"Home Folks" Know Best

HERE'S A LETTER from "Home folks" telling of an experience with a Charter Oak Stove that had seen service for sixty-four years—and expressing their continued fidelity to this tried and true brand.

MAPLEWOOD, ST. LOUIS COUNTY, MO.,
7316 Sarah Street.
CHARTER OAK STOVE & RANGE CO.,
St. Louis, Mo.

Gentlemen:—My parents bought a Charter Oak Stove in 1855. My mother used it constantly every day until 1909, when it passed into my wife's possession, and she used it without needing any repairs, up to February 28, 1916, sixty-four years' use. In 1916 it was destroyed by a dynamite explosion which wrecked our home. Of course we have remained loyal to the Charter Oak. Yours truly,
Signed CHAS. A. WILHARDT.

There are Charter Oaks in all parts of the United States still in use that have given 50 years or more satisfactory service.

3900 dealers in U.S.—135 dealers in St. Louis sell them.

If your dealer tries to talk you into buying another make, write to us.

Achieving the Ultimate in Phonographic Music

By Means of Two
Exclusive and Scientific Features

THE Brunswick Method of Reproduction gained instant and wide-spread public favor because it enriches the tone qualities of all records. For this alone it is adored by artists and approved by the hypercritical. It embodies the true principles of tone reproduction and complies with the established laws of acoustics in projecting tone. Two revolutionary factors, among others essentially different from other phonographs, make this possible. They are the Ultona and the Tone Amplifier.

The Ultona Plays All Records

The Ultona—a product of creative genius—enables one to play all make records on the Brunswick. Not a combination contrivance nor complex mechanism, yet involving a fundamental principle of sound. By a slight turn of the hand it supplies the proper needle, correct weight and precise diaphragm.

The Amplifier Enriches Tone

As the name implies it amplifies tone, making it truer and sweeter. It is a vibrant tone chamber like the sounding board of a fine piano or violin. Constructed entirely of moulded hollywood and free from metal, it gives the requisite resilience for unfolding and projecting true tone.

A Warm, Nourishing Meal for Five Cents

Doesn't seem possible in these days of profiteering and high cost of living, does it? Prove it for yourself. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits (little loaves of baked whole wheat) will cost you in most stores a fraction over two cents. Serve them with three cents' worth of hot milk and you will have a warm, nourishing, satisfying meal for five cents. All the nutriment you need for a half day's work. The most real food for the least money.

CLUB DOM

Tuesday Musical Club to Launch Drive for New Members.

Mrs. A. V. Kinsler, vice president, Tuesday Musical club, at a meeting of the board of directors and committees at the Fontenelle hotel Tuesday morning was appointed to act as membership secretary during the absence of Mrs. C. W. Ax-tell from the city. Membership in the club is open to both men and women, and musical students are especially urged to join. Application blanks may be obtained from teachers and when filled out should be returned to Mrs. Kinsler, 3866 Farnam street. Mrs. R. Beecher Howell, at Harney 6621, is president of the club.

The opening program of the Tuesday Musical club for the season, 1919-1920, will be given on the evening of November 17, when Sophie Braslan, contralto, will be presented in a joint recital with Albert Spalding, America violinist. The club is happy to announce that Adolf Bolm Ballet Intime and the Little Symphony have been definitely engaged for the closing program Saturday, April 24. Gallery membership for the series of concerts is again offered to any lover of music who does not wish to take an active membership.

Mrs. A. H. Allerheiligen, 606 North Thirty-third street, will be hostess on Friday at a 1 o'clock luncheon for the Omaha Dorcas club. The club will sew for the visiting nurses' association.

Advice to the Lovelorn

Loves Comes Unbidden and, "To Love or Not We Are No More Free Than the Ripple to Rise and Leave the Sea."

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Games for Social.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: This is the first time I have written to you, though mine is not a case of love. I would like to know if you can suggest some games to be played at a Christian Endeavor social? Thanking you in advance, I am,
"BROWN EYES."

The success of games for a social, or any large group of people, depends upon keeping everybody active. Only a few suggestions can be given here:

1. Divide into two groups, and have one side sing "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and the other, "There's a Long, Long Trail." You will find that these songs harmonize. Have a good leader, who has run over the songs beforehand, because the rhythm is very important.

2. Have a clothespin race. Divide up into sides—men against women, or "choose up." Form two long lines. Use 10 pins for a side. Lay the pins on a chair, and at a signal the first person in the line starts, passing the pins one at a time. Have a chair at the foot of each line and two judges, to watch that everybody passes every pin on his side. The side first getting the 10 pins safely deposited on the chair at the foot of the line, wins. This will be found an exciting game.

3. Charades are good fun.

4. Give each person 10 beans. If he answers "yes," "no," or "I don't know" to anyone asking him a question, he forfeits a bean. This stimulates conversation. At the end of a certain number of minutes count beans to see who wins.

5. Divide up into groups of four. Have each one of the four sing a different song.

6. Pin the name of an animal on each person's back. Have everyone treat him like that animal, and talk to him in appropriate terms, until he guesses his own name. Then the name can be taken off. You can use famous characters instead of animals, or books for the tags.

