

6 INDICTMENTS ARE RETURNED BY THE GRAND JURY

One Man Charged With Conspiracy to Commit Murder—All Are Cases Resulting From Riot.

Six more indictments were returned yesterday by the grand jury, all of them connected with the riot of September 28. They are as follows:

Morris Borsky, conspiracy to commit murder, and these five for conspiracy to break and enter various stores where guns and ammunition were stolen: James Brazos, Chicago; John J. Yach, Chicago; Frank Johnson, Des Moines; James Maschek, Des Moines; James Blankenship, Council Bluffs.

Fred H. Denker was indicted for forging a check for $44.50 on October 18.

Fred Rissie, a switchman, indicted by the grand jury Tuesday on the charge of conspiracy to commit murder and unlawful assemblage and rioting, was released from the county jail yesterday under $6,500 bond to await trial. He has been in jail since the day after the riots of September 28.

County Attorney Shotwell said yesterday that the jury will probably be in session two or three weeks.

FOREMAN SAYS HE BELIEVES IT SAVED HIS LIFE

Mahoney Never Expected to Get Out of Bed Again—Now Back at Work.

Many wonderful endorsements have been given Tanlac, but, the statement made October 9th by James Mahoney, of 22 East 15th St., Los Angeles, Cal., is so remarkable as to be almost incredible. Mr. Mahoney, however, is a man of unquestioned integrity and has been a foreman at the Richards-Naustadt Construction Co. ten years. His neighbors have corroborated his remarkable statement in every detail and will do so again if called upon.

"It was being talked among my friends," said Mr. Mahoney, "that I was going to die and I don't believe anyone ever had a much closer call. Closely following an injury to my back, caused by lifting some steel last July a year ago, my whole system seemed to give away. My stomach commenced hurting me terribly and I suffered from gas and indigestion. There seemed to be a lump in my stomach and I could not eat a thing without intense pain afterwards. My appetite left me entirely and I got so weak I could not even lift ten pounds. Then I became constipated and my kidneys got out of order and disturbed me so at night I could not sleep soundly. I was in misery all the time and so weak I could not lift my feet to go up the stairs. I could not straighten up for the pain in my stomach. Before these troubles started I weighed one hundred and forty-five, but dropped down until I weighed only sixty-five pounds, and if there was ever a living skeleton I was. I could hear my friends, who came in to see me, say, 'Poor Jim, he can't last much longer,' and I had no hope myself of ever getting up. In spite of all that could be done I kept getting worse. That lump like feeling in my stomach seemed to get larger and the pain more intense. Finally I was told nothing more could be done except to operate and I was too weak to stand that.

"One day a friend, who had been coming to see me often, told me how Tanlac had helped his daughter and urged me to try it. At first I refused, as my wife was opposed to anything except prescribed medicines. But one day this friend offered to go and get me a bottle of Tanlac with the understanding that no one else know about it. Well, I started taking it and by the time he brought me the third bottle I was feeling better. I stopped everything else, kept taking Tanlac and slowly improving. I soon noticed the pain in my stomach easing up and that lumpy feeling began to leave. I got to eating something and then commenced getting back my lost weight and strength. I kept taking it until I used twenty bottles and as a result I am in better shape than I was for years—even before I was taken sick. I now weigh one hundred and thirty pounds, so you see my weight has exactly doubled. I am working every day and can do the heavy lifting just the same as I ever could. I am not bothered any more with my kidneys or constipation and I sleep like a top every night. My food tastes good and my appetite is simply fine. My wife thinks just as I do, that Tanlac is the grandest medicine in the world. I will praise it as long as I live, and I never expect to be without it.

Tanlac is sold in Omaha at all Sherman & McConnell Drug Company's stores, Harvard Pharmacy and West End Pharmacy. Also Forrest and Meany Drug Company in South Omaha and the leading druggist in each city and town throughout the state of Nebraska.—Adv.

Woman Asks Court to Make Husband Observe Restraining Order

Anna Sedlacek yesterday asked the district court to call her husband, Stephen, before the bar to tell why he has disregarded a restraining order issued August 18 prohibiting him from molesting her.

Mr. Sedlacek, in an answer and cross petition to his wife's suit for divorce, charged that she remained away from home until late at night in company with George Armstrong, a policeman; that she took rides with Policeman Armstrong in a police car; that she frequented Krug park with Policeman Armstrong and accompanied him to restaurants and cafes.

