M'KELVIE CALLS OFF MEETING TO DISCUSS H. C. L.

Says Question Should Be Solved Economically by People, and Not by Legislators.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 14.—Announcing in a letter to United States Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer that he had decided to postpone, probably indefinitely, a conference requested by Mr. Palmer between federal state and other officials on the high cost of living problem, Gov. Samuel R. McKelvie said there was no way of telling "the amount of injury that has been done Nebraska producers by the ill-considered agitation of those who would lead the country to believe that it is possible to effect an artificial regulation of the laws of economics."

"I have no doubt that the decline in the price of hogs and corn has cost Nebraska farmers at least $50,000,000 and yet no benefit has accrued to the consumers because of this decline," the governor wrote.

The conference was to have been held here November 25 and the governor's letter was in reply to a telegram from Mr. Palmer asking if the meeting could be postponed until December 2 to permit his attendance. Answering Mr. Palmer's inquiry, Governor McKelvie said that "it rests largely with the people themselves to bring about a more satisfactory condition in solving the cost of living" and that he thought it was becoming more and more apparent to the people that the question of the high cost of living is one that will be solved economically and not through the activities of legislators or prosecutors."

Protests Against Hay Sold at Union Stock Yards

Lincoln, Nov. 14.—(Special).—Jesse M. Calkins of Center, Neb., has sent in a complaint to the State Railway commission protesting against the quality of the hay which the Union Stock Yards company and the railroads are selling shippers to feed stock in transit.

Mr. Calkins states that some time ago he shipped a car of stock to a firm in Omaha and was forced to pay at the rate of $40 a ton for hay issued to him to feed the stock. He alleges that the hay was so black and spoiled the cattle would not eat it nor would they drink water, and they lost from 25 to 50 pounds each, becoming so thin and aunt they failed to bring a good price on the market. He wants the commission to look into the matter and make the yards give better conditions.

Road Fund Gets Boost.

M'KELVIE TELLS WHY STATE WILL HAVE NO GUARD

Cannot Raise 100 Men to Company, He Writes Secretary of War Baker.

Lincoln, Nov. 14.—(Special).—Governor McKelvie is getting just a little impatient at the slow moving War department, and, in answer to a letter to him written by Secretary of War Baker, he tells the latter that Nebraska has been trying for a long time to reorganize the national guard in this state, but that the requirements placed upon the companies makes it almost impossible to get results. The War department requires 100 men to the company.

Governor McKelvie tells Mr. Baker that this is almost prohibitive in this state because so many of the companies come from small places where it is impossible to find 100 men who can qualify under the regulations now required. Going further the governor says:

"In the absence of a well organized national guard, we have several companies of home guards, who are keeping themselves fit and ready for emergencies. Also, we have an adequate number of men who have enrolled for riot duty, under the call of the state law enforcement department. I think these forces will handle any emergency that may arise in this state, but we are not relaxing our efforts to reorganize the national guard. If the War department could authorize an organization of the guard on the former basis of 65 men to the company, it would be a very great help to us."

"Referring to ordinance, I may say that requisitions were made upon the War department for such equipment several weeks ago, but thus far no acknowledgment has been received. We are anxious that this matter shall receive early attention."

Lincoln, Nov. 14.—(Special).—The state aid road fund received a little boost from the federal government Friday, when a check for $81,270.99 arrived at the office of State Treasurer Dan Cropsey.

Anti-Suffragists and State Must Pay the Cost of Litigation

Lincoln, Nov. 14.—(Special).—The anti-suffragists and the state each will be compelled to pay $7,133 costs taxed by the court, according to certificate filed with the secretary of state Friday.

The case is one familiar to parties interested in the woman suffrage movement in this state, which culminated in the passage of the 1917 legislature of a bill giving women partial suffrage followed by the calling of a special session of the legislature which ratified the national suffrage amendment.

The referendum was invoked by the anti-suffrage people to revoke the act of the 1917 session and petitions were filed. The suffragists attacked the petitions on the ground that many of the names were fraudulent. The district court decided against the anti-suffragists and against the legality of the petition. C. A. Sorenson, for the suffragists, visited the attorney general and was told the state would refuse to join with the anti-suffragists in an appeal to the supreme court on the costs. Secretary of State Amsbury says that the state is ready to pay the costs, if he can only discover what fund they will have to be taken from.