Rare Rudeness.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: We are asking your advice, for we are undecided about whether some things are proper or not. We are twin girls of 18 years and enjoy having good times. We were taken to a neighboring town one evening to a dance by a couple of young men from our home town. When we arrived they did not care to dance, so by their request we went to the hall. When time for supper they did not care to wait, so two boys we were well acquainted with from that town took us to supper. After supper we went back to the hall, not seeing the other boys we had come with. Was this the proper thing to do? When time to go home they did not appear at the dance. Had we ought to come home with the boys we came with, or the boys we went to supper with, as they had asked us? We would like to see this in print.

TWINS.

The boys who took you to the dance and then refused to go into the hall were exceedingly rude. I think you should have asked them to take you home at that point. A girl with any pride would have been greatly embarrassed over the evening's procedure. You should have returned home with the boys who took you to the dance.

Milly—You should go to your doctor for a prescription regarding your weight. There are so many fads nowadays that one has to use clear discrimination in matters pertaining to health. Plenty of rest, good food, exercise and free drinking of water are calculated to develop one's health. There is no denying that certain foods are more fattening than others—milk, sugar and potatoes, for example. The milk chocolate is good food, but should not be eaten between meals. Dancing is good exercise in itself, but is often detrimental in that it robs young people of much-needed sleep. The old-fashioned waltz is again in vogue. Your grammar and penmanship are very good. Consult a business college about getting work in penmanship. Good writing is an asset to a bookkeeper.

A True Democrat.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: Could you please tell me what nationality a child is that is born on board a ship in the middle of the ocean? Yours of CURIOSITY.

A child of the world—a true democrat. Tell me the parents' nationality and I will answer your question.

Thank You—Please watch for answers to your questions in the legal column. This column appears on the editorial page on Wednesday of each week. Your questions relate to law, and not to love.

Some of the Mothers (Custer County)—There are state laws under which people who are guilty of the crime you describe can be prosecuted. Publication of your letters in these columns would only spread evil thought. See your county attorney and try to remedy the situation yourself.

Peggy and Polly.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: We have been reading your columns for a long time, and as you gave so much good advice to others we thought maybe you could help us. We are two girls, 17 years of age, and seniors. One of us is a blonde and the other is a brunette, but we are not of those "beautiful" girls who mail the boys rave over, though we have boy friends. We both intend to be teachers next year. One of us went with a returned soldier for a long time, and one day the boy stopped coming without any

Fashion Dispatch

Washington, Oct. 9.—(Special to The Bee.)—The capital is busy preparing for loyalty. Entertainments being planned for the prince of Wales and for king and queen of Belgium are keeping the city agog, socially and commercially.

Hostesses are in the throes of ordering not only elaborate dresses and accessories, but are refurbishing and buying the hundred and one things necessary to getting their houses in order for such history-making events. There will be several prominent debutantes this winter to add to the interest of a season which promises to eclipse in brilliancy anything heretofore known in Washington.

December 11, is the date set for the first of the White House official dinners. Other dates are January 8, February 19 and 26, and March 4, and 11.

explanations. The girl did not understand and she told one of his friends she wished to see him and he replied he did not care to see her. Later she heard through his friend that he had heard she had been telling lies and he wished to know if it was true or not. So one day he said he wished to see her, but she refused to see him. Did she do right? Should he have had a chance to explain? At the same time she had started to go with another man, who would certainly have been "peevish" if she had made up with the first one. The second one was considered much the nicest man. What should she have done? The other girl loves a boy who does not care for her, so she has simply given up in despair. We would like to see this in print in either Wednesday or Saturday's Daily Bee.

Sincerely PEGGY AND POLLY.

There isn't much to your question. The first girl should conduct herself with courtesy toward the first young man, who apparently doesn't know how to be courteous himself, and should make it a point hereafter to deal directly with people, and not tell somebody to tell somebody else that she would like to speak to him. That is too round-about and misunderstandings too easily occur.

Mother's Pension.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I wrote to you about a week ago and you did not answer, so will try again. I have a dear friend who lost her husband and she is left with a small baby. Could you please tell me where we will go to see about a widow's pension, as she surely needs help. Thanking you in advance I will look for an answer.

A SUBSCRIBER.

Your letter was answered, or at least one asking the same question. There is a state law providing a pension for mothers. You should see Judge A. C. Troup of this city, who was located in the court house before the fire. Call up the court house, or his residence, and find out where his office is located.

Nurse's Training.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I read your advice to others and now am coming to you myself. I would like to take up training in a hospital. Does it require high school education? I took up a course in Boyles college and now I work in an office, but I am not satisfied. I have always been a nurse, so don't think it only a fancy. Where shall I apply?

A. R. Some hospitals require a high school education of their entrants. Others require merely "the equivalent," and during the war emergency girls with even less education were able to take a course of training. See the Red Cross chapter here and talk with some of the nurses. They will advise you how to proceed. Or address by mail the superintendent of nurses in any hospital in which you are interested.

Uninvited Guests.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: My sister is now visiting me. She has just received a letter saying that her husband and brother have been invited out for Thanksgiving dinner. But the invitation happened not to include us. (I am to return with her next week.) Please advise us what we should do about it order to be present at the dinner?

We will both be obliged if you would answer at your very earliest convenience, as it is extremely urgent. Signed,
THE UNDECIDED TWO.

It looks to me as though you would not be present at the dinner, since you are not invited. People may invite whom they choose to their homes, but if the invitation does not please the recipients they need not accept. I should think it would be incumbent upon your husband to decline the invitation. Unless the party is for "men only" it was the height of rudeness for the hostess to omit the wife. Perhaps she does not understand you and your sister are to be at home on Thanksgiving.
