

ONE AIRPLANE HELD IN OMAHA UNTIL MONDAY

Field Record Established When Nine Transcontinental Airmen Stopped Here Yesterday.

(Continued From Page One.) Last two days by severe rainstorms. No less than 20 planes are being held at eastern control stations because of the inclement weather.

Forced Out of Lead. Captain Smith, who was the first pilot from the west to arrive in Omaha, reaching this station Thursday night, was forced out of the lead in the east yesterday by Lt. E. C. Kiel.

Captain Smith ran into a severe storm and was forced to descend about an hour and a half. He reached Buffalo, however, here he again rejoined Major Spatz and Lieutenant Kiel, who were held up by the control officer because of the severe storms.

Crowd at Field. With the moderating of the weather Friday, a larger crowd of aviation enthusiasts gathered at Ak-Skiblick field to witness the landing and departure of the flyers who are engaged in the longest aerial flight ever attempted, a trip across the United States and return, a distance of 5,400 miles.

As a result of this fact, military guards on duty at the field were instructed yesterday morning to keep the civilians 200 feet away from the flying field. Friday the crowd gathered on the field as each plane came to a stop and greatly hampered the work of the ground mechanics who must refuel the gasoline tanks, put oil and clean and adjust the mechanism of the "hips of the air."

'Flying Parson' Wins First Leg of Derby

(Continued From Page One.) Minutes and 20 seconds which Spatz lost in taking off again from Hazelhurst that allowed them to touch their wheels first at Roosevelt. Aviator raised the question of whether Major Spatz should not be credited with having been first to land the west to east race.

Major Spatz found awaiting him at Roosevelt field his mother, father, brother and sister, who had come from their home in Pennsylvania to greet him.

Little Over Day for Trip. San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 11.—First Lieut. Belvin W. Maynard, army aviator and Baptist minister of Kerr, N. C., ate breakfast with his family in Mineola, L. I., on last Wednesday morning and lunch in San Francisco early this afternoon.

After half circling the aviation field at the Presidio, Lieutenant Maynard brought his "ship" to the ground at 1:12:07. He had covered the 2,701 miles from Mineola in the unofficial time of 24 hours, 58 minutes and 55.12 seconds.

Enjoyed Trip Greatly. "It was a great trip. I enjoyed it immensely," said Lieutenant Maynard on landing. Both members of the plane's crew looked tired and weather beaten, but they smiled happily and weathered the barrage of compliments in good shape.

Others Follow on Heels. Following closely on the heels of Captain Drayton were Donald L. S. Webster, Capt. J. O. Donaldson and Lieut. Alex Pearson Jr. The first landed at Salduro, Utah, at 4:09 p. m., mountain time, and Captain Donaldson arrived three minutes later at 4:12. Lieutenant Pearson dropped at the same station at 5:22:55 p. m.

Lt. C. C. Kiel and Sgt. J. McKee

Lt. J. J. Sweetley and Capt. H. C. Drayton

Lt. Belvin W. Maynard and his mechanic, W. E. Kline, the first transcontinental pilot and observer to land in Omaha during the course of the aerial derby now in progress and who landed in San Francisco, yesterday afternoon, the first aerial passengers ever crossing the United States. At the upper right appear Lt. E. C. Kiel, and Sgt. F. McKee, his observer, of plane No. 61, who left Omaha Friday morning, going east. He is the second pilot to go out of Omaha from west to east. In the lower left hand picture is Capt. H. C. Drayton, pilot, and Lt. F. J. Sweetley, observer, of the second plane going west, to pass through Omaha. He is the nearest competitor that Lt. Maynard had to contend with in his flight to California. The lower right picture is that of Maj. Carl Spatz and Sgt. E. Tanner, his mechanic, who gained the honor of piloting the western contingent of flyers from Capt. L. H. Smith yesterday, when Capt. Smith was forced to make a landing when he lost his direction during a severe storm near Buffalo, N. Y.

Phonograph Corporation to Establish Factory Here

Plans are in progress by the directors of the United Phonograph corporation to erect a factory here for the manufacture of their improved phonograph. The factory will be a distinct addition to the growing industries of the city, and that it will occupy a leading and substantial position in the Omaha business world is attested by the fact that C. A. Briggs, district manager of the Brunswick-Balke-Connor Co. has resigned to become vice-president and sales manager of the new concern.

South Side Ten Suspects Show They Have Money or Work

Alex Danner, Jess Brooks, O. F. Adkins, Frank Hundt and Abe Thomas, colored, in South Side police court on charges of vagrancy were discharged by Acting Judge Baldwin. Alex Danner had a bank book showing a balance of over $300. All of the men showed that they had jobs.

Bee Carrier Says Negro Warned Him to Quit Work

Mike Altmsted, 1035 Dominion street, a carrier for The Bee, reported to his manager on the South Side that, Thursday night while carrying his papers, a negro stopped him and said, "Never carry that Bee no more if you know what's good for you." Again Friday night he was stopped by a negro at Eighth and Spring streets, he says. The negro tripped him and abused him. Later the negro said that any boy who came there with a Bee "wouldn't come no more."

With reference to its value as a commercial proposition, Engineer Kelsey has expressed his formal opinion as follows: "I am disposed to advise you that it appears to be one of those basic inventions upon which large manufacturing successes are founded. I will call your attention, also, to the very high commercial advertising value of an electro-magnetic reproducer as distinguished from the ordinary mechanical reproducer, as the public are unquestionably quick to become interested in devices of an electrical nature. In reply to your request as to valuation, I can advise you that I would consider $250.00 not at all high."

LABOR CONGRESS WORKING TOWARD MEDIATION PLAN

Members Endeavoring to Secure Concessions From Corporations So Report May Be Made.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Interest in organized labor's effort to obtain intervention by the industrial conference in the steel strike shifted Saturday to New York and steel centers, where members of the "steering committee" of 15, which came to a deadlock over the resolution, are endeavoring to secure sufficient concessions from the steel corporations to enable the committee to agree upon a report to lay before the conference Tuesday. Members of the committee here pointed out that conference action would be useless unless the United States Steel corporation was willing to accept mediation by the conference and agree to reinstate the striking workmen, pending the report of the adjudication committee of six, proposed by Mr. Gompers. Judge E. H. Gary returned to New York, following the session of the conference, and is expected to confer with the board of directors of

Gayety Homecoming For Abe Reynolds And Beauty Chorus

The Gayety theater resembled a homecoming celebration when Abe Reynolds' Revue opened a week's engagement. The opening indicated that tremendous crowds would welcome this burlesque favorite and his Max Spiegel beauty chorus in "Among the Women." Outside of Mr. Reynolds, women feature the production, and clothes worn by the ladies of the chorus and principals are wonderful creations and called forth constant exclamations of surprise from the women in the audience. The stage settings are elaborate in all of the seven scenes. The Lingerie Shop combines the beauty of the gowns and scenery in a manner that is extremely pleasing. Abe Reynolds has a laugh in every line and well deserved the welcome accorded him. Gladys Parker in a soubrette role followed closely in the esteem of the audience. She has a good voice and is a clever dancer. Dottie Ray, in musical numbers, was well received. Bunny Dale, as a real vampire, not only vamped the actors in the play, but vamped her way into the good graces of all. Ray Leavitt and Arthur Mayer proved strong supporters for Mr. Reynolds. Three Sons of Jazzation brought down the house.
