Be Held At Fort Calhoun Next Saturday

Omaha Business Men Co-operate in Perfecting Plans For What Will Be One of the Most Important Events, from a Historical Standpoint, Ever Held in Nebraska—Special Train To Be Run from Here.

All is in readiness for the Fort Atkinson Centennial celebration to be held at Fort Calhoun next Saturday. Complete arrangements for the celebration, which is to be one of the most important ever held in the state from a historical standpoint, have been made under the direction of A. E. Sheldon, of the Nebraska State Historical society. A large number of Omaha business men and business organizations have co-operated in perfecting plans.

The program for the day includes a parade, exercises in the city park, band music, and addresses by Col. B. W. Atkinson of New York and leaders of the state historical societies of Nebraska, Wisconsin and Missouri.

In the afternoon the Lewis and Clark Memorial monument will be dedicated under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Other events scheduled for the afternoon are a picnic dinner, a pageant representing the first arrival of American troops on Nebraska soil, and dancing.

A huge float has been prepared by Gus Renze, artificer for Ak-Sar-Ben, which will be used in the pageant. Soldiers will erect a log cabin, the replica of the first dwelling built on Nebraska soil, and Indians will lend a picturesque and realistic touch to the pageant.

Important Historical Spot. Washington county, where Fort Calhoun is situated, is one of the most important historical spots in the state. In 1802 a French trading post was founded there; in 1804 Lewis and Clark invaded the county, and in 1819 old Fort Atkinson was founded.

The first white children born in Nebraska were born in Washington county. Among the first were Mrs. Anna Elizabeth Ruff, in 1824; Clark Kennedy, in November, 1824. It

Less Than Half of S. A. Fund In Hand; Drive Ends Tuesday

The Salvation Army home service fund drive for $203,000 in Omaha, which began two weeks ago, will end officially Tuesday evening. Almost nothing was done last week because of the riot excitement.

All persons who have not subscribed are urged to send cash or checks to John L. Kennedy, treasurer of the fund, 204 Kennedy building, or to the drive headquarters in the court house. Checks should be made payable to the Salvation Army Home Service fund. Less than half the quota of the city has been raised.

A meeting of chairmen of committees will be held Monday noon at the Chamber of Commerce.
