DAME GRUNDY IS BUSY ON FIGHT IN LEGISLATURE

Rumors Fly Thick and Fast on Possibilities of Attempt to Pass Profiteering Law.

Lincoln, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Rumor comes to Lincoln that an attempt will be made by certain members of the legislature to put over legislation regarding profiteering not in the call made by the governor.

At the special session held last summer by a close vote the lower house passed a resolution calling upon the governor to call another special session to handle the profiteering proposition. Governor McKelvie refused to follow out the request because he contended that the state already had the authority. It is now understood that the same forces will again attempt to get the governor's goat.

May Cause Trouble.

Governor McKelvie will not discuss the matter, but others, some of them members who live in Lincoln, are of the opinion that if any of the Douglas county members who at the last special session take part in

OFFICER FORCED TO RETIRE FROM POLICE FORCE

Was In Service Twenty-Six Years—Now Tells About Tanlac.

"My health was so bad before I took Tanlac that my friends had given up all hope of ever seeing me a well man again, but now I'm enjoying the best of health," was the remarkable statement made by H. R. Damm, 217 North Orange street, Peoria, Ill. Mr. Damm has made Peoria his home for nearly half a century; he has the honor of serving on the police force about as long as any man in Peoria, which covered a period of 26 years of service before he retired some time ago, and he numbers his friends and acquaintances by the hundreds.

"I had suffered so long that I was almost a nervous wreck, and it was actually reported that I would live only a short time, but now I am a well and happy man and just haven't felt so well in 20 years," continued Mr. Damm, "and I just feel like getting out and going from house to house and telling everybody I meet what Tanlac has done for me.

"You see, my health broke down from constant duty on the police force for so many years, and it seemed that everything gave way at once—my digestive organs got out of order, and every time I ate anything gas would form and cause awful cramps and pains in my stomach. Year after year my condition got worse and finally I couldn't eat a thing but a little soup, and some nights I couldn't sleep a wink until way in the morning, and to make a long story short I was what you might call a perfect wreck, and had to retire from the police force. I knew something had to be done and done right away, so I told my wife I was going to quit all my treatments and try that Tanlac that I had been reading about in the paper. Well, sir, as long as I live I'll believe that this one quick decision is all that saved my life. Why, I tell you, I hadn't taken but a few doses of this Tanlac before I knew that after all these years I had at last found the right thing for me, and from the very jump I began to improve rapidly. My recovery is simply remarkable, and when my friends come to see me now it is hard for some of them to recognize me, and it's a fact, I haven't felt better in 30 long years. I can eat three square meals a day and just anything I please, too, and as sure as I'm alive today, I don't have one bit of trouble with my stomach, and sleep, my goodness, never sleeps better in my whole life. I don't believe any man can look at me today and honestly say that I look like I'd ever been sick in my life, and I tell you I certainly don't feel like I've ever been sick and that's what counts. This Tanlac is just simply wonderful, that's what I want my friends to know, but I can't see all of them, and so I wish you would publish this statement for the benefit of all my friends."

EDUCATION OF CHILDREN MUST BE STATE DUTY

Minister Says Training of Youth in Morals and Religion Should Be Compulsory.

Rev. Charles W. Savidge, pastor of the Peoples Church, Sunday night spoke on the subject, "Education for the Youth in Morals and Religion should be compulsory." His text was taken from Hosea 4-6, "My people are destroyed for the lack of knowledge." In part he said:

"When I speak in my subject of morals and religion, I do not speak in any narrow or sectarian sense. I simply mean that the Great broad field of morals and the vitals of God should be taught every child and youth in our country. This is true whether the youth chooses such education or not. His choice should not be considered. The frightful experiences of this city went through on September 28, furnishes a very powerful argument for my position.

Tracewell to Guard Plans for Building New State Capitol

Lincoln, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—The first member of the legislature to arrive in the city for the special session is Hon. George E. Tracewell, father of the original state house bill. Mr. Tracewell arrived in the city Saturday night and is early on the scene to see that no bolshevik tries to put anything over on the future plans to build a new capitol building.

Mr. Tracewell is a resident of Valentine and whenever he comes out for an office the rest of the candidates take to the woods and save their money, for the Valentine auctioneer always knocks the commissions. The last time he was a candidate no one ran against him. Mr. Tracewell enjoys his frequent trips to Lincoln and the pleasure of making laws for the state. He is in favor of getting busy, doing business called, to perform and going home.

Gretna Will Move Back Clocks Two Weeks Early

However, Postmaster Melia will run his postoffice and Station Agent McDonald his train under the present time until the 26th, when all will go back to the old time."

Eight months later her father started action to have the marriage annulled. She is now 18 years old.

HAMILTON—40th and Hamilton—MARGERY WILSON in "MARKED CARIBS." and EPISODE NO. 5 of "SMASHING BARRIERS."

SUN—Romance and the glamor of beautiful girls contribute an exotic setting to "Lombardi, Ltd.," which opened a week's run at the Sun theater Sunday. In "Lombardi, Ltd.," Bert Lytell, as Tito Lombardi, an eccentric Italian gown designer, has one of the most picturesque roles of his career.

