ENGLISH WOMEN NOW WEARING MONOCLES. London, Nov. 7.—(By The Associated Press.) English women are beginning to wear monocles. Not only are they adopting them for home wear, but are appearing on the streets so adorned. A member of a firm of opticians defended the innovation by saying that in the case of every inquiry he had had from women recently there was a "genuine trouble with one eye only."

LAST STEAMER LEAVES ALASKA UNTIL SPRING. Nome, Nov. 7.—Nome's winter residents, numbering a few over 100, stood on the beach and watched the liner Victoria, the last boat of the year, leave for Seattle. In a short time the ice will come and shut Nome in until spring.

AWARD DAMAGES TO MAN HURT IN EVICTING NEGRO. Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 7.—In the first case ever tried in Arkansas under the state "Jim Crow" law, E. L. Meader, a workman at Camp Pike, was awarded $2,500 damages against the Missouri Pacific railroad. Meader was badly cut when he tried to eject a negro from a passenger coach reserved for whites. He contended that the railroad was negligent in allowing the negro to ride in a coach with white passengers.

LAST CARTRIDGE USED BY STARVING WATCHMAN. Grand Rapids, Minn., Nov. 7.—Helpless because of an infected leg and slowly starving and freezing in a cabin near Wabena lake, James Francisco, 60 years old, a camp caretaker, fired cartridge after cartridge in an unsuccessful attempt to summon assistance and then committed suicide with his last revolver bullet. The body was found by a neighbor. Notes written by Francisco told the story.

Fuel and coal were found a few feet from the corpse. Empty cartridges were scattered about the floor of the cabin and the roof was riddled.

OLD FAIRY STORY IS IMMORAL, SAYS TEACHER. Denver, Colo., Nov. 7.—Fairy stories belong to the age of ignorance, are immoral and lead to laziness, declared Katherine D. Blake of New York in addressing the Colorado Educational association here.

"The old fairy story belongs to the age of ignorance," she said, "it is immoral because it is based on lies, leads to laziness and inculcates weakness."

FISH STORY FROM STORM LAKE, IOWA. Storm Lake, Ia., Nov. 7.—Special Telegram.—The biggest fish story yet comes from the lake this week. The force of men who are seining a lake for Charles Peterson made a single haul of 40,000 pounds, or 20 tons. The largest fish caught weighed 48 pounds and was a buffalo. The carp and buffalo are shipped to the east in express cars. There is a ready sale for them in New York and Philadelphia.

"BLACK DIAMONDS" ARE HIT IN PARIS SOCIETY. Paris, Nov. 7.—A necklace of "black diamonds," meaning miniature coals, was displayed by a fashionable Parisian hostess at a "freak dinner." It was the hit of the evening. The wearer explained to her guests that anyone can buy diamonds and pearls, but coal can't be had for love or money.

IMMORAL AMERICAN DANCE BARRED IN PARIS. Paris, Nov. 7.—The expected crusade against "the shimmy shake and other disgusting exhibitions of the American immorality" was begun in earnest when Professor Sandrini, president of the Dancing Masters' association, declared what he called the "revolting American customs" officially barred from his own dance hall and other leading establishments.

"Paris," said the famous dancing master with an air of outraged sense of morality, "is resolved not to suffer any longer American immorality in the form of the shimmy shake and other revolting importations from America. They poison the poetry of the really fine dances, such as the Venetian waltz, the Maxixe, and other fascinating creations."

INJUNCTION WILL STAND, ULTIMATUM

Attorney General Palmer Tells Union Head Proceedings Will Be Dismissed When Miners' Strike Order Is Withdrawn. HEARING IN FEDERAL COURT SET FOR TODAY. Three Conferences Held in Endeavor to Prevent Legal Action Fail—Delay in Indianapolis Is Anticipated.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Eleventh-hour efforts by Samuel Gompers, to settle the coal strike were met to-day with a declaration from the government that injunction proceedings would be dismissed the instant the strike order was withdrawn—and not before. This final decision was given to Mr. Gompers, heading a delegation of high labor officials, at the close of the third conference of the day with Attorney General Palmer, and after Mr. Gompers had talked over the telephone with John L. Lewis, acting head of the United Mine Workers of America, Indianapolis. Mr. Gompers fighting hard to have the government drop its injunction suit set for a hearing to-morrow, plainly showed that he was under a severe strain as he left the Department of Justice, flatly and bluntly refusing on his way out to say one word about the three conferences, declared Katherine D. Blake of New York in addressing the Colorado Educational association here.

