

COMMERCE BODY ASKS ACTION TO PREVENT RIOTS

Omaha C. of C. Makes Recommendations With View of Guarding Against Recurrence of Disorders.

The Omaha Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Tuesday passed the following recommendations with a view of preventing a recurrence of the riots here:

"1. At a special session of the legislature, if one should be held at this time, or at the next regular session, we recommend changes in the laws relating to the city government of Omaha so as to enable the building up of a more efficient police force. The city government should be given more powers and a greater latitude in the following particulars:

"(a). The city should have power to appropriate and expend a sufficient amount of money to secure the formation of an adequate police force.

"(b). It should have power to keep this force efficient by promotion for merit and not for seniority alone, and by making removals for the good of the service and not solely on proving charges of misconduct.

Better Police Pay.
"(c). The number of the police force should be increased by at least 125 men and they should be paid such wages as will enable the administration to secure the best available material.

"(d). The law should be so changed as to permit the selection of a trained chief of police and inspector of police from any part of the country where he may be found.

"2. We recommend that the city government within its present powers and such enlarged powers as it may receive through legislation, take the following action:

"(a). A trained inspector of police should be appointed.

"(b). There should be a competent chief of police with police training and experience, but not necessarily appointed from the present force, who shall see that the rules of the department are rigidly enforced.

"(c). The force should be equipped at the city's expense, with adequate weapons for use in case of riot.

"(d). When the city government has determined which member of its body it will place in charge of the police department, it should give support to that administration so long as it maintains the police commissioner in office.

Need New City Jail.
"(e). The city should proceed with its plans for the construction of a modern city jail. The office of the chief of police and his staff should be maintained in such building.

"3. Recognizing that there is no form or machinery of government which can maintain law and order in a community without the action of the people themselves, we call for the creation and development in this community of a greater respect for law and order, and loyal support of the elected representatives of the people while administering a public office. We especially deplore any studied attempt to discredit a public administration by exploiting false chances."

Funeral Services Held For Dr. Ira W. Porter
The funeral of Dr. Ira Porter was held yesterday at the Porter home, 422 North Thirty-first street. Rev. Titus Lowe, pastor of the First Methodist church, conducted the services.

The active pallbearers were F. R. Straight, H. F. Richardson, Dr. A. D. Cloyd, J. Fitzgerald, A. E. Becker and D. E. McCulley. Honorary pallbearers were A. E. Bradshaw, W. A. Fraser, John T. Yates, B. W. Jewel, T. W. Blackburn, Frank Fields, F. L. Adams and Fred B. Dale.

Burial was in Forest Lawn cemetery.

Woman Arrested On Charge Of Threat to Shoot Officer
Frankie LaPorte, 1412 Chicago street, threatened to shoot Special Officer Royce when he entered her home to arrest her Tuesday night for vagrancy, the officer said. Royce called Central police station and Policemen Cich and Samardick arrested her for vagrancy and threatening to shoot. Cich took the gun away from the LaPorte woman when she aimed the weapon at them, they say.

Make Rich Haul
Boring holes through the rear door of a tailoring establishment at 1612 Capitol avenue Tuesday night, thieves entered and stole $400 worth of merchandise, according to a report to police yesterday.

The loot consisted of one dozen suits of men's clothing, three bolts of cloth, two suitcases and $50 in cash.

Style Notes

As Compiled By Our Shopper

SUCH exquisite creations newly arrived in our Misses' Department. One attractive afternoon frock, which would also do duty for theater wear and restaurant dinners is made of African brown taffeta and point de esprete. It has a very full underskirt of the taffeta, shirred at the waistline and again at the hem, giving the skirt a quaint harem effect. The overskirt is also very full, and is made of the point de esprete having a ruching of the taffeta at the hem. The draped bodice of brown taffeta ends in a sash showing a lining of henna colored satin, and was held in place with an autumn bouquet. The sleeves are of the point de esprete and in elbow length with cuff of the brown taffeta showing a trace of the henna shade.

A Beautiful Evening gown is in the famous blue and black combination. The foundation being of a soft—supple satin in black. The overdress is of cavalry blue silk net heavily embroidered with jet. It has a simple girde bodice of solid jet, cut very décolleté in front, and having a Russian panel of the blue net embroidered in jet in the back. This panel is caught to the front of the bodice with jet ornaments and the waistline is accented with a huge fluffy bow of black tulle.

Words prove inadequate to describe the loveliness of the new evening coats. They are so beautiful and yet withal so simple and girlish in line.
