

PUBLISHERS URGE INCREASED RATES FOR ADVERTISING

Would Also Make Subscriptions Higher, Limit Size of Newspapers and Sign Suitable Contracts.

New York, Nov. 12.—Material increases in advertising and subscription rates, limitation of the size of newspapers and provisions in advertising contracts whereby rates can be adjusted monthly or quarterly were recommended by a special convention of the American Newspaper Publishers' association called to consider the news print shortage.

The report of the resolutions committee adopted unanimously follows: "Paper manufacturers have told us that there is a world-wide shortage of paper. At the present rate of consumption the newspapers are using about 10 per cent more paper than is being produced. This means an annual shortage on the present basis of approximately 200 tons. Your committee therefore recommends:

"That the regulations of the war industries board for the conservation of news print be strictly adhered to, and that the full text of all these regulations be sent to all the daily and Sunday newspapers of the United States, whether or not they are members of the A. N. P. A.

Asked to Increase Rates. "That publishers everywhere be urged to materially increase advertising and subscription rates and at the same time limit the size of their issues.

"That no newspaper enter into a yearly contract for advertising at a fixed rate, but make rates adjustable monthly or quarterly.

"That the A. N. P. A. send out a standard form of adjustable contracts for advertising.

"That the paper committee strongly discourage the boarding of print paper.

"That the white paper committee and the legislative committee of the A. N. P. A. urge the enactment of such legislation as will permit the development of water power so that our timber lands may be made fully available for the manufacture of wood pulp, lumber, and paper, and we also recommend that congress be urged to take steps that will induce the Canadian government to repeal the order in council prohibiting the export of wood out of crown lands.

"We recommend that the presi-

"The strike so far as it affects district No. 15, is therefore called off," Johnson said in explanation of the telegram.

None in Operation in Iowa Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 12.—Not a union mine was in operation in Iowa today, reports to the headquarters here of the state operators' association said. Operators reported none of the union men had gone to the mines, and what information was available to the owners was to the effect the men intended to remain idle for the time being, at least.

To Reopen Light Mine Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 14.—Announcement was made at the state capitol tonight that North Dakota light mine operators, with the exception of those at Williston, have agreed to reopen their mines tomorrow and permit them to be operated in the name of the state until wage differences of the United Mine Workers organization are adjusted.

dent appoint a committee on conciliation for the purpose of adjusting differences between publishers in competitive territories. That the members of this committee be selected with the view to governing the entire country. That this committee formulate such plans and recommendations as will assist in adjusting existing differences so far as possible, that each member of this committee be given allotment over certain territory and be authorized to appoint sub-committees to deal with conditions in cities or competitive territories within that area.

"It is further recommended that this committee keep the print paper committee of the A. N. P. A. informed as to its problems and accomplishments, that the entire membership of the A. N. P. A. cooperate with this committee to the end that it may result in the greatest benefit to all most vitally concerned."

In line with the recommendations of Franklin P. Glass, president of the association, that publishers cooperate with news print manufacturers, a committee of the publishers conferred with a committee of the American Pulp and Paper association. The results of the conference were embodied largely in the resolutions which were adopted. R. S. Kellogg, secretary of the Print Service bureau, told the convention that the mills were unable to increase production, as they were running at 100 per cent capacity.

REGIONAL DRY BUREAU WILL BE STARTED HERE

Enforcement of National Prohibition Headquarters in Omaha to Embrace Four Or Five States.

The creation of a federal bureau for the enforcement of the national prohibition laws, and the selection of Omaha as one of nine district headquarters, will mean the addition of another important federal department here.

The work of enforcing national prohibition in this district has been temporarily in charge of J. J. Gillin, internal revenue agent, United States Treasury department.

"As I view the situation," said Mr. Gillin, "this new bureau will relieve us of the work of enforcing national prohibition. Our jurisdiction at present covers two states, and it is probable that the new Omaha district, to be created under the new bureau, will embrace four or five states. An organization will be formed with district headquarters in nine cities."

The next step will be the announcement of the deputy commissioners, who will be in charge of the nine districts. It is not known who will be in line for the Omaha district.

The establishment of district headquarters in Omaha will add not less than 200 federal employes to this city.

