What Is Rheumatism? Why Suffer from It!

Sufferers Should Realize That It Is a Blood Infection and Can Be Permanently Relieved.

Rheumatism means that the blood has become saturated with uric acid poison.

It does not require medical advice to know that good health is absolutely dependent upon pure blood. When the muscles and joints become sore and drawn with rheumatism, it is not a wise thing to take a little salve and by rubbing it on the sore spot, expect to get rid of your rheumatism. You must go deeper than that, down deep into

Bowling

Local Bowling Notes.

Fremont may not be as big as Omaha, but they have a big bowling team. With a margin of 202 pins they buried the fast Rykers Cafe team in their match Sunday afternoon. This is the second time the cafe crowd has taken the losing side of the argument from the Fremonters.

Middaugh and Hammond have not changed a bit. Still have their winning ways.

Max Vance still shoots his funeral ball which delays the game about an hour every night he shoots.

If Hazard would put his history of bowling in and around East Moline and Aurora, Ill., into print it would make some huge volume.

"Wally" Schoeman still shoots 'em left-handed once in awhile and finds a little improvement over the right-handed style. Must intend to try a portside match with "Count" Gengler.

That Fairmont Creamery team in the Mercantile league could give any of the local squads a good race. McCoy, Tedlicka, Maurer, Figen-schuh and Gibson make up the squad.

Clyde Bland, who has been missed from the runways, has downed the elkides again and intends to hook up with a good team. Always a steady, consistent bowler, he would make a good man for any team.

Where they all are—"Kewpie" Kent is sojourning in Minneapolis and still interested in the bowling game.

Art Pedersen, former city champ, has been having all kinds of hard luck this season and consequently has been unable to get into the game. First he was under a dentist's care, then he stabbed his sliding foot with a piece of tin while fishing, and now he has injured his trusty mitt. Some careless yardman in the stock yards dropped the talking end of a pitchfork on it while Art was reaching for a horseshoe during a championship of the yards match between two fast horseshoe teams.

Jim Coleman has affixed his signature to a Scott Tent and a new contract. After a reorganization of the Bowen Furnitures Jim's name couldn't be found in the list, so he had to shoot somewhere, the Scotts drawing the prize.

Middlewest Tournament Notes

The local drive for entries will be given double force this week. More men will be on the job and more time will be given to the work. If every local bowler would do his duty the entry committee could be saved a large amount of work. There is not a bowler in the city who cannot personally land an entry or direct the committee to where there one is to be had.

The Council Bluffs rollers are coming to life and are showing a little interest in the meet. Looks like four teams from over the river.

From far-off Madison, S. D., comes a plea for entry blanks. They have heard of the tournament and are anxious to get in. They have never been heard of and do not appear on the official mailing list. Secretary hastily mailed them all the official literature, including a special invitation. They claim they have the strongest team south of 53, so watch for a dark horse.

Looks like separate nights for Auto Row, Grain Exchange, local banks and Live Stock Exchange. All these different industries will enter enough teams to fill one evening's schedule, according to the present outlook.

Yes, Sweeney will be here, so we are sure of a good gate. There is always a crowd following this grand old St. Louisian. He is known every place there is bowling and he is always welcome.

At last the Denver entry is in with the old ex-Omaha crack, Gjerde, at its helm. We figured on his team but there should be more.

Sheppard of Kansas City is entered and is sure to attract a lot of attention. He is one of the game's best tournament shooters.

The outside entry is unusually large now, with the entries open until midnight, November 13. Entered considering the usual huge last-minute entry, which every big tournament experiences, indications are strong for a record outside entry.

Team captains should bear in mind that every league team in the city is expected to enter. It is not argued that all these teams have a chance to win. It is argued that it is every bowler's duty to boost the tournament, which is only boosting his own game. A large local entry is necessary to assure the tournament officials only expect that which other cities have accomplished. Get your entry in now.

The large silver cup which will be given to the all-event champion is here and will be displayed in the windows of the Starr Kingman Shoe company, on Sixteenth street. It is a beautiful engraved trophy cup three feet high. In addition to this, the all-event champion will win a big purse and a gold medal. Nine of these medals are being made now. Five are given to the team champions, two to the two-man champions and one to the all-event champion. These medals are the coveted prizes of all bowlers, who always prize them highly in after years. The medal winners also will receive cash prizes.

JOE STECHER IS VICTOR IN ONE-FALL MAT MATCH

Pins Strangler Lewis' Shoulders to Pad With Body Scissors and Double Wrist lock in 1 1-2 Hours.

New York, Nov. 3.—(Special Telegram.)—Joe Stecher, the Nebraska farmer boy, defeated Ed ("Strangler") Lewis in a catch-as-catch-can wrestling match, in Madison Square Garden Monday night. Stecher secured the necessary fall after 1 hour 31 minutes and 2 seconds with a double wrist lock and body scissors hold.

