

OMAHAN WOULD REOPEN DIVORCE GRANTED IN 1917

Louis L. E. Stewart Alleges He Has New Evidence— Also Asks $13,800 From Former Wife.

Louis L. E. Stewart, wealthy investment broker and farm owner, yesterday filed suit for $13,800 against his former wife, Nettie B. Stewart, and also filed a motion for a new trial of his wife's suit for a divorce. She was granted a divorce by District Judge Sears May 1, 1917. He is president of the Stewart Investment Co.

Mrs. Stewart declared in her petition for divorce, filed May 5, 1915, in the district court, that her husband was worth $200,000. She asked for $50,000 alimony. Both parties to the suit were about 50 years of age at that time and each had a married daughter by a former marriage.

Mr. Stewart asks for a new trial of the divorce suit on the ground that he has discovered new evidence. He asks for the $13,800 from his former wife on the allegation that her interference with land deals resulted in filling his clients with distrust and deprived him of this sum in profit.

Mr. Stewart relates that on April 9, 1912, he and his wife entered into an agreement whereby she signed away her interest in a number of his farms in exchange for certain valuable considerations which he gave her, the agreement to become effective and be in full settlement of alimony in case she sued him for a divorce. He says that, by her alleged interference in his land deals, she broke this agreement.

Negro Grandmother to Attend the Night School

A negro girl called at public school headquarters yesterday and asked Bell M. Ryan, assistant superintendent, for a permit to attend evening school.

"Don't you attend day school?" Miss Ryan inquired.

"Oh, yes, I go to Kellom school, but my grandmother wants to go to night school and I am going to take her," the girl replied.

The permit was granted without further discussion.

Warfield Advertising Co. Enlarging Its Quarters

American Wife of Hawaiian Sheriff Had A Sister In Omaha

Adelaide Kawaimakalani Wiltsie Pua, who died recently in Hilo, Hawaii, was a sister of Mrs. Carrel, wife of Dr. Carrel, formerly of Omaha.

Mrs. Pua was the wife of Sheriff Samuel K. Pua of Hilo. Funeral services were held September 29, at St. Joseph church, according to information received from Hawaii.

She was 58 years old and was the daughter of Samuel C. Wiltsie, who settled in Hawaii in 1858.

She was first married to Kupele Kaapuni, of which marriage a son, Ernest survives her mother. She was married in Honolulu in 1892 to Sheriff Pua. Mrs. Ralph King of Hilo is a surviving daughter by the second marriage.

The popularity of Mrs. Pua was evidenced by the funeral cortege comprising many prominent people. She was a graduate of the Convent of the Sacred Heart and lived many years in Honolulu. Her father was of an old Boston, Mass., family.

British Expenditures Decrease

London, Oct. 23.—In discussing national finances in the House of Commons today, J. Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, said the average daily expenditure from April 1 to September 30, this year, was $4,225,000 and from October 1 to October 19 it was $3,763,000.

Divorce Courts

Bessie Sexton was restored to her maiden name, Burton, in a decree of divorce from Gerald Sexton granted her by Judge Troup in divorce court on allegations of extreme cruelty.

The Victrola and all the records are awarded to Grace Varley in a decree of divorce from Andrew Varley, granted her today in divorce court by Judge Day. Mrs. Varley said her husband was a habitual drunkard and often threatened her life. Her maiden name, Harmon, was restored to her.

Charges of extreme cruelty made against Morten Mortensen won a divorce for his wife, Hazel Mortensen, in divorce court before Judge Troup. Her maiden name, Easter, was restored to her.

Harry Lighthall was ordered to pay his wife, Olive, $250 alimony in a decree of divorce granted him by Judge Sears in divorce court. He alleged that his wife has abandoned him.

Anna Jandrich filed suit against Mile Jandrich for a divorce in district court, alleging that he habitually struck and beat her and threatened to kill her. She asks the custody of their three children and alimony. Mr. Jandrich works at the Armour plant and earns $25 a week and also has an interest in a soft drink parlor.

Charging Arthur Wyss with cruel and inhuman treatment, Bessie Wyss secured a divorce from him in divorce court.

Hilda Balzar deserted her husband, Alois, according to his testimony to Judge Day in divorce court. Alois was awarded a divorce.

Bell Thompson was granted custody of three children in a decree of divorce from Isaac Thompson on the ground of extreme cruelty, granted her today by Judge Troup in divorce court.

Eva Gravett was restored to her maiden name, Hastings, in a decree of divorce from Joel Gravett granted her in divorce court by Judge Troup.
