WOMAN'S SECTION OF THE BEE

Her overpowering presence made you feel, it would not be idolatry to kneel.

CLUBDOM

ELECTION of officers and amendment of the state constitution were the most important matters of business which came before the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs at its 24th annual convention, held in Fairbury October 21-24. This is the 25th year of existence for the Nebraska federation, so the meeting was known as the "silver jubilee."

The entire revision of the constitution was rejected. The two most vital changes proposed related to methods of elections and consolidation of the offices of state president, general federation director and secretary.

Mrs. John Slaker of Hastings, fifth club district, was elected president. Mrs. Addison E. Sheldon, retiring president, was made general federation director and secretary.

Other state officers were chosen as follows: Vice-president, Mrs. E. B. Penney, Fullerton; recording and corresponding secretaries, Mrs. M. Dewey, Fairmont and Mrs. Paul Perryman, Ord; treasurer, Mrs. E. G. Drake, Beatrice; auditor, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, Chadron.

A striking feature of the convention was the opportunity for, and interest in, discussions following all big lectures on the program. Three representatives of state institutions spoke, three prominent men presented, "Shall private property be further socialized," an expert domestic engineer disclosed methods for simplifying housework and Dr. F. M. Piling discussed the making of world peace. At the close of each of these interesting numbers, eager questions were put and the deepest attention given to answers.

There were 312-registered delegates and visitors, and probably a total of 400 out-of-town women in attendance. The Fairbury women opened their homes to the outside club women and otherwise extended every courtesy in their power. Mrs. T. I. Hatfield was chairman of local arrangements.

A supper party on the opening night was the one notable social affair. Mrs. Allen W. Field of Lincoln was mistress of ceremonies. Special interest on this occasion was taken in the report of Miss Myrtle Judd, who represented the Nebraska federation in overseas war work. Miss Cora Conoway as leader of singing was a real factor in the success of the meetings.

In her "President's Address," Mrs. Addison E. Sheldon of Lincoln, reported on her efforts to secure rates for Nebraska club conventions.

14-OCT 26, Sun—Reg—

ists. Mr. George W. Bonnell, Lincoln railroad representative, took up the matter with Chicago authorities who replied that whereas the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs was not of a "religious, educational, fraternal, charitable or military organization," the desired rates could not be granted. Mrs. Sheldon said she responded with a recent issue of "The Bulletin," N. F. W. C. showing the federation to be religious, educational, fraternal, charitable, and in fact everything except military. A hearty laugh and applause were returned at this.

There is no incompatibility between women's clubs and babies, if Mrs. B. F. Farrell of Schuyler and Mrs. H. W. Benson of Oakland can be taken as examples. These two women attended all sessions of the three-day convention.

Mrs. Farrell is the mother of 11 children, five boys and six girls, ranging in years from 1 to 20. Asked how she managed, Mrs. Farrell said, "We all help each other and we have very good health. I think the reason we keep so well is that I don't have time to do fancy cooking." During the war Mrs. Farrell did council of defense work in her county. She is a member of a bridge club and an active member of the federation as well. She was nominated for the vice presidency but declined to run, she gave a toast at the opening supper party, and served on the elections committee as teller.

Mrs. H. W. Benson of Oakland attended with her 10-month old baby and a nurse. Mrs. Benson has served for two years as state chairman of the social and industrial conditions department.

Society Ladies Adopt
New Hair Curling Method

Since the introduction of liquid silmerine in this country, it has become quite "the proper thing" among society women who have readily adopted it in place of the destructive curling iron. The waves and curls acquired by the new method are far more natural in appearance, and the hair is of course glossier and prettier than could be if the hair were cooked out of it.

The liquid is pleasant to use, being neither greasy nor sticky. It is a simple thing to apply with a clean tooth brush at night when the hair is down. The lovely wavy effect in evidence in the morning is all that one could wish for. It costs little to use liquid silmerine, as a few ounces from the druggist will keep the hair in curl for