"The old fairy story belongs to the age of ignorance," she said, "it is immoral because it is based on lies, leads to laziness and inculcates weakness."

Lest We Forget! When the special grand jury was called to investigate the burning of the court house and the lynching of Will Brown on the night of September 28, among other things it was charged by the court to go to the bottom of the whole affair and place the responsibility, if possible, where it rightly belonged.

Saturday, October 4, in the World-Herald appeared the following interview with Police Captain Henry Heitfeld, on duty at the Central police station the night of the riot:

FIFTY COPS WENT HOME AT 4:15 P. M. SUNDAY. Captain Heitfeld Says Captain Haze Reported to Him "Situation Well in Hand."

Fifty policemen were sent from the Central station to their homes Sunday afternoon at 4:15, according to the admission made by Police Captain Henry Heitfeld.

"Police Captain Henry P. Haze reported to me at that time that the mob had been dispersed and that the policemen at the court house had the situation well in hand," said Captain Heitfeld.

"I told the members of that entire police shift, which we had been holding in reserve here, to go home and stay home so that we could reach them by telephone, if later developments demanded their presence."

"It took us a long time to get them together again. Three of us at Central station were calling them by telephone and men at the fire department headquarters were helping us."

More Work Yet to Do. While a number of indictments have been returned by the grand jury against men and boys alleged to have participated in the rioting, no effort has yet been made, as far as is known, to attempt to place any responsibility on the Omaha police department for its failure to disperse the mob in its early stages, and to ascertain why many of the police officers on duty surrendered their guns to members of the mob.

The grand jury expects to adjourn some time next week, according to a recent statement of its foreman, John W. Towle. It had hoped to finish its work today, but indications last night were that this would be impossible.

Not Yet Questioned. Since making his statement to the World-Herald Captain Heitfeld has said that, as unpleasant as it might be, he would have to stand by his original statement if questioned by the grand jury.

He has not yet, however, as far as can be learned, been questioned by that body as to why the 50 POLICEMEN WERE SENT TO THEIR HOMES AT THE VERY HOUR WHEN THEY COULD HAVE SAVED THE SITUATION WITH EFFICIENT LEADERSHIP.

State Teachers Conclude Their Greatest Meeting

Closes With Concert at Auditorium—Hundreds Stay Over for Shopping—Nominations Balloted on, Votes to Be Counted Today—Reorganization Referendum in 30 Days.

The greatest convention of teachers ever assembled in Nebraska came to a close last night, when the fifty-third annual session of the Nebraska State Teachers' association went into history.

An attendance of 5,000, the largest in the history of the association; 20 nationally famous educators from outside of Nebraska on the programs; big mass sessions in the city auditorium; nearly 40 sectional meetings of various groups in hotels, churches and schools—all these were features of the great convention of Nebraska educators.

Jam at Stanley Singing. Last night the Auditorium was crowded by the teachers to hear Mme. Helen Stanley, the great soprano concert singer, and Jacques Thibaud, the brilliant French violinist, in a special concert given free to the teachers by the bureau of publicity of the Chamber of Commerce, with the compliments of the City of Omaha.

Late trains last night carried hundreds of the visitors to their homes, but by far the majority remained over. They will do shopping and sightseeing and will proceed homeward by many trains today. The hotels have been taxed to their capacity and hundreds of teachers were sent to private homes through the rooming bureau, which was conducted at convention headquarters in the Hotel Rome.

G.O.P. UNITED IN POLICY ON PEACE PACT

Mild Reservationists and Irreconcilable Group of Treaty Foes Stand Together in Attack for First Time.

DEADLOCK PLANNED TO FORCE COMPROMISE. Administration Leader Confers With President Who Approves Plan to Win Point Proposed by Democrats.

Washington, Nov. 7.—The first affirmative step toward qualification of the peace treaty was taken today by the senate after administration leaders, with the backing of President Wilson, had re-affirmed their intention of voting against ratification of the "reservations" drawn by the senate majority are adopted.

