

LABOR DEPLORES RIOT VIOLENCE IN RESOLUTIONS

Omaha Central Body Condemns Apparent Lack of Preparedness After Alleged Warning.

Resolutions condemning in sincere terms scenes of lawlessness attending Sunday's riot, charging that the cause in a measure was due to tardiness of southern negroes brought to the city by "business interests," and deploring the apparent lack of co-operation between state and city authorities, were passed Friday night by the Omaha Central Labor union.

Condemns Violence.
The resolutions follow:
"The Omaha Central Labor union, representing organized labor in this city, deplors and condemns all forms of violence and such scenes as occurred in Omaha on Sunday, September 28, 1919.

"We feel that the people of this city should know that the bringing to our midst of large numbers of illiterate and degenerate negroes from the south was brought about by the business interests of this city, and that the responsibility for the outrages and crimes in the past few months should be laid at the doors of those primarily responsible for the presence of such violators of our social and political laws.

Deplore Unpreparedness.
"We deplore the lack of co-operation between state and city governments; press reports that the governor had in his possession information of the intended riot the Friday preceding the outbreak, and that no steps were taken in Omaha to prevent the lynching, with the destruction of public and private property.

"The organized workers, both white and black, will always work together in harmony, and will continue to uplift and improve conditions wherever necessary."

OUTLINE PLANS FOR RECEPTION OF ROYALTY HERE

Governor, Mayor and Committee to Meet King and Queen of Belgians at Station.

John W. Gamble, president of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday telegraphed William Phillips acting secretary of state at Washington, D. C., outlining tentative plans for the reception of the king and queen of the Belgians when they visit Omaha.

The message was sent after a conference between Acting Mayor Ure, F. A. Brogan and Mr. Gamble Friday.

Governor McKelvie, Mayor Smith, if he is able, and a committee of representative citizens will meet the royal party at the railroad station on their arrival, according to the present plans. The governor will give a short address of welcome.

The king will then be taken to inspect packing houses and cold storage plants on the South Side. The queen will be taken to the principal hospitals by a committee of women.

Separate luncheons will be served for the king and queen, after which they will be taken for a tour of the parks and boulevards.

Latest advices received here are that the royal party will arrive in Omaha October 20.

The Thompson Belden Store

A column of store news descriptive of various things which are either new, unusual or merely very beautiful.

Individuality

—that intangible quality which establishes the happy medium between the conventional and bizarre is the keynote of Thompson Belden apparel.

CLEVER little capes, reaching only to the elbows are the latest arrivals in the Fur Room. Made entirely of Hudson seal or trimmed with natural squirrel, they have large rolling collars that are most becoming and a swagger little flare in back that makes them extremely smart when worn with the straight-lined Autumn tailors.

In our comprehensive display of all that is finest in Suits, Day Dresses, Wraps, and Evening Gowns You will find garments of exquisite design, fabric, quality and craftsmanship.

THESE severely plain, round-necklines are usually trying unless some diverting trinket is added. And since we may not all own diamond and platinum pins the new rhinestone bar pins are next best. Designed with as great an artistry as the finer ones, in dainty filigree patterns in a setting of silverite, they are inexpensive, charming and in perfect taste.

Now Note This

Owners Reflect a Definite Joy in its Operation that is Unusual and Distinct

Essex Quality

You have observed that owners are unusually proud of the Essex.

They manifest it in their speech, their driving and the particular way in which they care for their car.

Such enthusiasm is natural to all who know it. You catch some of its influence if you watch the Essex and the owner in action.

Note Their Joy As They Drive

People drive the Essex with evident joy. The buoyancy of its response to the throttle is distinctive. Haven't you noticed how Essex drivers seem to fit in with the action of the car? They are alert and confident. The Essex responds to every whim of the driver. It glides as smoothly as a canoe drifting down stream or rushes silently by with the speed and freedom of a bird.

It is a quality that accounts for motor-pleasure.

All cars run, no one questions that. Most of them travel fast enough. But there is a difference in the way they run. The Essex is speedy without offering protest in sound of effort.

Do They Analyze the Causes?

Certainly most owners do not examine the causes which account for Essex performance.

When they tell you of its buoyancy they do not, as a rule, explain that light weight, a powerful motor and a rigid frame, all carefully balanced, is the explanation.

Nor do they mention mechanical construction when they tell you how easy it is to drive the Essex, or how comfortably it rides.

They Accept it as They Do its Performance

Of course we know why the Essex is giving such satisfaction. It is a new type.

Because of its lightness as well as durability, its economy and at the same time performance, men accept it as it was designed to be, the car of tomorrow, the embodiment of all that is desirable in both the light weight car and the large costly automobile.

It meets all service needs as owners of large, costly cars have learned to know those qualities. Yet it is moderately priced, and the operating cost is comparable to that of light cars. The Essex has proved that performance, durability, moderate cost and economy of operation may all be found in one car.

The Essex calls for little attention. It is free from many annoyances that interfere with the pleasure of motoring. It is because the Essex meets every motoring need without requiring much attention to keep it in running condition, that people speak of it as they do.
