

IMPROVEMENTS ON STREETS TO COST MILLIONS

Action Marks First Formal Step Toward the Realization of Many Important Projects.

The city council committee of the whole yesterday recommended for passage a series of ordinances which mark the first formal step toward the realization of some important improvement projects, including the widening of Twenty-fourth street, from Pacific to Cumming streets. The improvements will cost millions of dollars.

The other projects are: Widening Twentieth street, Leavenworth to Dodge streets; opening Twenty-second street, Howard to Dodge streets; widening Harney street, Twenty-fourth to Twenty-sixth streets; widening Douglas street, Twentieth to Twenty-fourth streets, and opening the same street from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-seventh streets.

To Appoint Appraisers.

These ordinances declare the necessity of creating these improvement districts and provide for the appointment of appraisers. Commissioner Towl of the department of public improvements and City Engineer Bruce expect that these projects will be under way next spring.

It is estimated that the Twenty-fourth street widening project will cost $1,000,000. The plans on file in the offices of city planning board show the following proposed changes in the present street lines to accomplish a 100-foot width:

Add 50 feet on east side, from Pacific street to St. Mary's avenue; 46 feet from west side, St. Mary's avenue to Farnam street; 20 feet from west side, Farnam street to Capitol avenue; 23 feet from west side, Capitol avenue to Davenport street; 22 feet from west side, Davenport to Chicago; 20 feet from west side, Chicago to Cass; 19 feet from west side and 26 feet from east side, Cass to California; 50 feet from east side, California to Cumming.

Open Twenty-Second Street.

The plan for opening Twenty-second street contemplates a width of 70 feet at Harney street, to 83½ feet at Dodge street.

In the widening of Twentieth

FOUR MEMBERS OF ONE FAMILY ARE VICTIMS OF "FLU"

Mother and Her Three Sons Stricken Sunday Night.

Four cases of influenza in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hogen, 1123 North Tenth street, were reported yesterday to the health department by Dr. H. Hirschmann.

The stricken members are Mrs. Hogen and three sons, Joseph, John and Andrew, 9, 6, and 3 years old, respectively.

There are two other children in the family. A physician was summoned Sunday night. Mr. Hogen is employed in the city street department.

A total of 10 cases of influenza has been reported this season. One death has occurred.

The health department has established a strict quarantine upon seven members of the Hogen family.

Council Defers Action On the Skip-Stop System

The city council yesterday postponed to November 1, a discussion on the street car skip-stop system, now in operation here.

"There is considerable kick against this skip-stop system," announced Acting Mayor Ure.

The council believed it would be wise to defer action pending the election of a new president of the street railway company.

street, it is proposed to take 20 feet from the west side, Leavenworth to Harney; 40 feet from west side, Harney to Farnam, and 40 feet from the east side, Farnam to Dodge.

Fourteen feet will be taken from the south side of Harney street to increase the width to 80 feet, from Twenty-fourth to Twenty-sixth streets.

It is proposed to widen Douglas street, from 66 to 80 feet, Twentieth to Twenty-fourth streets, and to open a 70-foot extension to Twenty-seventh street.

EXPECT HIGHER SUGAR PRICES IN NEAR FUTURE

Omaha Dealers Do Not Expect Benefit From New Wholesale 10-Cent Maximum Price.

What effect the 10-cent maximum price on sugar to the wholesaler, fixed by the Department of Justice, will have on sugar prices here, is uncertain, according to leading Omaha jobbers and retailers.

The 10-cent price is fixed on a New York basis, according to H. G. Hoel, general manager of the McCord Brady Co., and will make the price $10.57 3-10 a 100-pound bag to the wholesaler in Omaha. It brings the price to the retailer to $11.07, Mr. Hoel says.

It is Mr. Hoel's opinion that the price will be forced to raise his price, which at present is 12 cents a pound, to at least 12½ cents.

Will Not Raise Price.