The initial test of strength on the reservation program of the foreign relations committee found the republicans almost solidly united behind it, the group of mild reservationists who helped kill the committee's amendments and the irreconcilable group of treaty foes standing together for the first time since the long treaty fight began.

By a vote of 48 to 40 the senate approved after all efforts to amend it had failed the committee's preamble to the reservation group, requiring that to make the treaty binding at least three of the four great powers must accept the senate qualifications.

The only republican who did not swing into line for the proposal was Senator McCumber of North Dakota, while three democrats, Senators Reed, Missouri; Gore, Oklahoma; and Walsh, Massachusetts, voted with the majority.

When adjournment was reached, the first of the 14 reservations was under debate and republicans were claiming that they had safe majorities pledged for the entire group. The mild reservationists, it was declared had turned down the committee's offer of compromise while the irreconcilable wing was devising a plan of action by which they hoped to defeat the treaty entirely.

The best claim made by the administration forces was that the treaty would be wedged into a deadlock which in the end would make a compromise inevitable.

Hitchcock Visits Wilson. The plan to vote against the treaty and thus deadlock the ratification fight was declared to have been Senator Hitchcock's unqualified support. Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the democratic leader, saw the president during the day for the first time since Mr. Wilson returned from his speaking tour and went over the entire situation surrounding the treaty in the senate. Afterward Mr. Hitchcock said the executive regarded the committee reservations as "destructive" and the preamble as "very embarrassing" and advised the senators to stand by their guns.

The president was said to have asserted an aggressive position to acceptance of reservations, which would impair the treaty, but have shown a willingness to leave the matter of a compromise in the hands of the administration senators to be worked out after the deadlock stage had been reached.

Hitchcock Is Confident. After the White House conference the democratic leader declared his conviction that there would be no compromise until the deadlock actually had developed. He conceded that most of the committee reservations would be written into the resolution and that after the latter had been killed by democratic votes an unqualified ratification resolution also would probably fail. Then the time would be ripe, he said.

Plumb Explains His Plan of Railroad Management

Tells Audience Changes Would Mean Only a Corporation for Service Instead of Profit.

Glenn E. Plumb, author of a plan for the management and control of the railroads of the United States, addressed a gathering of members of the railroad brotherhoods in the Swedish auditorium last night, appealing under the auspices of the Plumb Plan league. He was introduced by T. R. Reynolds, president of the Nebraska State Federation of Labor.

Mr. Plumb came to Omaha from Sioux City, accompanied by Mrs. Plumb, and was met at Union station by a committee which escorted him to the Hotel Fontenelle.

By the Plumb plan of railroad control it is proposed to have the government issue bonds for an amount equal to an investment valuation of the railroads, and select a governing body whose members shall be chosen by the government, the railroad officials, and the employees, each to have equal representation. The plan contemplates that rates shall be fixed by the Interstate Commerce commission.

In his address Mr. Plumb reviewed railroad history, increasing wages and prices, and the relations between capital and labor. "We have been told," he said, "that the railroads are private property subjected to a public use. It is part of our fundamental law that the railroads are public highways. I will venture to say that there are not more than $10,000,000,000 of real valuation in the railroad properties of this country. The other $10,000,000,000 claimed as valuation is fictitious. We should protect and pay a return on the actual investment. We demand an honest accounting of the railroad properties."

Enormous Land Grants. "We gave the railroads 196,000,000 acres in land grants to better their service and lessen expenses, but they have sold most of this land and have turned these gifts into a debt upon which the people are asked to pay 6 per cent. "We should reconstruct this industry so as to protect the owners, the public and the employees, and also to prevent fictitious valuations. Under the Plumb plan the government (Continued on Page Two, Column Three.)

RUSSIAN SOVIET READY TO DISCUSS TERMS OF PEACE

Suggest Armistice and Name Conditions to Be Demanded.

London, Nov. 7.—The Daily Herald, the labor organ, today prints the full draft of the conditions upon which the leaders of the soviet government in Russia are willing to discuss peace terms with the allied associated powers. The draft was brought to London by Lieut. Col. LeStrange Malone, liberal member of parliament, who recently returned from a visit to Russia.

