House.

Washington, Nov. 13.-(Special Telegram.) - What might have proved a serious omission in the railroad bill now under consideration in the house was discovered by Congressman Jefferis, who at once inroduced an amendment covering the defects. In the compilation of the bill the committee on interstate commerce had provided an agency to care for actions which arose prior to termination of federal control, but which would be brought after the roads were returned to their owners. When this section was being considered Congressman Jefferis pointed out that no provision was made for actions pending at termination of federal control. Chairman Esch clmitted that this class of suits had been overlooked. Congressman Jef-ieris then offered an amendment providing that suits pending at the For Insurance Co.