M. W. Cavanaugh, manager of the Courtney retail grocery store, declared that the price would remain at 12 cents a pound. The fixed 10-cent price will not be an incentive for the refineries of beet sugar to put out their products, which Attorney General Palmer has alleged they were withholding, Mr. Cavanaugh says.

"The control of the sugar equalization board will cease on January 1," said Mr. Cavanaugh. "The refineries can then charge the wholesalers any price which they desire. It is natural that they withhold a part of their product."

Beet sugar refineries have not been wanting to withholding their product from the market, Charles H. Pickens of the Paxton & Gallagher company declared. A Shortage of cars suitable for the transportation of sugar has caused the slowness in shipping sugar from beet refineries in the west, he said.

Shortage is Relieved.

Although uncertain as to the effect of the 10-cent price, jobbers and retailers agree that the shortage of sugar has been greatly relieved by Nebraska beet sugar refineries which opened recently.

An explanation for the causes of the shortage in sugar, which was experienced in all parts of the country was issued on October 16, by the statistical division of the

Omaha Canvassed by 20 Teams for Big Memorial

The "Americanization" drive of the Roosevelt Memorial association was officially launched in every town and city of the United States today. The drive will last until Monday, the late Colonel Roosevelt's birthday.

Omaha has been divided into 15 districts, which will be canvassed by 20 teams, led by efficient "majors." The teams will get into action after they have received final instructions at an association luncheon in the Hotel Fontenelle tomorrow.

The teams hope to enroll every citizen in Douglas county in the organization, which is nonpartisan and stands simply for Americanism.

United States Sugar Equalization Board: A great increase in the demand is given as the principal reason for the shortage.

"The consumption of sugar by the United States for the whole year of 1919 will be over one-half of the world's total exportable surplus for 1919 and over one-quarter of the total world's sugar production," the statement says.

"There has been delivered to domestic consumption in the first nine months of this year, almost as much sugar as in the whole of 1918. In 1918 he consumption was 3,000,000 tons, while in the first nine months of this year it was 3,263,000."

The statement closes with a debate on the "moral" right of the American people to take more sugar than it has already taken from the world's supply.

CRIMINAL CASES IN UNPRECEDENTED NUMBER UP HERE

Judges and Juries to Be at Work in Three Court Rooms.

Two men against whom indictments were returned by the grand jury last Saturday have not yet been apprehended by the police. Their names have not been given out, pending their arrest.

It was said that the grand jury yesterday was investigating the case of Leonard Weber, World-Herald employe. Weber was arrested last Monday and was reported by the police to have confessed to implicating tion in the riots. Weber denied that he had made a confession. Preparations are being made for criminal trials on an unprecedented scale next Monday when the panel of petit jurors reports.

Three court rooms will be given over to criminal trials with three judges, juries and prosecutors at work continually.

It is believed that District Judges Redick, Day and Sears will handle the criminal trials, though this has not been decided definitely.

New Policemen Taken to Sequestered Spot for Target Practice

Fifty men appointed to the police department during the last two weeks went to Fort Crook yesterday in a chartered street car to engage in target practice under the direction of Maj. H. C. White of Fort Omaha.

The men are being instructed in the use of machine guns and riot guns and are also practicing with their new .45-caliber revolvers which were purchased last week.

These policemen recruits have been drilled in the Auditorium. It was deemed advisable to take them to a sequestered spot when learning to shoot. The army range at the fort offered a safe place for this practice.

Sale of ELECTRIC HEATERS

Very Specially Priced for Tuesday

At 8.49

Electric Heaters are a real need these chilly days, especially in the early mornings and evenings, as we've not gotten far enough into winter to really need the furnace going, so the real antidote is an ELECTRIC HEATER. One takes up but little room and is very sightly, handy and light. Come with a heavy copper wire guard and over heating element, and also with a heavy copper heat reflector, also has a cutoff switch on cord, which enables one to cut off current without taking plug out of socket.