Mrs. Sedlacek now alleges that her husband, in spite of the restraining order issued, put her out of their home and rented it to another family, assaulted her, tried to take their two children from her and has failed to pay the $25 a month temporary alimony which District Judge Wakeley ordered him to pay.

longer. It began its sittings three weeks ago today and has been at work continuously, six hours a day and six days a week.

Residents of Gibson Will Demand Better Police Protection

A delegation of residents from Gibson will appear before the city council committee of the whole next Monday morning to demand that the city furnish this community with adequate police protection.

This decision was approved at a meeting of the Southeast Improvement club at the Bancroft school Monday night, when R. N. Towl, city commissioner, spoke briefly on proposed improvements for this district.

"These people complain that their community is frequented by undesirable elements of the box-car type," said Mr. Towl. "These itinerants usually alight from the cars near Gibson, whose residents are determined to have police protection or they may organize their own vigilance committee. They need consideration, which they have not been given." Gibson people will also ask the city council to approve a sewer project from Tenth and Castelar streets to the river, and grade Frederick street, Tenth to Thirteenth streets.

Old Clothes Club Idea Is Not Popular in City Hall

Municipal Workers Declare They Cannot Afford Anything Except Ancient Garments and That a "Club" Would Simply Be Wasted Effort.

"The Old Clothes Club" idea, which has been started among the court house employees, does not seem to be as popular in the city hall as it is in the temple of justice across the street.

The consensus of opinion among the city hall employees is that the municipal building workers can not afford anything except old clothes, whereas there is a "crying need" for an old clothes club among the court house people.

"All of us here in the city hall are wearing our old clothes," remarked W. J. Hunter, city clerk. "It would be wasted effort to start a club in the city hall, but I can see wherein there is need for a club in the court house, where they wear fine clothes. We started an old clothes club here months ago and we did not tell the world about it."

Joseph Sherry, deputy city clerk, said that he was a walking delegate of the Old Clothes club. "I'll say I am wearing my old clothes."

O. M. Olson, Mayor Smith's secretary, is another disciple of the Old Clothes club movement.

"I go on the old idea that a stitch in time saves nine and that rags are royal raiment when worn for virtue's sake, for I consider the wearing of old clothes at this time as one of the virtues," said Mr. Olson. "I don't agree with those who contend that a club in the city hall would not yield good results, although I agree that there is more democracy in clothes in the city hall than there is in the court house."

The Old Clothes club, launched last week at the court house, met yesterday at 5 p. m. in the assembly room of the county commissioners. Sheriff Clark is one of the charter members. This organization starts off with 185 members, who have signed the pledge.

A patch is to be the badge of courage at the court house hereafter.

Welfare Board Head Making Probe of Public Bath Houses

T. H. Weirich, superintendent of the Board of Public Welfare, is making an investigation of the public bath houses.

Last week he received a complaint against a Leavenworth street upstairs bath house, alleging that a 13-year-old girl employe had been permitted to witness an improper scene in connection with two women bathing a male patron. "I went to the address given," said Mr. Weirich, "and the proprietress assured me that no male patron is given a bath treatment without being properly robed. I was unable to determine that anything irregular has been permitted at this place. The girl in question has left the bath house."

Masons in Charge of Funeral Services For A. T. Livingston

Funeral services for A. T. Livingston, 5019 Underwood avenue, section captain at fire engine house No. 17, were held from the Scottish Rite cathedral at 2 yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of Nebraska lodge No. 1, Masonic.

Harry E. Mahaffey, worshipful master of Nebraska lodge No. 1, conducted the Masonic ritual. One hundred and fifty city firemen in uniforms escorted the funeral procession as far north as Cumming street. Mr. Livingston had been a fireman for more than 20 years.

Clarence R. Dodds, John W. Simpson, Albert L. Galloway, Timothy L. Combs, Charles A. Nelson and Walter L. Cropper were pallbearers. The body was interred at the Forest Lawn cemetery.

WHAT MOTHER THINKS

In a recent letter Mrs. N. E. Ford, the mother of these two healthy children writes: "I use Father John's Medicine in all cases of coughs and colds, also as a tonic. It is invaluable in the home, especially where there are small children, it is such an excellent tonic and pleasant to take. My home is never without a bottle of Father John's Medicine." (Signed) Mrs. M. E. Ford, 214 Lonsdale Avenue, Pawtucket, R. I.

Thousands of mothers say they keep their children well and strong and build them up after colds and coughs by giving them Father John's Medicine, which is pure and wholesome and guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs.
