

POLICE HAD NO CHANCE IN MOB, SAYS THE MAYOR

Declares He Doesn't Believe There Were Enough Officers in State to Handle Situation With Clubs.

Mayor Smith yesterday stated that he did not believe there were enough policemen in Nebraska to have dispersed the mob at the court house, after 5 p. m., September 28, by the use of their clubs.

He declined to comment on the conduct of the police department before the time of his arrival, nor would he say whether the mob could have been dispersed during the early afternoon by proper police leadership.

"Under the law," he said, "the sheriff is the custodian of the court house and has authority to swear in as many deputies as necessary for any emergency."

Saw Door Battered In.

"I reached the court house at 5 p. m., and went inside. I saw the north door battered in by rioters who used an old cannon, and it is my opinion now that if the police would have fired into the mob at the north door the police would have been justified and the mob would have been dispersed."

"But it takes a bit of moral courage to direct police to shoot into a mob and I confess that I did not have the courage to order those police to shoot when that north door was battered in."

"It is easy enough now to say what should or might have been done."

The mayor declined to comment on the recent purchase of machine guns by the city, or for what purpose they were bought if not for use in suppressing any similar riots to that of September 28.

Work Tell Experiences.

Mayor Smith asserted that he will not relate his own experience when attacked by the mob. He stated that he has received at least 12 requests from magazines, offering to pay for his story.

"I have not even told my wife of the experience I went through," he added.

"After I went into the court house I obtained a revolver from the sheriff's office and fired it many times inside of the court house. When I started to leave the building about 9:30 someone took the revolver from me."

Visits Court House.

Mayor Smith yesterday visited the court house for the first time since his "visit" on Sunday night, September 28, and went before the grand jury.

He looked with particular interest at the bullet-marked walls and ceilings and recalled vividly the night when the inside of the court house reverberated with the sounds of shotguns and revolvers.

He remembered when a man fired a double-barreled shotgun into the north door of the court house and the sound of the shot against the walls caused policemen to take cover. (The mayor on that occasion was on the second floor, he related.)

Man Held for Grand Jury On Charge of Attempted Assault

U. G. Kimery, proprietor of a cigar store at South Sixteenth street, was ordered held by police for the grand jury yesterday on a charge of attempted criminal assault upon Lois Allen, 14 years old, 1548 South Twenty-sixth street, according to a warrant sworn out against him by the girl's mother.

Kimery was arrested Tuesday night. The Allen girl declared that Kimery attacked her at 9:30 Monday night near her home after he had followed her from night classes in Commerce high school. Kimery denied that he touched the girl, police say.

The girl stated that Kimery attempted to help her out of the street car and that she remonstrated. When he forced his attentions upon her, she said, she ran. He gave chase and overtook her, but she screams frightened him away, she stated.

Man Testifies That He Sold 'Dago Red' for Dollar and Half Quart

More evidence of "Dago Red," a cheap Italian liquor, being sold in Little Italy about the neighborhood of Sixth and Pierce streets, was presented in central police court yesterday, when Carl Ferguson, 4910 North Thirteenth street, testified that he "was selling stuff at $1.50 a quart for a fellow who lives near the railroad at Fourth and Pierce streets."

Ferguson was arrested Tuesday on a charge of unlawful possession and sale of liquor when he is said to have sold drinks of "Dago Red" to Policemen Rogers and McLaughlin, newly appointed officers, for 25 cents each.

Ferguson said he did not know the name of the man for whom he said he had been selling the stuff. His case was set over until December 1.

Members of Family Taken Ill After Chewing Sample Gum

Two members of the Ed C. Johnson family, 706 North Twenty-eighth avenue, were taken violently ill Tuesday after chewing sample pieces of gum sent to them through the mail. Police Surgeon Edstrom was called Tuesday night and characterized the attack as ptomaine poisoning.

Detectives are investigating the case of the gum being sent through the mails.

