

WARNS TEACHERS TO COMBAT RED ADVANCE IN U. S.

Congressman Fess of Ohio Speaks on Federal Topics to State Gathering.

Justified by attempting to absorb the radicalism. The country is appealed to further concede in order to avoid the extremity of anarchy.

Radicalism demanded in the steel strike the closed shop. The American spirit is to permit a man to work even though he may not belong to a union.

The conference in Washington, called to deal with principle, broke on an individual case which was not in existence when the conference was called.

Since November 11, 1918, we have had over 3,000 strikes, great and small.

The climax is now before us. Half a million coal miners have gone out. They have demanded 6 hour day, 5-day week and a wage increase of 60 per cent.

The vicious circle of demanding higher costs and less production in order to meet the increase of living when every such grant will further increase the cost level, must receive rigid treatment at the hands of the government.

"Fellow teachers, we have had the issue of the steel strike in spite of the request of the president to defer the steel strike it was called. In spite of the warning of the president the coal strike is on.

"However, there is one thing that the government will take notice of. It will see to it that the people will not freeze. It will also prevent the suffering from the closing down of all industries dependent upon coal.

"The government will do its part. We have a program of legislation to be completed in the near future.

"Congress has already authorized all alien enemies interned deported. It has also taken steps to prevent further importation of bolshevism here.

"I appeal to the teachers to organize for a sympathetic and intensive campaign to emphasize the meaning of Americanism.

"The tendency to romp and play and to throw things is not opposed. Rooms and paraphernalia are supplied for those purposes.

"There are too many children in our school rooms, and too little decoration and too little light.

"These new methods of kindergarten work have been extended now as far as the Fourth grade with amazing results."

Convention Sidelights---Teachers Must Have Better Pay Is Unanimous Opinion

"The school people of Nebraska are proud of this wonderful bond victory in Omaha," said Jesse H. Newton, superintendent of the Lincoln schools and a member of the executive committee of the Nebraska state teachers' association.

"You have a fine trade school in connection with the Omaha Commercial High school. In Lincoln we have evening classes in trade and industrial work."

"Iowa has a great state teachers' association and their organization is very strong. They have a total membership of nearly 30,000, and all work very closely together for better things."

"Our organization is 53 years old," said Miss Ruth Pyrtle, speaking of the Nebraska State Teachers' association, now in session in Omaha.

"We have 12,500 teachers in Nebraska," she declared, "and outside of Omaha and Lincoln, only 25 per cent of the total number can attend these splendid meetings."

"We have closed school so they can come," said Mr. DeLzel, vice president of Peru, says there is a decided movement under way for the purpose of inducing more people to take up the teaching profession.

"Far Across State. Our organization is as good as ever," said R. L. Elliot, president of Chadron normal, with his characteristic enthusiasm.

"The subscriptions were made after J. A. Doremus, superintendent of schools of Aurora, Neb., had presented statistical report and J. N. Spoddard of Beatrice had declared that teachers are actually suffering because the lack of statistics on the cost of living prevents many of them from getting increases in salaries from school boards."

"When the teachers state to directors of schools that they must have more salary, they are asked how much it costs them to live. They can give no accurate reply."

"It will be fiercely opposed because of the $500,000 appropriation for increasing teachers' pay. If the government is to subsidize teachers, it will be argued, it should subsidize all other salaried people for all salaried people are suffering from the present high cost of living."

"The bill," said Congressman Fess, "provides for a department of education in the cabinet and an appropriation of $100,000,000 a year. Of this sum $50,000,000 is to be used for increasing the pay of teachers and the other $50,000,000 for training of teachers, Americanization of foreigners and reduction of adult illiteracy."

"The retraining of disabled soldiers, provided for in the law of 1918 is also a success. For this $21,000,000 has been appropriated. An additional $35,000,000 will be required to complete the work."

"The house and senate have passed another re-educational bill which extends this federal aid to men and women injured and crippled in industry. This is an extension of the Smith-Hughes bill and will be carried out in co-operation with the states."

RAIL SERVICE CUT OWING TO LACK OF COAL

Pinch of Inadequate Supplies Felt in Several States as Strike Enters Upon Sixth Day.

government's position settled away all hope of immediate cessation of strike, involving more than 400,000 soft coal miners, in 28 states.

"The real way to settle the strike is for the government to bring all its moral and legal influence toward bringing the operators and miners together and command them to reach an agreement."

Miners' representatives and other labor leaders emphasized today that withdrawal of court proceedings would bring peace to the coal fields within 48 hours.

President Wilson, sick in bed, issued orders giving Fuel Administrator Garfield authority to regulate price, distribution and shipment of all fuel, including anthracite.

Mr. Howell's inquiries were concerning the location and names of streets. The physical strength of the witness seemed almost exhausted before the attorney directed his examination to matters of more importance.

"I struggled, but my strength was of no avail. I tried to cry out, and he stuffed a handkerchief in my mouth. He dragged me about 100 feet down the bankment into the woods. He then tied my hands with a rope. The handkerchief was kept in my mouth and I was helpless. It seemed like ages I was held there. The negro went away once and came back to me again.

"It is too terrible to tell. It is too awful to even think about."

"When Mr. Howell took the witness he began to question her about the location of streets in the vicinity of her home. The purpose of the attorney seemingly was to tire and confuse the delicate girl before he launched into his avalanche of questions in regard to the facts of the case. For three-quarters of an hour

"I know he is the man," she insisted. "I would know him anywhere. The picture of those features and that awful face will never fade from my mind as long as I live. I would that I could forget it, but I can't."

"When court convenes this morning the state will introduce other witnesses who, it is said, will testify to having seen Johnson in the vicinity where Miss Kroupa was assaulted the day the crime was committed. According to members of County Attorney Shotwell's force, even stronger testimony against the prisoner than that submitted yesterday will be introduced before the trial ends.

"It is expected that the case will be given to the jury late today."

Girl Victim of Negro Assault Faints in Court

George Kerrell, 910 Romania street, who found Miss Kroupa in the weeds after the negro had abandoned her. Mr. Kerrell identified Johnson as the negro he had seen in the vicinity of the assault just before he found the girl where she was left bound and gagged after being outraged.

"I was returning to my work as a stenographer in The Bee building," declared Miss Kroupa. "I had gone home to lunch and it was 12:30 o'clock when I met the negro near Tenth and Canton streets. I was walking in an opposite direction and saw the man before he reached my side. I had no reason to suspect there was an evil purpose in the man's mind, and the first intimation I had of his object was when he seized me."

"I struggled, but my strength was of no avail. I tried to cry out, and he stuffed a handkerchief in my mouth. He dragged me about 100 feet down the bankment into the woods.