Large Force To Be Set Up Washington, Nov. 12.—Special machinery for the enforcement of wartime and constitutional prohibition will be set up by the bureau of internal revenue Nov. 17, under the direction of John F. Kramer, director in each, Mr. Kramer will have a force which will move about the country. State and municipal officials will be expected to enforce the prohibition laws, but where they fail to exercise due diligence, federal agents will act. Officials said that should local officers fail to cooperate the government would not proceed against them, but rather let the local electorate take care of the situation.

Judge Rules Wartime Prohibition Illegal

An injunction is asked in both districts to restrain federal officers from interfering with the sale of whisky. A favorable decision without a stay, preventing sale of liquor until an appeal by the government could be decided, would mean immediate resumption of whisky sales in both districts.

Judge Louis Fitzhenry of Bloomington sat with Judge Carpenter, Attorney Levy Mayer of Chicago, counsel for Woolner & Co. of Peoria, and Hanukh & Hoeg of Chicago, conducted the attack on prohibition, while Assistant District Attorney Frederick Dickinson of Chicago and C. B. Montgomery opposed the suit.

Violate Amendments. The granting of an injunction by Judge Brown in a similar case at Providence, R. I., was reported by Attorney Mayer in a telegram and he made reference to it in his argument. He based his arguments on the following points:

"That wartime prohibition and the enforcement act violate the tenth amendment by usurping the police powers of the states;

"That the enforcement act violates the fifth amendment by depriving citizens of property without due process of law or just compensation;

"That both acts are void because they were passed to meet an emergency that had passed, the war being over and President Wilson having vetoed the enforcement act, it was contended, had declared the army demobilized.

"Many things were done by congress during the war which went by unchallenged," said Attorney Mayer. "Such things were conceded to be war measures, but now that day is passed when such justification is acceptable. The day of reckoning is here."

"The constitution was not suspended during the war. The powers of the United States to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors lies with congress during the period of the war. But the war is over. Congress has no right to interfere with the police powers of the states."

Withdraw Price Fixing Order. Washington, Nov. 12.—Because its action has been construed as price fixing the Department of Agriculture has withdrawn its order warning manufacturers of raw fertilizer materials that sale of these materials at prices in excess of those prevailing on October 7 would be considered prima facie evidence of profiteering.

TUKEY CHOSEN LEGION VICE COMMANDER

Frank D'Olier, Philadelphia Wool Merchant, First Commander — Nebraska Wins Fight for Indians.

(Continued From Page One.) be nominated. He was named by the Nebraska delegation. California passed its nominating right to New York and Styvesant Fish placed the name of Hanford MacNider of Mason City, Ia., before the convention. The Virginia delegation nominated Leslie Jones of Washington, D. C., and Kentucky named as its choice Emmett O'Neill of Louisville. Jack Sullivan of Seattle, who was nominated by the North Dakota delegates, withdrew from the race and so did Chairman Henry D. Lindsey of Dallas, named by the Texas delegation. The vote was: D'Olier, 356; MacNider, 249; Jones, 18; O'Neill, 19.

D'Olier Issues Statement. Commander D'Olier issued the following statement shortly after his election:

"The American Legion has an enormous amount of constructive work before it in the coming year, but the spirit of clear thinking, fair play and co-operation manifested so wonderfully throughout this convention leaves no doubt in my mind that we shall be able to accomplish during the coming year just as remarkable results for our country as we did in such comparative short time in effecting the utter defeat of the enemy.

"Every action of this convention was discussed carefully and in every instance the soundest possible judgment prevailed. There was only one thought of every delegate present and that was to do what was best for this country of ours, for which only so recently we were willing to give our all."

Lindsay Is Honored. The title of past national commander was conferred upon Lindsey before it had been acting head of the legion since the St. Louis meeting.

Election of the national commander followed a turbulent afternoon when a mass of resolutions and reports were considered. The convention passed a resolution on the proposal to indorse a specific bonus plan and finally voted to place the matter in the hands of the national senate and house of representatives.

Representative R. C. Johnson of Aberdeen, S. D., who served in France, supplied the inspiration which decided the bonus issues. Called to the convention stage late in the day, he urged the delegates to ask congress "to recognize and relieve the financial disadvantages" incurred by persons who made sacrifices in saving their country.

Among the resolutions presented to the convention just before its close was one fixing the salary of the national commander at $6,000 a year. Although Mr. D'Olier, the new national commander, announced he would accept neither salary nor expenses, opponents forced the resolution to a vote, but were defeated.