Mrs. Johnson said she and her 5-year-old daughter, Mary Ethel, became ill less than an hour after chewing the gum, labeled as "Fan-Tan" brand. Both are still ill from the effects. Mr. Johnson called police when he became alarmed that the confection may have been sent to kill off the whole family, he told police. Neither he nor his 1-year-old baby tasted the gum.

The package came through the mails Tuesday morning. Postmarks showed it had been sent from Dayton, O., where the gum was made.

Rapid City Pioneer Friend of Indians, Dies in Battle Creek

Word was received in Omaha yesterday of the death of Maj. John R. Brennan of Rapid City, S. D., at Battle Creek, Mich. Mr. Brennan was about 70 years old and was one of the first settlers of the Black Hills. He, with other early settlers, laid out the plans of Rapid City with a pocket compass.

He was the first postmaster and proprietor of the general store at Rapid City. For many years he was superintendent of the Pine Ridge Indian reservation, located on the edge of the Bad Lands. He is known all over the state of South Dakota and many other parts of the country. Hundreds of Indians regarded him as their best friend because of his fair treatment to them.

Mrs. Brennan has been in Battle Creek with Mr. Brennan, where he had been taking treatment for stomach trouble. The body passed through Omaha yesterday. His only son and daughter met the train here and accompanied the body to Rapid City.

The Importance of Early Shopping for Christmas

Brandeis Stores

SETS THE PACE FOR GROWING OMAHA

ONLY a few days ago a customer visited our hardware department in the basement. Her eye caught our beautiful display of aluminum household utensils. She stopped at the aluminum electric percolators and she selected one from the counter and placed it on the opposite counter, then she selected two more and placed them along side of the first and she stood back and looked at all three.

It was the judgment of the salesperson that she was making a comparison and she was asked which one she preferred and she said, "Well, I guess I will take all three." Of course, the salesperson couldn't immediately realize what use she would have for three percolators, especially at this time of the year and so she was pressed for information and the customer's explanation was,

"Well, seeing that you are so nice about asking me I will tell you. I bought these for Christmas presents. There are not many people who have stopped to realize that Christmas is but seven weeks away, and as long as I have Christmas gifts to buy and knowing something of market conditions, I realize the advantage I have of shopping now."

This customer's logic was not only very reasonable, but also very true, for

Shopping for Christmas Must Be Done Unusually Early This Season

This is imperative to those who wish to avert disappointments. Heretofore, the reason for early holiday shopping has been quite obvious—this year there is a more impelling reason—

The Shortage of Merchandise

This store's great merchandising supremacy and all its merchandising powers have been bent on meeting with the greatest degree of adequacy—popular demand.

Moral: Do Your Christmas Shopping Very Early

INCIDENTALLY, and while we are speaking of Christmas we want to tell you that our new Fourth Floor, some 34,000 square feet of new selling space, will be ready in a very few days, with

The Greatest Toy Department Omaha Has Ever Had

This statement will prove true in size of space devoted to the toy department and the vast and varied assemblage of toys displayed. We Have Ready Now Thousands and Thousands of Dollars' Worth of Staple Christmas Merchandise Which We Bought Months Ago

Bought many weeks before the usual Fall market and as a result our stocks are complete and our prices in many instances are below present market prices on the same class of merchandise.

It is no secret that this thousands and thousands of dollars worth of staple merchandise cannot be replaced today at the prices for which it was purchased.

We have had instances of offers from manufacturers to buy back at our retail price the merchandise which they sold us.

All this merchandise is priced on the basis of our early purchases, saying nothing of the quality advantages we offer.

We feel that the public has been informed of the nation's urgent need for increased production in most every line. The better things are scarce. Yet in spite of all these difficulties most every dollar's worth of merchandise we have in our stocks today is in quality up to the high standard our customers expect of us.

Be assured also that no matter how little you pay at Brandeis Stores you will get quality and satisfaction.

If we cared to take up your time we could give you a page of examples of how prices have advanced in the merchandise we have to offer you since we bought it.