The soviet government, according to the draft, proposes a peace conference in a neutral country after an agreement on an armistice for all the fronts, including the border states, all the de facto governments meantime to remain in control. The blockade would be removed, and the soviet government and the nationals of the associated and allied governments would have free rights of transit over all the railroads and at ports of the former Russian empire, including the border states and Finland, and free trade communication in and out of the country.

November 15 Limit. The conditions provide that the soviet government would be entitled to send representatives to all allied countries and for the withdrawal of all allied troops from Russian territory and the cessation of allied military help to the Russian forces. The soviet government also promises to recognize all foreign debt obligations of the former Russian empire.

Willingsness is expressed by the soviet government for a conference on this basis, provided the allies make a proposal before November 15. The soviet government is "anxious to have a semi-official guarantee from the American and British governments that they will do their utmost to insure that France lives up to the conditions of the armistice."

The draft concludes by saying that the soviet government "hopes it will not be necessary to transfer this offer with necessary modifications to the central powers."

ANARCHIST MEETINGS ARE HALTED

Department of Justice Operatives in Roundup of Undesirables Raid Halls in All Sections of Country.

CHARGE HUGE PLOT TO DEFEY GOVERNMENT. Russian Workmen's Union Chiefs Caught by Officials Will Be Held for Deportation in Many Cities.

(By The Associated Press.) Hundreds of radicals, including many described as among the most dangerous anarchist agitators in the country, were arrested last night by Department of Justice agents in simultaneous raids upon radical headquarters in many cities of the United States. It was learned that 26 warrants had been issued by Commissioner General of Immigration Caminetti for men in New York considered particularly active in creating unrest; and it was reported that these men had been caught.

A nation-wide plot to defy government authority openly is said to have been hatched in New York upon the eve of the second anniversary of the establishment of the Russian soviet government. This plot, it is alleged, had been advocated for weeks by combined radical elements throughout the United States, including the I. W. W. anarchists and Russian agitators.

Plans for the raids, which took place in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis, Newark, N. J.; Jackson, Mich.; Waterbury and Ansonia, Conn., and other cities, have been in preparation for weeks, it was said in Washington.

Significance was attached to the linking of the two names because of the fact that Congressman Rodenburg has been picked to make the Lowden nominating speech on the floor of the national convention Governor Lowden was given an ovation when he was referred to by Congressman Rodenburg as "the nation's next choice."

Chairman Hays Speaks. Preceding the Rodenburg address, Governor Lowden spoke briefly. He thanked the editors for their support during the crucial days of the war and declared the responsibility of the press was limitless in the days of reconstruction. He paid tribute to the history of the republican party, but did not discuss issues.

Will Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, was present and spoke, but confined his remarks to national affairs. He did not touch candidacies. He said, in part: "I repeat and shall continually declare that what we need in this country is not 'less politics,' but more attention to politics. Politics is the science of government, and what we need is more attention to the science of government."

"Our difficulties are largely economic. The industrial problems in this country, which at the moment seem to be overwhelming, can be solved in one way, by finding exact justice and enforcing it. "It is simply a matter of Roosevelt's square deal—exact justice for labor, exact justice for capital, and exact justice for the public, the third side of the triangle which must not be neglected." (Continued on Page Two, Column Five.)

Call Off Meeting. A mass meeting of radicals advertised for tomorrow night to celebrate the second anniversary of the soviet government in Russia has been abandoned, it was announced tonight by Harry M. Winitzky, executive secretary of the "communist party" local of greater New York. Plans of the authorities to break up the meeting, which he declared, would result in the killing of men, women and children, caused the communist party to call off the demonstration and avoid "useless sacrifices."

Raid Detroit Hall. Detroit, Nov. 7.—Fifty alleged radicals were arrested by Department of Justice agents in raids here on a hall used for meetings of the Russian Workers' raid. The men were held pending investigation. Philadelphia Yields 30. Philadelphia, Nov. 7.—More than 30 alleged radicals were taken prisoner in two raids conducted by agents of the Department of Justice.

Two Raids in Newark. Newark, N. J., Nov. 7.—Thirty-six prisoners were taken in two raids upon alleged radical headquarters in Newark by agents of the Department of Justice.