RIALTO—Brotherly love, as the powerful force that sends a father to an early grave and controls the destiny of a prominent New York family, is one of the appealing elements in the photoplay, "Her King-

DOMOTHY DALTON in her latest photoplay, "The Market of Souls," taxed the capacity of the Strand yesterday, and probably will continue to do so throughout the engagement. In her role of trained nurse, coming from an up-state New York town to the great metropolis, she meets with vicious and mainly men of all types, and this background for a plot gives opportunity not only for a full display of Miss Dalton's charms and gowns. Miss Dalton is more fascinating in this play than even the allurement of the Yukon dance halls gave her opportunity to be.

MOON—Lake George and Lake Champlain and numerous background camps furnish the scenic background for Virginia Pearson's newest picture, "Impossible Catherine," now being shown at the Moon theater. As Catherine Kimberly, the sports-loving, man-hating heroine of the play, Virginia Pearson is seen in a role which gives full scope to her dramatic powers. The cast is a large and capable one, and the story has a laugh, a tear and a thrill. Its run at this theater will continue up to and including Wednesday matinee and evening.

MUSE—The color of the southwest, the intoxicating wine of wide open spaces, dangers of border life, and the lure of woman's beauty, are settings in "The Light of Western Stars," which is to be the photoplay attraction at this theater today and Tuesday. The photoplay, "Gene Stewart" is a fine example of the athletic. In this picture he is seen at his best. He has risen to the heights of convincing characterization that reveal this invigorating star in a nobler and fuller appeal, surpassing even the great roles with which he in the past has been identified.

STATE MUST TAKE CHARGE. "My point is: If the state has to take charge of these young people after they have committed these crimes, why should valuable property be destroyed and human lives put in peril and snuffed out, why should the state step in to correct these conditions before this frightful havoc is wrought?

Farmers Want Pay On Basis of Work Hours for Each Day

Washington, Oct. 12.—Needs of American farmers, including recognition of the right of the farming class to remuneration on the basis of the number of hours per day work, will be laid before the National Industrial conference, when it convenes Tuesday.

Prior to the meeting of the full conference, however, it is expected that definite steps will be taken toward the settlement of the issue raised by the requests of the labor group that the conference appoint a committee to arbitrate in the steel strike.

URGENT SUPPORT FOR OMAHA UNI IN BIG DRIVE

Rev. James M. Wilson in Sunday Sermon Outlines Work and Principles of School.

Rev. James M. Wilson appealed to the congregation of North Presbyterian church yesterday to support the University of Omaha. Dr. Wilson pointed to the splendid work of the university in his talk and outlined the principles of the institution.

"The first charter of a Christian university," said Dr. Wilson, "is contained in the words of St. Paul to the Philippian church: ' whatsoever is true, honorable, just, pure, lovely and of good report, think on these things; things which you learned, received, heard and saw in us, these do.' They were to think on the things which enter into the university curriculum and to do these things in actual practice. Both these are what the University of Omaha sets out to accomplish as stated in its charter."

"Founded for the promotion of sound learning and practical education under such influence as shall conduce to the highest type of Christian citizenship, the Bible being the supreme authority. This nation is a nation of Christian ideals and likewise of Christian principles. It was founded on the Word of God. What Martin Luther said at the Diet of Worms, 'I take my stand on God's Word,' is the foundation of America's greatness—a free Bible the charter of her liberty; she also was built from the first on the rock of separation of church and state—each mutually helping the other, but neither con-

Talmud Torah Children Present Succoth Play

The students of the city Talmud Torah presented "The Wisdom of Solomon" yesterday. Those taking part in the play were Harry Hoalan, as King Solomon; Anna Eiern, as queen; Meyer Brodie, Louis Lipp and Ellis Shaf-tner were the king's bodyguard. Dave Beber and Jerome Diamond were the queen's bodyguard; John Rosenblatt, Izzie Wiener, Izzie Elewizt and Meyer Ferrer were soldiers.

Rabbi Morris N. Taxon and Dr. Philip Sier gave talks on Succoth.

Peddler Kills Self When Denied Sight Of Baby by His Wife

Morris Davis, a peddler living at Twenty-fourth and Hamilton streets, committed suicide yesterday evening by taking poison in front of the home of Meyer Geventer, 2414 Franklin street. According to the police report, Davis and his wife were separated some time ago. Yesterday his wife and baby came from Kansas City to visit the Geventer family here.

"While they were at the Geventer home, Davis called on his wife asking to see their baby. Mrs. Davis refused to have anything to do with him" and ordered him out. He stepped into the street and took poison he had in his pocket. Davis died soon after.

It is noted that Davis was controlled by or interfering with the other; he stands for individualism of the highest type and likewise collectivism or brotherhood of the broadest kind. Like the planetary system, her individualism represents the centripetal force and collectivism the centrifugal force, and the beauty and harmony of her life arises from the equal balance of these two. She stands for constitutional liberty and the maintenance of law and order—a representative democracy.

Red Crown Gasoline is all gasoline—every drop pure power. Its extremely volatile low boiling point fraction permits instant ignition on the faintest spark. This assures a quick start and a prompt, smooth pick-up.

Those fractions igniting at a higher temperature furnish plenty of power and punch for the wide-open spurt or the long stiff climb.

Polarine Oil provides perfect lubrication for any car in any season. It places an indestructible oil film between piston heads and cylinder walls, thus keeping all the power behind the pistons. Cushions all moving parts and lengthens the life of your motor.
