POLICE SEARCH FOR OCCUPANT

John McKenna, in Hospital, Refuses to Divulge Name of Third Member of Party.

Police are still searchhing for the companion of Phil Kellogg, livestock commission man, in his speeding ride to death at Thirteenth street and Deer Park boulevard Sunday afternoon. Kellogg was killed almost instantly. John McKenna, 4609 South Twenty-fourth street, who was also in the death car and is now in St. Joseph's hospital injured internally, refuses to divulge the identity of the third occupant of the car. McKenna told police he did not know the man. He says Kellogg was driving the car at the time of the accident, in which six other persons, all members of the Gus and Albert Johnson families, were injured. Gus Johnson, 3020 Webster street, the most seriously injured, is getting along nicely, attendants at St. Joseph hospital say. His wife, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson, 3483 Larimore avenue, and their two chil-dren, Charles and Leslie, have nearly recovered from their injuries, is the report from their home.

County Investigator Dempsey is still probing the accident upon redriving the car." A charge of manslaughter may face McKenna if the reports are chief clerk to the county attorney,

AT THE THEATERS

OCIETY night attendance at the Orpheum was extremely heavy, and greatly relished the "Welcome Home Song Ravue," with Gus Edwards at the head of his own company as the stellar attraction. Molly McIntyre, in the one-act Irish scene in "The Brute Breaker" will romantic playlet, "The Love Chase," no doubt go down in film history as evoked hearty approbation Lydia Barry, singing comedienne, proved screened. To see it is to come un-der the spell of its appeal. The the hits of the bill is the most skillful juggler who has ever appeared at the Orpheum. He is Royal Gascoignes, the man with the double somersaulting dog. Another pro-nounced success is the comedy skit, "Mudtown Vaudeville," humorously presented by Blanche and Jimmy Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, themselves, wind up their short but interesting stay at the Boyd with a matinee and evening performance today, presenting "The Master Thef," a real melodrama of the modern type. These popular movie stars are just as good in the spoken drama, and are delighting a host of friends with the quality of their work. They have a remarkably strong company in support, and the play is lavishly mounted.

One of the largest items that su producers of musical extravaganzas, as purveyors of high-class girl shows have to contend with is the constant renewal of wardrobe. "Oh Baby" which the Marcus show is presenting at the Brandeis represents an original outlay of $30,000 for costumes alone. But that is not the worst of it. The perage life of a stage costume such as those worn n "Oh Baby" is less than eight. weeks. Silks and satins don't stand the wear, to say nothing of crepes and chiffons. But the dear public wouldn't stand for more durable and less expensive materials. The folks out in the orchestra chairs are too wise nowadays, so Marcus will have to keep right on and hope that the silk worms don't go on a strike.

"Shopping in the Orient" is a lilting song of brightness splendidly sung by Ethel Lawrence and Richard Bosch in the captivating produc-tion of "Chin Chin," which comes to the Brandeis for three performances, two nights and a matinee starting next Friday evening.

Chauncey Olcott in an Erlanger roduction of "Macushla" comes to the Brandeis next week, starting Sunday. Mr. Olcott brings four new songs to feature the sweetly humorous and pathetic Irish play. The new songs will be a delight to Mr. Olcott's followers, "That's How the River Shannon Flows" gripping the hearts of the audience like "Mother Mother" Machree."

A musical comedy of the abbreviated type, "That's Going Some," is the stellar attraction at the Empress theater. The six girls in the chorus are exceedingly pretty and their singing and dancing is most pleasing. Adelaide Carpenter, prin-cipal lady in the cast, has a charming soprano voice.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.
