East and West Clsah at Lincoln Commadns Attention of Foot Ball Fans.

By KARL LEE. Commanding the attention of foot ball fans, both east and west, the Nebraska-Syracuse grid contest at Lincoln on Thanksgiving day, Thursday, is ranked universally as the greatest foot ball battle staged west of the Mississippi river.

That the New Yorkers, rated, ...s a result of their decisive victories over Pittsburgh and Colgate, as the champions of the east, were defeated decisively, 12 to 0 by Coach Stiehm's Indiana eleven at Bloomington Satuday, only serves to increase the interest.

The Hoosiers, beaten by Minnesota and Chicago, are rated as a second-rate eleven in the western conference and the west. Hence a victory over the admitted eastern champions, admits, on its face, the superiorty of western foot ball. The Husker game will decide.

Come Back Strong. The Nebraskan eleven, taken back by two defeats by major teams, these by Notre Dame and Iowa, has come away at the close of the season with a fast, powerful team, perhaps as good as any that ever represented the state university.

Coach Schulte believes that in his coach Schulte believes that in his combination, with Newman at quarter, Dale at fullback and Captain Dobson and Schellenburg at halfbacks, he has as powerful a team as there is in the country. So Syracuse will find the Cornhuskers a

Will Stay in Omaha. Realizing that the mettle of his team will be put to a test and that eastern foot ball will be matched with western foot ball, there is little doubt in Nebraska circles, but that the New York coach will be prepared for the hardest game in his experience. The easterners will remain in Omaha four days starting Monday, and will have daily scrimmages at Rourke park. Their headquarters will be at the Hotel Fontenelle. Omaha grid followers will have the unique opportunity of watching a thoroughly eastern combination in the process of training unless the

Omaha Crowd to St. Paul

The following telegram received yesterday by The Bee signed by Marty O'Toole, J. A. C. Kennedy and Edward Peterson shows that the Omaha crowd to St. Paul certainty Omaha crowd to St. Paul certainly enjoyed itself. It speaks for itself: "The Omaha delegation who attended the Gibbons-O'Dowd fight at St. Paul last night desire to express through the columns of The Bee the sincere appreciation and 100 er cent efficiency displayed by Gene Melady, America's premier sports-man, for the splendid arrangements and details on the special train to this city. "The Gibbons-O'Dowd fight will go down in pugilistic history as one of the greatest events of modern times and we would all walk through the hot sands barefooted for 10 miles f we could see another show of such a sensational character.

"This telegram is sent to express to the citizens of Omaha that Melady is the greatest asset from a publicity and representation standpoint in our midst and we feel i simply as a sense of gratitude and appreciation that we want the people in our section to know that we have such a live wire.'

Lafayette Wins Out. Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 22.-Lafayette came from behind in the final period and defeated Lehigh in their annual gridiron battle, 10 to 6. When the fourth period began the score stood 6 to 3 in favor of Lehigh. Then the Easton eleven staged a dazzling running and aerial attack which culminated in Dumoe crossing the Lehigh goal line a few inutes before the game ended. Weldon kicked the goal.

contion among the large number of strong visiting teams who occupied the runways. Starting with a strong 996 team, the northerners kept up their onslaught of the pins and fol-lowed up with 958 and 982, a splen-did exhibition of consistent rolling. Twenty-four visiting teams occupied the runways. In the first squad the Schuyler, Neb. team topped the list with a 2,732 count. The Premiums team of Ft. Dodge teamed the last squad with 2,601 topped the last squad with 2,691.
Commencing at 7 this morning the doubles and singles events of these teams will be rolled. Several ex-champions and best cracks of the game will be seen in action in two-men and individual contests. Every man on the St. Francis team is a star and the players on the Franson and Lane of St. Paul team are the same who won the world's championship at Cincinnati in 1918, rolling under the name of Aquilas Cigars. The score was 14 up at the close of the second period. Both Klepser and Usher figured in the final basket for the victors, although Totals2732 Totals2498 Usher shot the goal from practically the center of the floor. The Minne Lusa quintet threatened to even up the score with but a few seconds to go, when Adams shot the ball for the basket, but the ball refused to go in, rolling around several times and then dropped to the floor.

The Fontenelles, by winning from the Morningsides, won their fourth consecutive game. Calvert, right forward, proved the hero for his quintet when he shot the winning goal on a "dead run," the ball dropping in the basket just as time was called for the extra period.