It was a dramatic finish to a sensational match that had the crowd on edge every minute after the two giants warmed to their work. Indeed, toward the end it appeared Stecher would go down to defeat before the dread head hold of the "Strangler."

Time after time Lewis applied the crushing, punishing hold on Stecher, but the latter, game to the core, wormed his way dizzily out of danger.

Stecher throughout was the cooler and more deliberate of the two and it was owing to this same coolness that the farmer boy was finally able to achieve his victory. Repeated applications of the head hold had left Joe Stecher somewhat dizzy and bewildered when, after an hour and 25 minutes, Lewis applied his chief trick for the sixth time of the night. It was with the greatest difficulty that Stecher by the clever use of his powerful and agile legs succeeded in escaping the human vice. He was so groggy when he got to his feet that he fell an easy victim to the same trap and was borne to the mat an evidently doomed man, but Stecher, with his shoulders almost on the canvas, bridged wonderfully and finally jerked loose. Quick as a steel trap he rolled away. He uncoiled Lewis' body with his dependable legs, using immediately in conjunction with his best stock in trade a hammerlock that turned Lewis over on his back. Lewis by sheer strength broke this hammerlock, but in doing so gave Stecher an opportunity to improve the purchase of his body scissors.

Stecher, still cool headed, then went deliberately about applying the wristlock. He watched his opportunity as Lewis tried to squirm free and finally he secured a double wristlock that clinched the victory. The scissors for the once had triumphed over the headlock.

Before the main bout, Wladec Zhyzsko, with a body lift, raised Petroff of Chicago, high in the air and tossed him for a fall in 2 minutes 42 seconds. Zhyzsko challenged the winner of the other bout and a telegram from Earl Caddock, was read stating that he would meet Stecher or Lewis here later.

TWO KILLED IN ARIZONA MOTOR RUN AT PHOENIX

Driver Bottorff and Mechanic Brown Hited When Car Hits Rut and Overturns.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 3.—S. O. Bottorff, driver, and Floyd Brown, mechanic of car No. 3, entered in the motor race by a motor company of El Paso, were instantly killed when their car struck a rut at a sharp turn, one and a half miles west of Vail.

The car turned over four times and stopped 40 feet down the hill. The heads of both men were severed from their bodies.

When L. A. Garkaitis, in charge of the Vail control, who witnessed the accident reached the spot, he found the motor running and the steering gear unhurt. Gamatis says they were making 95 miles an hour down the hill.

Breaking the record for the road race made by himself in 1914, Hugh B. Miller of Phoenix today won the transdesert classic of 540.8 miles at an average speed of 41.3 miles an hour. His 1914 record was 37.1. The race, begun at El Paso yesterday morning, was marred by three deaths, two caused by an accident to Bottorff and Brown and a third by shooting of a driver by persons shooting at a target on the roadside.

John T. Hutchings of El Paso was fatally shot by a rifle bullet fired from a party of eight a few miles from El Paso yesterday. The eight have been arrested.

F. Babcock of Poenix sustained a broken shoulder in the only other serious accident of the race.

As winner, Miller received $8,451.10 of the $12,073 purse. R. A. Durio of Las Cruces, N. M., was second, and W. J. Taber of Tucson was third.

New York, Nov. 3.—Directors of the American league were asked to attend a special meeting here Wednesday morning, to consider the protest of the Detroit club against the games which Carl Mays pitched for New York. A request by Yankee players that the board ask the national commission to pay them their portion of the money also will be taken up.

WYOMING TO MIX WITH CREIGHTON HERE SATURDAY

Blue and White Eleven to Tangle With Fast Rocky Mountain Conference Team.

Wyoming university will meet Creighton on Creighton field Saturday, November 15. This information was given out last night by Coach Tommy Mills and Athletic Director Rev. W. J. Corbooy of Creighton on receipt of a telegram from Wyoming accepting Creighton's offer of a game on that date.

The locals have been angling for a tilt with Wyoming for several weeks, saying they wanted to play the westerners here November 22. Yesterday Wyoming wired that they had scheduled a game with Utah for that date and would like to come here on the Saturday preceding. Mills at once embraced the offer and Wyoming's telegram last night "put the game on ice."

Creighton is still trying to book a contest for November 22. Whether it succeeds or not the locals' 1919 schedule will be the strongest they have faced in years.

The University of South Dakota, Marquette and Haskell Indians' contests were by no means practice games and with Colorado college, Wyoming university and South Dakota Aggies waiting their turns to tangle with Creighton on the local gridiron Mills' men know they're up against a real job.

Mills intends to spend the team's half-hour practice period every night this week dwelling principally on interference.