Discuss Many Subjects. A broad variety of subjects including the Centennial tragedy, industrial unrest and the national Nonpartisan league, were touched upon. Delegates from northwest states drew up a resolution assailing the activities of President A. C. Townsend of the Nonpartisan league, but it was tabled by a vote of the convention. The request was made by Jack Sullivan of Seattle, chairman of the committees.

Shortly before final adjournment of the American legion convention tonight, five vice chairmen were elected. They are: Allen A. Tukey, Omaha; James O'Brien, San Diego; J. P. Lewis, Long Prairie, Minn.; A. R. Chambers, Winthrop, Mass.; and Wm. B. Follett, Eugene, Ore.

Nebraskans Win Hot Fight. Standing on their chairs, shouting at the top of their voices and charging up the aisles, the Nebraska delegation, 40 strong, attending the American Legion convention at a night session Wednesday, led a hot fight against an effort to exclude the American Indian from membership in the American Legion.

Led by T. J. McGuire, Omaha, chairman of the delegation, the Cornhuskers finally were able to get the floor.

They explained that the clause was a joker, inasmuch as it was meant for foreign-born, but would exclude the Indian as well, and, after the canvas of the entire convention, were able to defeat the particular clause of the eligibility resolution.

That the Nebraskans were on the job and could fight in peace as well as in war was clearly demonstrated and their action won the admiration of the entire convention.

Another Nebraska delegate, Frank A. Warner, scored a big hit when he succeeded in getting a resolution, adopted at the Nebraska state convention, concerning universal military training, incorporated in a similar resolution passed in the convention.

This resolution recommends such training so long as it is out of the hands and authority of any exclusively military organization such as the so-called general staff. It passed with a unanimous vote.

Police Seize Tons Of Red Literature

(Continued From Page One.) W. W. held, and endeavor to deport them if they are not held in connection with the shooting.

"Brick" Smith, who was lynched, was reported by officials to have a police record in Washington. During the war it was stated Smith caused trouble in western lumber camps and a lumber company wrote to a patriotic organization that Smith was a menace and asked that he be arrested.

Smith was arrested at Cedar Falls, July 1917, when he and other alleged I. W. W. defied a freight train crew at a time farmers complained of sabotage being practiced in the grain fields and fruit orchards.

Mayor C. B. Fitzgerald of Seattle late today issued a statement warning all radicals to "leave Seattle off their future itinerary." The statement was made after two raids had been made by the Seattle police.

Return With Prisoner. Two groups of former soldiers, most of them members of the American Legion, under leadership of Capt. Lloyd Dyrast, a Centralia war veteran, returned here tonight from Mendota, a coal and logging town near here, where they searched for Industrial Workers believed to have escaped after the shooting yesterday. They had in custody P. J. Nolan and another man whose name was not learned.

Haywood Skeptical. Chicago, Nov. 12.—William D. Haywood, general secretary of the record of an I. W. W. branch at Centralia, Wash., where a fatal attack was made on former soldiers parading on Armistice day. He said he thought the acts of violence ascribed to the I. W. W. members were either committed by maniacs or were the result of provocation not yet disclosed.

he has devoted his time almost exclusively to the organization plans of the American Legion. His home is at Riverton, N. J.

Boys Who Accuse Capt. Haze Tell Their Story

Several other policemen are taking active interests in grand jury affairs to the extent that they spend their entire time during the day in the court house corridors close to the room in which the grand jury is conducting its investigation.

Call Captain Haze Today. Captain Haze will be recalled to the witness stand again this morning, according to the announcement of County Attorney Shotwell.

Whether or not the half dozen persons, including the World-Herald and the Daily News reporters who interviewed the prisoners in jail Tuesday, and to whom Morris and Thorpe have reiterated their story, will be called before the grand jury is not known.

End Not Yet in Sight. "When we took up the investigation of this feature the situation," declared County Attorney Shotwell, "is conducting the probe personally. I advised the jurors that it would take but a few hours at most. It is hard to determine just when we will get through. It has taken much longer than we anticipated and the end is not yet in sight."

Contempt Case Up Friday. The contempt charge growing out of the story published last Sunday in The Bee, exposing the false charges against The Bee reporter, which was filed Tuesday by County Attorney Shotwell against The Bee Publishing company, Rosewater, editor, and Mr. Moore, the reporter involved, is set for a hearing Friday morning.
